Blessing of Expecting Parents – Today

FROM FR. MARCIN

MY DEAR PARISHIONERS,

Today we celebrate 27th Sunday in Ordinary Time and Respect Life Sunday. Each October is set aside by the bishops of the United States as Respect Life Month, a time to reflect on life issues and to pray for and promote greater respect for all human life. This year's theme is "Every Life: Cherished, Chosen, Sent"

Every person is made in God's image and likeness, and is loved by Him and called to eternal union with Him. We are also created to be in communion with and depend upon, one another. We are all called to walk in God's ways and treat each other according to the truth of His perfect love for every person. We are cherished, chosen, and sent by God to love one another as He loves us. In doing so, we help build a culture that cherishes all human life. Building a culture of life is simply part of who we are as Christians, as followers of Christ.

We must give witness to the Gospel of Life and evangelize through our lives. We must personally engage others and share the truth about human life. We must continue to show love and mercy, especially with those who have been involved in abortion. All members of the Church can bring healing to the world by upholding the beauty of human life and God's unfailing mercy. We have to protect life from conception to natural death. Life is the greatest gift from God. Human beings are made in the image and likeness of God. That image cannot be destroyed.

In today's Gospel Jesus says: "… from the beginning of creation, God made them male and female. For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh. So they are no longer two but one flesh. Therefore what God has joined together, no human being must separate..."

All sacraments have lasting value, and the sacrament of marriage has lasting value. The couple's promise to each other is until death, to be faithful to each other always, and that is why Jesus rules out divorce in today's Gospel. He said it was not in God's plan, it was introduced by humans because they lowered their vision of marriage and drifted away from God's plan for marriage. The couple's fidelity to each other symbolizes and reflects the faithfulness of God to us his people, the faithfulness of Christ to the Church. God is always faithful to us his people, Christ is always faithful to the Church and the couple's promise to be always faithful to each other until death symbolizes and reflects the love of God for his people and the love of Christ for his Church. This is another way in which we see marriage in the Catholic Church is a sacrament. Like all the sacraments, marriage unites the couple with Jesus, and brings them God's blessing. It is not just husband and wife united to each other in marriage; it is husband and wife united to each other with Jesus in marriage.

Both marriage and celibacy are calls from God to live a consecrated life that is to live as married couples or as singles who belong not to themselves but to God. Our lives are not our own, but they belong to God. He gives the grace and power to those who seek to follow his way of holiness in their state of life. Do you seek the Lord and his grace in your state of life?

"Believe in the spiritual power which this sacrament of Jesus Christ gives to strengthen the marriage union, and to overcome all the crises and problems of life together. Married people must believe in the power of the sacrament to make them holy; they must believe in their vocation to witness through their marriage to the power of Christ's love." (Homily of Pope John Paul II in Limerick, Monday October 1st, 1979).

Let us remember God's plan for marriage, that what God has joined together man must not separate. Marriage is a path to holiness, it is a vocation.

Lord Jesus Christ, your call to holiness extends to all in every state of life. Sanctify our lives - as married couples and as singles - that we may live as men and women who are consecrated to you. Make us leaven in a society that disdains life-long marriage fidelity, chastity, and living single for the Lord.

GOD BLESS YOU,

FR. MARCIN

St. Pelagia the Penitent – October 8

(ca. Fourth Century)

The original Pelagia was a young Christian girl in Antioch who died in the forth century. Her name was gradually attached to another saint, whose story has far less basis in history. According to legend, Pelagia was a beautiful courtesan in Antioch. One day she happened to be riding on a white donkey, bedecked in lavish jewels, when she passed a church synod were one of the bishops, Nonnus, was holding forth. Pointing her out to his fellow bishops he said she bore a significant lesson: "She goes to an infinity of trouble to keep herself beautiful and to perfect her dancing, to please men, but we are considerably less zealous in the care of our dioceses and of our own souls."

Whatever effect these words had on the bishops, they touched Pelagia deeply. The next day she sought out Nonnus in the basilica and asked for baptism and forgiveness of her sins. After distributing all her property to the poor, she departed from the city. The legend relates that she made her way to Jerusalem, were she dressed in men's clothes, retired to a cave on the Mount of Olives, and was revered by the people as Pelagius, a "beardless monk," until her death.

TEACHING FROM THE CATECHISM OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH ~ THE SACRAMENTS OF THE CHURCH

The Sacrament of the Eucharist

My dears brothers and sisters let us continued our learning from the sacraments according to the catechism of the Catholic Church.

The holy Eucharist completes Christian initiation. Those who have been raised to the dignity of the royal priesthood by Baptism and configured more deeply to Christ by Confirmation participate with the whole community in the Lord's own sacrifice by means of the Eucharist.

"At the Last Supper, on the night he was betrayed, our Savior instituted the Eucharistic sacrifice of his Body and Blood. This he did in order to perpetuate the sacrifice of the cross throughout the ages until he should come again, and so to entrust to his beloved Spouse, the Church, a memorial of his death and resurrection: a sacrament of love, a sign of unity, a bond of charity, a Paschal banquet 'in which Christ is consumed, the mind is filled with grace, and a pledge of future glory is given to us."

The Eucharist is "the source and summit of the Christian life." The other sacraments, and indeed all ecclesiastical ministries and works of the apostolate, are bound up with the Eucharist and are oriented toward it. For in the blessed Eucharist is contained the whole spiritual good of the Church, namely Christ himself, our Pasch.

Also the Eucharist is the efficacious sign and sublime cause of that communion in the divine life and that unity of the People of God by which the Church is kept in being. It is the culmination both of God's action sanctifying the world in Christ and of the worship men offer to Christ and through him to the Father in the Holy Spirit.

God bless you

WHY WE ARE CATHOLIC

We are Catholic because we believe:

As regards children who have died without Baptism, the Church can only entrust them to the mercy of God, as she does in her funeral rites for them. Indeed, the great mercy of God who desires that all men should be saved, and Jesus' tenderness toward children which caused him to say: "Let the children come to me, do not hinder them," allow us to hope that there is a way of salvation for children who have died without Baptism. All the more urgent is the Church's call not to prevent little children coming to Christ through the gift of holy Baptism.
