PASTOR'S COLUMN

Brothers and Sisters,

I am happy to announce Lenten Mission for this year. Fr. Theodore Lange has agreed to come and give our mission March 9-11, which he has entitled: "His Mercy Endures Forever". Fr. Lange is no stranger to our parish, as he served his pastoral year internship here while a seminarian. He is currently the pastor of St. Catherine Parish in Veneta and Chaplain of Marist High School in Eugene. He is an expert in the Church Fathers and is one of the few Papal Missionaries of Mercy. He will celebrate the Masses the weekend before to encourage everyone to participate in the mission. The mission format will be the same as last year a morning conference after Mass followed by Adoration and Confession; the same talk will be given in the evening at 7pm followed by Adoration and Confession. The Lenten Mission is a vital part of our Lenten observance and a great opportunity to be renewed and prepared for Holy Week.

The multi-cultural committee and I have been discussing how our church might better reflect the multi-ethnic composition of our parish. A beautiful way to express our ethnic diversity in one Faith is through the patron saints of our various cultures, through some statues or images along the back wall of the church. This would provide a sacred place in the church that invites devotion to that saint not only for those of that culture but for everyone. I have asked the committee to consult and, given the limited space, to propose which that might look like for the major ethnic communities in our parish. One family in the parish has already donated a beautifully framed image of Our Lady of Guadalupe, procured from the shrine in Mexico, to represent our Hispanic community. If you have any ideas or suggestions, please talk to one of the members or myself.

Have a blessed week!

Sincerely in Christ the King,

Msgr. John Cihak

Making a Plan for Lent

How do I want to be during Lent this year? More quiet and thoughtful? More open to God's desires? Better able to sit with people who need me? More attentive to sacred readings, whether in church or in private? Do I need to be more compassionate toward my own fears and failings? Do I need to become more courageous about using the gifts God has given me?

In the days prior to Lent, try one or more of these suggestions.

Ask God, every day, "What does my soul need?" Just ask and wait quietly. Because we're very good at fooling ourselves about how we're doing, it might take several days of praying this question before we're truly open and humble enough to know the answer.

Ask God, every day, "What about my life makes you happy?" Yes, when God looks at your life, some parts of it—perhaps many aspects of it—bring joy to God's heart. Think of how your children or grandchildren or other people close to you make you happy. God is in relationship with you, which means that your sins grieve God's heart, but also that your growth and love and freedom and kindness bring joy to God of the universe. Again, you will probably need to pray this a few times before you are willing to consider that you give God pleasure, that you make God happy in any way. Stick with this little prayer and keep listening.

Tell God, and yourself, every day, "I want to be open to the graces of this Lenten season." Maybe you're not open right now, or you're not as open and willing as you'd like to be or think you should be. What else is new? We can always open our lives a bit more, let go of more stuff, listen better, and do more quickly and passionately what we know helps nurture God's kingdom on earth.
