"And now I invite you to do something: let us close our eyes, let us imagine the scene on the banks of the river, John as he is baptizing and Jesus who is approaching. And let us listen to John's voice: "Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world". Let us watch Jesus and in silence, each one of us, say something to Jesus from your heart. In silence."

-Pope Francis

IMPORTANT NEWS!

If you recall in April 2022, Archbishop Etienne talked about the immediate and long-term challenges facing our parishes and the archdiocese. This led to the need for a new strategic plan and direction called “Partners in the Gospel”. We now have more information regarding the process. Please join us after each Mass the weekend of January 21st and 22nd in the gym where an introductory video will be shared. We strongly encourage parishioners to attend and learn more. Please share and invite others to join.

Below is a copy of the April letter from the Archbishop.

In his apostolic exhortation The Joy of the Gospel, Pope Francis writes, “The parish is not an outdated institution; precisely because it possesses great flexibility, it can assume quite different contours depending on the openness and missionary creativity of the pastor and the community.” As we look to the future in the Archdiocese of Seattle, the Lord is calling us to this openness and creativity.

We face immediate and long-term challenges that call us to move beyond the familiar and the comfortable. These challenges also provide an opportunity for us to grow in our life in Jesus Christ, to accompany one another on the journey of faith, and to live the joy of the Gospel each day.

The challenges are at our doorstep, and they have implications for the future. In our Priest Personnel Board meetings, it has become clear that we do not have enough pastors to fill the needs of our parishes by July 1. For that reason, we will need to ask several parishes to share a pastor. This is a short-term solution to a pressing need, but it points to a longer-term challenge and opportunity.

Given the number of priest retirements compared to the number of ordinations that we project over the next 15 years, the 168 parishes and missions in our archdiocese will be served by approximately 67 archdiocesan priests. And, while we will still benefit from the ministry of priests from other countries, it is important to realize in most of those countries the Church is growing, and they have greater need for priests than we do!

This sobering reality means we must engage the “great flexibility” envisioned by the Holy Father, and the life of our parishes must take on “different contours.”

At the same time, the Lord is giving us a tremendous opportunity to respond to this challenge with great creativity. By virtue of our common baptism, laypeople and ordained ministers have a shared responsibility for the life of the Church and the spread of the Gospel. The challenge we face is not just about numbers of priests, but also about calling forth laypeople for the important work of ministry.

As an archdiocese, we have a long history of developing and supporting lay ecclesial ministers. But, as with priests, the number of lay ministers, both professional and volunteer, has declined. It is time to revitalize this crucial ministry. We wish to be a mission-driven Church where all the various gifts and ministries are present and active, where a vital partnership exists between priests, deacons, consecrated men and women and laypeople.

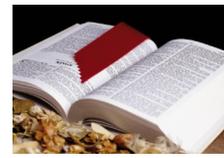

To meet these challenges and plan for the future, I am initiating a more intensive strategic planning process for our archdiocese, called “Partners in the Gospel” (see Philippians 1:3-6). Over the coming months, we will engage leadership and parishioners in planning for the long-term vitality of our local Church.

In the meantime, I wanted you to be aware that a number of parishes and priests this year will feel the impact of the challenges we face. While I am very hopeful about where the Lord is calling us, I know that for many people these times will be filled with some anxiety. But we are in this together, and together we will meet this challenge and embrace this opportunity to lead our Catholic Church in Western Washington into a future full of hope.

I have found great hope in recent days in the words of St. Paul to the Church in Philippi. These words provide hope for us today in the Archdiocese of Seattle, and I quote them here as my prayer:

“I give thanks to my God at every remembrance of you, praying always with joy in my every prayer for all of you, because of your partnership for the gospel from the first day until now. I am confident of this, that the one who began a good work in you will continue to complete it until the day of Christ Jesus.” (Philippians 1:3-6)

Let us pray for a great sensitivity to the Holy Spirit who will show us how we are to embody Christ as Church today. God is faithful and continues to accompany us on this journey of faith in our partnership for the Gospel. Please know that I continue to pray for you, and I ask that you continue to pray for me, and for the priests and pastoral ministers of our local Church.

We will hold these individuals in prayer for the month.

Congratulations & God's Blessings

Last weekend we celebrated the RCIA Rite of Welcome with Jessica Anderson. Baptized Baptist, she has now publicly stated her desire to learn more about the Catholic faith and will now enter into a more intense time of formation which includes the ancient practice of dismissal following the Liturgy of the Word. Please continue to keep her in your prayers.

Suspending The Chalice

We recently received this directive from the Archdiocese: "Throughout history, the Catholic Church has paused the chalice during significant flu seasons. Given the increase of COVID cases, flu cases and RSV cases in our archdiocese, we encourage parishes to suspend the use of the chalice at this time." We will be following this recommendation until it is safe to bring back the sharing of the cup with the assembly.

Mass Prayer Cards

Did you know that it has been a long-standing Catholic tradition to ask for a Mass to be celebrated on behalf of another person who is sick, who has died, or who is in need of prayer in other ways? The Mass is the best way Catholics pray and it is a special way to offer prayers on behalf of another person in addition, our parish has beautiful prayer cards that can be sent to the person or their family, informing them of the special Mass. There is no cost, although many make a small donation ($15 and up). For more information, contact the Parish Office.

It's Not Me, It's Him

This Week's Readings at Mass

- ▶ Isaiah 49:3, 5-6 • The servant of the Lord
- ▶ 1 Corinthians 1:1-3 • Greeting to the church
- ▶ John 1:29-34 • John's testimony to Jesus

All four gospels give an account of Jesus' baptism by John the Baptist. This story by the author of John's gospel (who was not the same person as John the Baptist) is perhaps the most puzzling of the four. John speaks in somewhat odd and cryptic language, beginning with "Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world."

As Catholics today, we recognize that phrase from mass when the priest holds up the consecrated host. However, readers and hearers of John's Gospel would have understood it as a reference to their Jewish heritage. In Jesus' day, Jews would take a lamb to the Temple in Jerusalem to be sacrificed as an atonement for their sins. When John stated that Jesus was the Lamb of God, he was making quite a claim—that Jesus was taking the place of a sacrificial lamb and that he was taking on the sins of the entire world!

There are suggestions in several of the gospels that some people were beginning to think John the Baptist was the long-awaited Messiah. In this Gospel, John says everything he can to convince people that it isn't him, but Jesus, who deserves that recognition. Clearly, he had a profound experience after baptizing Jesus when the Spirit came "down like a dove from heaven," leaving him without a doubt that Jesus was the Messiah, not him.

Questions of the Week

- 1 If you have children or godchildren who were baptized, what was that experience like for you?

© Jean Denton flock.pastoralcenter.com

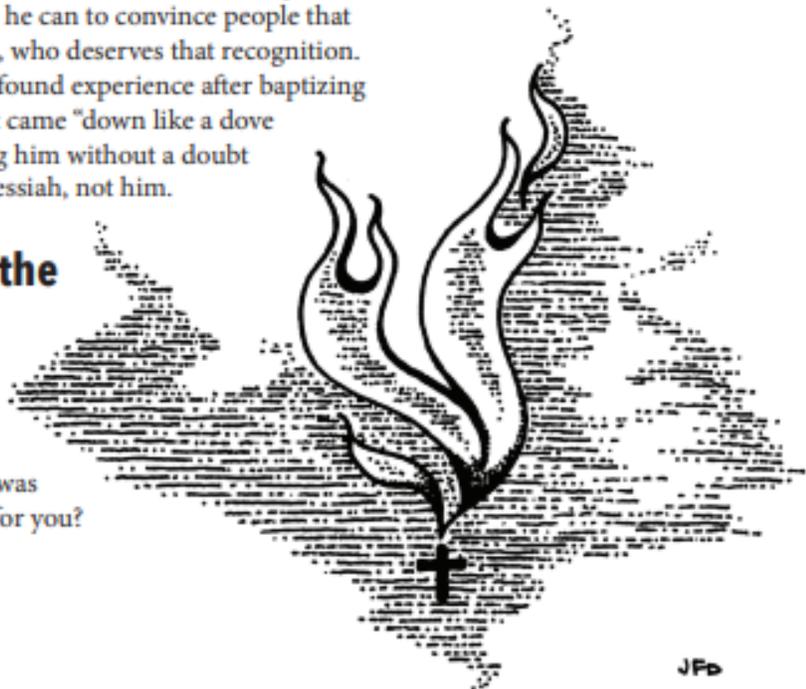

"In the written scroll it is prescribed for me, to do your will, O my God, is my delight."

Sheepish Question:

What living offering will I make for Jesus' purposes this week?

- 2 Jesus is given many different titles in the Gospels: Lamb of God, Lord, Savior, Teacher, Christ, Messiah, etc. What title do you relate to the most? Why?

Family Faith Formation

Sunday Morning Children and Family Faith Formation

We will not meet this weekend for small faith groups due to the Martin Luther King holiday. As a family this is a good time to talk about the issues of civil rights that Dr. King fought for and the seven themes of Catholic Social Teaching. Check out this handout from US Conference of Catholic Bishops: catholic-social-teaching-handout-for-children-digital.pdf.

"Faith is taking the first step even when you don't see the whole staircase."

"If I cannot do great things, I can do small things in a great way."
- Dr. Martin Luther King

Our January 8 Family Faith Formation focus was on the Mass. The materials are available on our page on the parish website. These include instructions and downloads for creating a children's Mass booklet, ideas for helping children focus during the Mass, and understanding the actions and prayers of the Mass.

We are excited to start the Lord's Lions pre-school during the 11:00 a.m. Mass but need to postpone to February 5 due to scheduling conflicts.

Pastoral Care

Good People of OLG,

For real, I am alive and among you, back at the Parish Center! Please do not hesitate to drop by the office or give me a call.

Home Communion have begun, and my schedule is filling up for next week. Also, I am in the process of contacting those who have so kindly expressed an interest in becoming Home Communion Ministers. If you are interested in this Ministry, your participation is welcome!

This past week, I have had the pleasure of writing recommendations for a young person applying to high school and for a little older person who is applying to college. I was glad to write on their behalf and in having done so, I am reminded what a stressful time this is for all young people in this process.

Please join me in prayer for all students, for upcoming exams, for candidates in their application process, and so especially for their safety and continued hope at a troubling time in our world. Our Lady of Guadalupe, pray for us!

Joy to you,

Sr. Mary op

One Parish One Prisoner

Starting this program in our parish

A Brief History...

You may remember hearing Joe Cotton in a November Mass introduce a program co-founded by the Seattle Archdiocese called One Parish One Prisoner (OPOP). Afterwards, OLG HEART hosted a Listening Session to assess the level of OLG interest and our community showed strong support for participating in OPOP.

What's happening Now...

In December OLG HEART facilitated key next steps to kick-off OLG participation, including receiving a formal blessing from staff leadership and confirming our Core Team of 7-10 parishioners who journey for 24 months in learning and in relationship-building with our new friend. OLG HEART also received $4,000 of generous donations towards the $5,000 needed for one-time Core Team tuition costs. Finally, the One Parish One Prisoner team is actively looking to pair OLG with our new friend.

What's coming up...

In January OLG HEART will host an orientation, where the Core Team will receive their first training and write their first pen pal letter. Our parish community will be looped in increasingly throughout our journey.

How can I get involved...

Everyone can start now by praying!
Contact Terre and Martin on mandt.mart87@gmail.com

What is One Parish One Prisoner?

It is a re-entry model that matches parishes with an incarcerated person for their mutual transformation. A relationship of trust is built through writing and prison visits. And when the time comes, the person will find the embrace of an entire parish community who already knows them and can assist with the many obstacles to re-entry.

One Parish One Prisoner equips parishes with orientations, online learning modules, ongoing consultation, meeting structures, resources and materials.

I love this One Parish One Prisoner idea! Compassion is not a relationship between 'healer' and 'wounded,' but a covenant between equals."
