Easter Sunday, Year C, La Resurrección del Señor, Año C, El Evangelio de san Lucas Marzo-March 26-27, 2016

From The Deacon's Desk...

*Peter offers his testimony to the risen Christ. He shared with the crowds what he witnessed: Jesus' friendship, healing and forgiveness. Peter proclaims a resurrected life that brings hope. The Christian life is a resurrected life. It is new life, one of truth, inner joy and genuine fulfillment. God has transformed our lives for all eternity, and that transformation is what it means to be a Christian. It is time to rejoice. Christ the Lord is risen today! Alleluia!

*Pedro ofrece valientemente su testimonio de Cristo resucitado. Él compartió con las multitudes lo que él mismo presenció: la amistad de Jesús, la curación y el perdón. Pedro proclama una vida resucitada que trae esperanza. La vida cristiana es, ciertamente, una vida resucitada. Es una nueva vida, una vida de verdad, de gozo interior y de auténtica satisfacción. Dios ha transformado nuestras vidas para toda la eternidad, y esta transformación es lo que significa ser cristiano. Es tiempo para regocijarse. ¡Cristo, el Señor, ha resucitado hoy! ¡Aleluia!

Question of the Week

Easter Sunday —John 20:1-9

Key Passage: Mary of Magdala came to the tomb...and saw the stone removed from the tomb. So she ran and went to Simon Peter and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved and told them: “They have taken the Lord from the tomb and we don’t know where they put him.”... Simon Peter went into the tomb... and the other disciple also went in, the one who had arrived first and he saw and believed.

Question for adults: What is your understanding of the empty tomb? What do you believe?

Question for children: What is the meaning of Easter?

Pregunta de la Semana

Domingo de Pascua —Juan 20:1-9

Pasaje Crucial: Fue María Magdalena al sepulcro y vio removida la piedra que lo cerraba. Echó a correr, llegó a la casa donde estaban Simón Pedro y el otro dicipulo, a quien Jesús amada, y les dijo: Se han llevado del sepulcro al Señor y no sabemos dónde lo habrán puesto. Salieron Pedro y el otro discípulo camino del sepulcro...Simón Pedro entró en el sepulcro. Entonces entró también el otro discípulo, el que había entendido las Escrituras, según las cuales Jesús debía resucitar de entre los muertos.

Pregunta para los adultos: ¿Cuál es su comprensión de la tumba vacía? ¿Qué crees?

Pregunta para los niños: ¿Cuál es el significado de la Pascua?

Peter boldly offers his testimony to the risen Christ. He shared with the crowds what he himself witnessed: Jesus' friendship, healing and forgiveness. Peter proclaims a resurrected life that brings hope. The Christian life is, indeed, a resurrected life. It is new life, one of truth, inner joy and genuine fulfillment. God has transformed our lives for all eternity, and that transformation is what it means to be a Christian. Good stewards are committed, like Peter, to offering their own witness. It is time to rejoice.

Without prayer, bishops can do nothing.

By Editor Catholic News Service, March 23, 2016.

(CNS) Pope Francis, has told two Vatican officials who he ordained as bishops, that they must be men of prayer, saying "If a bishop doesn't pray, he can do nothing."

US Archbishop Peter B Wells, the new nuncio to South Africa, and Spanish Bishop Miguel Angel Ayuso Guixot, secretary of the Pontifical Council for Inter-religious Dialogue, were ordained by the Pope on March 19, the feast of St Joseph and the third anniversary of the formal inauguration of Pope Francis' papacy.

The two men were prostrate on a rug before the main altar in St Peter's Basilica as the congregation chanted the litany of the saints, begging for their assistance to the new bishops and the entire Church.

Then the two, beginning with Bishop Ayuso, knelt before the Pope as he laid his hands on their heads and ordained them to the episcopacy. The other cardinals and bishops concelebrating the Mass also laid their hands on them.

As is his custom, Pope Francis read the ritual homily for episcopal ordinations, but added his own comments and cautions.

The prepared text includes a reminder that Christ continues to preach, teach and sanctify his followers through the ministry of the bishop. "Christ who preaches, Christ who makes the Church, makes the Church fruitful, Christ who guides: this is the bishop," the Pope added.

Being named a bishop is being chosen to be a servant; it's not an honour, the Pope said. "Be servants of all – of the greatest and the least. Of all." Although the two new bishops are not leading dioceses, Pope Francis still told them that they must model their ministry on the "Good Shepherd, who knows his sheep."

"Behind every letter you receive, there is a person," he told the new bishops. "May that person be known by you and may be you be capable of knowing him or her."

Pope Francis urged them to show particular care and concern for priests. "It makes me cry when I hear that a priest has asked to speak to his bishop and the secretary tells him, 'He is very busy; he cannot see you for at least three months.'"

"Look people in the eye," the Pope told Archbishop Wells and Bishop Ayuso. It is the only way to see into someone's heart and let them see into yours, he said.

Archbishop Wells, a 52-year-old priest of the Diocese of Tulsa, Oklahoma, has been in the Vatican diplomatic service since 1999.

Pope Benedict in 2009 named him "assessor for general affairs," a position in the Vatican secretariat of state that is similar to be deputy chief of staff.

In February, Pope Francis named him an archbishop and nuncio to South Africa, Botswana, Lesotho and Namibia.

Bishop Edward J Slattery of Tulsa, who once had then-Father Wells as his personal secretary, was at the Vatican for the ordination.

He told reporters the future archbishop's "enormous talent and love for the Church" was always obvious and, in fact, when the Vatican first asked Bishop Slattery to release him for studies at the Vatican diplomatic academy, the bishop said, "no."

"I thought they would forget about him, but they didn't," Bishop Slattery told journalists today.

Bishop Ayuso, a 63-year-old Comboni Missionary, has been secretary of the council for inter-religious dialogue since 2012.

In addition to a degree from Pontifical Institute of Arabic and Islamic Studies, he has more than 20 years of pastoral experience in Egypt and Sudan.
