In this great fiat of the little girl Mary, the strength and foundation of our life of contemplation is grounded, for it means absolute trust in God, trust which will not set us free from suffering but will set us free from anxiety, hesitation, and above all from the fear of suffering.

Opening Prayer

Almighty ever-living God, constantly accomplish the Paschal Mystery within us,
that those you were pleased to make new in Holy Baptism
may, under your protective care, bear much fruit and come to the joys of life eternal.
Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Reflecting on Living the Gospel

The shadow of Judas falls over the first verse of today's gospel. The words about glory and love are spoken only after this chosen disciple has gone out into the night that is already within him. Jesus speaks gently to his own, to "[m]y children." In the five verses of this gospel, two words are constantly repeated: "glory" and "love." Judas walks away from both. In the prologue to his gospel, John proclaims that the glory of God was revealed in the descent of the Word into our humanity, "glory as of the Father's only Son, / full of grace and truth" (John 1:14). Now as Jesus comes to his "hour," the love that will be his ultimate self-sacrifice becomes also his hour of glory, a new prologue to his ascent to the Father in the glory of the resurrection. This is the life and love and glory that Jesus will share with his disciples.

This is the "hour" and this is the "today" in which past, present, and future flow together and are redefined as the reality in which all disciples, both at and beyond this gospel table, are to live Jesus's love command. This commandment is not "new" because the Old Testament was lacking in love but because it is a commandment now given with the authority of Jesus who loved his own to the end (John 13:1) and because it is about the love that is to be practiced in the new Christian communities of Jesus's disciples. This does not mean these communities will be elitist or exclusive, but is a recognition of the truth that Christian life and mission depend mainly on the witness of those who love one another as Jesus has loved, with the radical love that takes him to death and resurrection.

Closing Prayer

Loving God, thank you for the gift of this day and the opportunity to grow in relationship with you. May we be known not by our accolades or accomplishments, but by the very real ways we share your love with others. In this same love may we remain faithful to your Gospel and the way of life to which we are called. Amen.

For Reflection:

• What is one concrete example of Jesus's love for you in your life?

Suggestions for group and individual use:

1. Pray aloud the "Opening Prayer" (in The Roman Missal called the "collect").
2. One person read aloud the gospel.
3. Each read prayerfully "Reflecting on Living the Gospel" and spend some time in personal prayer.
4. Share together responses to "For Reflection."
5. Pray the "Closing Prayer."

Gospel

John 13:31-33a, 34-35

When Judas had left them, Jesus said,
"Now is the Son of Man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

If God is glorified in him,

God will also glorify him in himself,
and God will glorify him at once.

My children, I will be with you only a little while longer.

I give you a new commandment: love one another.

As I have loved you, so you also should love one another.

This is how all will know that you are my disciples,
if you have love for one another."
