THIRTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME, NOVEMBER 11, 2018 FATHER DENNIS M. DINAN

Dear Parish Family,

Every now and then, I realize “We do not trust!” Yes! In actuality, many of our troubles arise because, after all Jesus has done for us, we still do not believe he is going to take care of us and our needs. I’ll be the first to admit it. I heard Father Benedict Groeschel once say, “you know that prayer that we say, ‘Most Sacred Heart of Jesus I place all my trust in you!’” “If we were really honest,” he continued, “We’d say, ‘Most Sacred Heart of Jesus, I don’t put my trust in you!’”

I say this, reflecting on the First Reading this week from the Book of Kings. Imagine being the woman, living in the time of a great famine, having only a handful of flour left to bake one last time for herself and her son. We know what is going on in her mind. This is what she tells the Prophet Elijah, as he appears on the scene. She adds, “When we have eaten it, we shall die” (1 Kgs 17:12). How would we have reacted if we were asked, as she was asked by the prophet, not to bake the flour for herself and her son, but for him? Would our anger have risen up? Would we have been indignant? Would we have given into fear? Would selfishness get the best of us? Would we resist any thought of sharing? Could the prophet have been standing on solid ground when he proposed to her, “... first make me a little cake and bring it to me. Then you can prepare something for yourself and your son” (1 Kgs 17:12). Would we be right in judging that this man is not thinking in the right frame of mind? And so, would we have ignored him?

We do know from the text that she is a believer. She tells Elijah, “As the Lord your God, lives... I have nothing baked” (1 Kgs 17:12). As a believer, she is able to act in spite of fear, believe in spite of doubt, and trust in spite of “the inevitable.” Instead of anticipating the worst, which would be normal, she supposes, right then and there, that God really is going to take care of her. What does she base this on? Primarily, it was her faith, even in the words the prophet told her, “The LORD, the God of Israel, says, ‘The jar of flour shall not go empty, nor the jug of oil run dry, until the day when the LORD sends rain upon the earth.’ She left and did as Elijah had said. She was able to eat for a year, and he and her son as well; the jar of flour did not go empty, nor the jug of oil run dry, as the LORD had foretold through Elijah” (1 Kgs 17:14-16).

This is coupled with the reaction of Jesus in the Gospel to “A poor widow [who] came and put in two small coins worth a few cents [into the treasury]” (Mk 12:42). Essential was that Jesus relay his impression to his disciples. So, he calls his disciples to himself, and says to them, “Amen, I say to you, this poor widow put in more than all the other contributors to the treasury. For they have all contributed from their surplus wealth, but she, from her poverty, has contributed all she had, her whole livelihood” (Mk 12:43-44).

What was the lesson that Jesus wants to make? It’s not explicit, but very much implied is that this is a person who really trusts God. This becomes obvious when a parish has presentations on tithing. The focus is that “all things come from God!” It is God who takes care of us. It is God who watches over us and provides for us. Implied here is: God will take care of this woman and anyone else who puts such trust in him. This is close to Job’s attitude, who said, “Naked I came forth from my mother’s womb, and naked shall I go back again. The LORD gave and the LORD has taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD!” (Job 1:21). He understood the reality of things. With the poor widow, Jesus says that not only did she put all she had in God’s hands, but her livelihood also.

Can we do this? Do we understand that God has a plan that we fit into? Do we understand that God created us to collaborate with him in a mission? Can we accept the fact that God determines the mission? And, the mission is ultimately connected with a person’s salvation. Are we willing to inquire through prayer and cooperate with God to understand what specific work God created for us to do, or role we are to play?

Do we understand and believe in the message of Christianity—that we are pilgrims—that we are only here temporarily—that we are destined to live in another place—it is of that place that Jesus spoke to us, “I am going to prepare a place for you.” It is why he also tells us not to make our earthly existence the focus of our lives. He says, “Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and decay destroy, and thieves break in and steal. But store up treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor decay destroys, nor thieves break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be” (Mt 6:19-21).

Yes, it is easy to lose sight and get sidetracked. It is very easy to get confused and bewildered by things that happen to us. It is easy to get discouraged, to lose heart, to feel defeated, to feel alone, and to be disappointed. This, however, is when we must rest on solid immovable rock! That’s what Jesus Christ is. We believe in him because he said, “Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away” (Mt 24:35). We can believe in him. We must believe in him! We can trust in him. We must trust in him!

Many times, since I first printed it in the bulletin, I have been asked by people for a copy or to reprint that very special meditation by John Henry Newman, an Anglican Bishop, later a Catholic Cardinal, “I Have My Mission.” Cardinal Newman was a brilliant man who suffered greatly in many ways during his life. It had many upsets. These things are reflected in it. Abby has put it in this week’s bulletin and on our website.

We all deal with difficulties, suffering and hardship in life. None of us are exempt. To endure—to be able to persevere, we need Hope! Having this, we can follow Newman’s lead. He says, “Therefore I will trust him ... He knows what he is about.” We must learn to do the same. It has to be learned. It is not something that comes to any of us naturally. That is why our faith becomes such a valuable part of our lives. It was something that the poor widows in our readings had to learn through experience. They learned: God will not fail us!

There are times in each of our lives. Many things might seem to be happening, which we do not understand. The path ahead can appear to be extremely unclear. We can be at a crossroad in life. We know, instinctively, whatever will happen, our lives will be different from that point on. We turn to God. We turn to prayer. God might bring us back through time, showing us where he was present and at work at so many junctures. He might also show us how he has been present as a loving Father. He might show how he watched over us and cared for us thus far. He might just indicate simply that he will continue to do so with a love that is beyond our understanding. In answer to our question, “What must I do?” “What is it you want of me?” All we might hear are the words, “Trust!” “Trust!” “Trust!” Maybe we wanted clarity. Maybe we wanted to see—to understand. Only later, however, do we understand that those things would not have helped. They do not help us to grow in faith. God really knew what he was asking because he knows what he is about. He knows, more than anyone, what we are about. I am sure that many of you can hear these or similar words that were said to you on one or more occasions. Many times, all God is asking of us is that you and I “Trust!” “Trust!” “Trust!” This means we must “Pray!” “Pray!” “Pray!” We need not come fearful or empty-handed to Mass each week. We can bring this with us. We can offer it to him, who knows what he is about! Therefore, we will trust him!

God’s Peace, ✠

I Have My Mission

I am created to do something or to be something for which no one else is created; I have a place in God's counsels, in God's world, which no one else has; whether I be rich or poor, despised or esteemed by man, God knows me and calls me by my name.

God has created me to do Him some definite service; He has committed some work to me which He has not committed to another. I have my mission—I never may know it in this life, but I shall be told it in the next. Somehow I am necessary for His purposes, as necessary in my place as an Archangel in his—if, indeed, I fail, He can raise another, as He could make the stones children of Abraham. Yet I have a part in this great work: I am a link in a chain, a bond of connection between persons. He has not created me for naught. I shall do good, I shall do His work; I shall be an angel of peace, a preacher of truth in my own place, while not intending it, if I do but keep His commandments and serve Him in my calling.

Therefore I will trust Him. Whatever, wherever I am, I can never be thrown away. If I am in sickness, my sickness may serve Him; in perplexity, my perplexity may serve Him; if I am in sorrow, my sorrow may serve Him. My sickness, or perplexity, or sorrow may be necessary causes of some great end, which is quite beyond us. He does nothing in vain; He may prolong my life, He may shorten it; He knows what He is about. He may take away my friends, He may throw me among strangers, He may make me feel desolate, make my spirits sink, hide the future from me—still He knows what He is about.

O Emmanuel ... I give myself to Thee. I trust Thee wholly. Thou art wiser than I—more loving to me than I myself. Deign to fulfill Thy high purposes in me whatever they be—work in and through me. I am born to serve Thee, to be Thine, to be Thy instrument. Let me be Thy blind instrument. I ask not to see—I ask not to know—I ask simply to be used.

Today's Second Collection

Today's 2nd collection is to support the Catholic Charities Campaign for Charity and Social Justice. Due to your generosity last year, almost $215,000 in grants were awarded across every county of the Archdiocese. With countless families in the Archdiocese living in poverty, this collection will empower parishes and local communities to address the challenges they face and fund local anti-poverty ministries and initiatives. By supporting this collection, you give those on the margins a helping hand.
