Yet not one of them falls to the ground

BULLETIN DEADLINES: log onto our web site for information about deadlines and submission guidelines.

If I can be of assistance to you or a loved one, please contact me. I have many resources to share with you.

Deacon Ed Garza
ed.garza@sacredheartwdm.org

With June being traditionally associated with weddings, I thought these tips would be timely for newlyweds as well as for all married couples. With marriage under attack as never before, pray for newlyweds and married couples that they may be faithful and joyful in their vocation to each other.

When they celebrate the sacrament of Matrimony, a bride and groom promise “till death do us part.” But a parting can certainly occur well prior to death if there isn’t an effort to protect the relationship from danger.

A lasting union is not built with mere sentiments, but with determination and sacrifice. Here are 6 things that must be avoided if husband and wife are to keep their vows.

1. Being the center of the world

Remember, you’re a couple. Always consider how your decisions and actions might affect your spouse. Don’t close yourself in on you and your sentiments. Your spouse’s emotions have to be taken into account. Ask his/her opinion on the important decisions that will affect the family and listen carefully before reacting. You are together in this endeavor and decisions can’t be made autonomously.

2. Seeking absolute control

Finances, housework, child-raising, trips, etc. There are plenty of things that can be controlled alone. But if you want a healthy marriage, you have to curb the tendency to take over everything. Let your spouse have a voice. Matrimony is an alliance, and if it’s to be a happy alliance, you can’t always have the last word. Give your spouse the opportunity to take part in decisions. Learn to give in.

3. Showing disdain for affection

Sex, cuddles, kisses, hand-holding and other signs of affection — without these ingredients, matrimony becomes a melancholy and cold routine. You don’t need sex every night to be happy, but all human beings need affection. Even if it’s just a kiss, a hug, or cuddling on the couch for a movie, make it a priority to show your spouse some sign of affection every day.

4. Abusing with words

Insults, constant criticism, judgments — these things drag down a person’s self-esteem. Don’t cause frustrations for your spouse. It’s normal to get irritated every once in a while, but don’t allow anger to get the best of you, such that you speak with cruelty. Learn to talk of your frustrations without using insults. Have some self-control.

5. Dispensing with time together

It’s true that the kids are important, but so is quality time as a couple. Your relationship is the foundation of the family; make it a firm foundation. Your children will see you as an example of what a dignified marriage should be. Find time to be together without the kids. Learn to make the best of companionship with your spouse.

6. Lying to maintain peace

So as to avoid arguments or difficult conversations, many people take the easy way out by telling lies or withholding information. They can end up growing accustomed to this venomous vice. No marriage can endure when illusions are the foundation. Be honest and build your relationship on truth. Fidelity doesn’t refer just to sex; it also means being emotionally honest with your spouse and taking his/her sentiments into account.

COFRECITOS TRAPENSES

Somos los monjes trapenses de la Abadía de Nueva Melleray. Nuestra vocación se expresa en la oración silenciosa, la liturgia de la comunidad y el trabajo manual. Vida simple es una de las señas de identidad de nuestra vida. Nosotros mismos nos apoyamos con el trabajo de nuestras manos. Este trabajo es la plantación, cultivo y el cuidado de los árboles con oración y artesanía para realizar ataúdes y urnas de madera de excelente calidad.

Vemos nuestro trabajo como un ministerio a una obra de misericordia corporal. Esperamos impartir un sentido de santidad en todo lo que hacemos.

- Plantamos un árbol como un monumento viviente a cada destinatario.
- Cada ataúd y urna ha sido bendecida por uno de nuestros monjes.
- Gestionamos nuestro bosque diverso arbolado y sostenible de 1,200 acres.
- Una vez que nuestros árboles se deriban, se selecciona cada tabla.
- Los ataúdes trapenses cuestan menos que las opciones producidos en masa.
- Disponible para la entrega inmediata, o como una opción de planificación avanzada.

Por favor, visítenos en línea en www.trappistcaskets.com para aprender más acerca de nuestro ministerio, ver muestras o solicitar un catálogo. También puede llamar al 888-433-6934, línea gratuita, para más información. Los visitantes a nuestra sala de exposición son siempre bienvenidos.
