May Fête Parade + Open House May 5:

Palo Alto's 96th Annual May Fête Parade on Saturday, May 5, will come down Waverley Street and end right in front of our church.

The STA Site Committee opens the church to visitors (who can enjoy organ music played by Professor Bill Mahrt), serves coffee and lemonade to parade watchers, and presents a welcoming face to the many families who are standing on the sidewalk watching their children march by in the Scout troops and school bands. We keep the church restroom open—it is a welcome stop for many of the parade-watchers!

Volunteers to help with the beverages are needed— between 9:30 and noon, or any portion thereof. Because the parade route is closed to cars early Saturday morning, aim to park south of Channing Ave. Let Kay Williams know if you can help out (see sidebar for her contact information).

St. Thomas Aquinas Church

This year's parade theme is "Children of the World" for floats; non-commercial floats can win cash prizes up to $500!

Following the parade, stick around for the May Fête Fair at Heritage Park, sponsored by Kiwanis of Palo Alto.

Hosting Hotel de Zink guests:

The opportunity for STA parish to be a host church for guests of Hotel de Zink in July or August has not materialized. Peninsula Bible Church will host in August. Ruth Chippendale will continue to sign up STA parishioners to bring meals for two weeks in April, and in August if necessary.

Repair of church front stairs:

We are hopeful that the repair of the front stairs of the church can be accomplished in June and July, when there is a window between weddings at STA. Contractor bids are being invited and reviewed. But if there is a delay, another window between weddings is in the late fall, so there's hope the job can be done before the end of the year. It's a good thing that weddings are booked months in advance, so we can forecast when construction can be done!
