HELP KIDS READ

Join Read With Me Volunteers

For the past 17 years, more than 200 of our parishioners have been helping elementary school kids from the east valley improve their reading and math skills, skills that go a long way in helping them live productive lives.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays from November through May, our parishioners take a bus from the church to the Las Palmitas Elementary School in Thermal. Volunteers are welcome to drive to the school on their own.

The more than 500 Las Palmitas students from grades pre-kindergarten through sixth grade are, to a large extent, from poorer families that speak Spanish at home. That makes the English-speaking school environment a little more difficult from them.

The Read With Me mission is to work closely with the students to help them master reading and understanding the lessons they are taught in English.

And the program is very successful. Over the years, students who work consistently with a volunteer tutor score significantly higher on their annual reading tests than students who were unable to take advantage of Read With Me's special work.

Of course, the more volunteers working with the program the more kids who will register greater reading success.

Requirements for volunteering are simple. Volunteers need to be able to speak English and bi-lingual speakers play an important role.

Candidates must submit a valid drivers' license. New California laws governing child safety in schools require volunteers to be fingerprinted and receive a medical clearance for TB, Read With Me has created easy methods for volunteers to comply with these requirements.

To learn more about the program please contact

Dan Giovannitti at 412-657-9898 or
