Finally, all of you, be of one mind, sympathetic, loving toward one another,
compassionate, humble.

Tengan todo unos mismos
sentimientos, sean compasivos, ámense como hermanos, sean misericordiosos y humildes.
1 Peter 3:8

And let the peace of Christ
control your hearts, the peace
into which you were also called in one body. And be thankful.

Que la paz de Cristo reine en sus
corazones: esa paz a la que han sido llamados, porque formamos
un solo Cuerpo

Question:

Our prayer group has been reading the lives of some saints, and we were struck by how some of them thought they were such sinners. Why would such holy people think they had such serious sin?

Answer:

Professional athletes practice the fundamentals of their sport over and over again, reaching for better form, consistency, and better performance. They focus on the basics, review past performances, and visualize greater success. Practice makes better, if not perfect!

Spiritual masters such as the saints also looked for perfection. They practiced their faith in the search for holiness, grace, and virtue. Through sacraments, prayer, study, good works, and penance, they raised their level of awareness, their sensitivity to the presence of God, the demands of the Gospel, and the workings of the Holy Spirit. They examined their consciences daily, reviewing the day for moments of failure and times that they could have been more virtuous in one way or another. They resolved to do better, be more attentive and alert!

Therefore, anything that would distract them or interfere with their relationship with God would be like a small black spot on a bright white wall — you can't miss it! The great saints were aware of sin and the presence of evil because they were so tuned in to the struggle between good and evil that was fought in their own lives, hearts, and souls. We must guard against becoming desensitized to sin in our lives and unaware of the harm it causes us. A goal of any spiritual practice is to become more aware of our sinfulness so that we seek God's forgiving and healing love.

Pregunta:

Nuestro grupo de oración ha estado leyendo las vidas de algunos santos, y nos llamó la atención cómo algunos de ellos pensaban que eran pecadores. ¿Por qué personas tan santas pensarían que tenían un pecado tan grave?

Respuesta:

Los atletas profesionales practican los fundamentos de su deporte una y otra vez, buscando una mejor forma, consistencia y mejor rendimiento. Se centran en lo básico, revisan las actuaciones pasadas y visualizan un mayor éxito. ¡La práctica hace mejor, si no perfecto!

Los maestros espirituales, como los santos, también buscaban la perfección. Practicaban su fe en la búsqueda de la santidad, la gracia y la virtud. A través de los sacramentos, la oración, el estudio, las buenas obras y la penitencia, elevaron su nivel de conciencia, su sensibilidad a la presencia de Dios, las exigencias del Evangelio y las obras del Espíritu Santo. Examinaban sus consciencias a diario, revisando el día en busca de momentos de fracaso y momentos en los que podrían haber sido más virtuosos de una forma u otra. ¡Resolvían hacerlo mejor, estar más atentos y alertas!

Por lo tanto, cualquier cosa que los distrajera o interfiriera con su relación con Dios sería como una pequeña mancha negra en una pared blanca brillante, ¡no te la puedes perder! Los grandes santos eran conscientes del pecado y de la presencia del mal porque estaban muy sintonizados con la lucha entre el bien y el mal que se libraba en sus propias vidas, corazones y almas. Debemos cuidarnos de no volvernos insensibles al pecado en nuestras vidas y no darnos cuenta del daño que nos causa. Un objetivo de cualquier práctica espiritual es ser más conscientes de nuestra pecaminosidad para que busquemos el amor perdonador y sanador de Dios.
