Gospel of St. Luke / El Evangelio de San Lucas

From Deacon John...

Humility is the truthful awareness of who and Whose we are; beings loved into existence by a God who wants to dwell within us. Yet we remain dependent upon Him for every breath. Jesus instructs us not to seek honor at table, lest a more distinguished guest displace us. This is more than etiquette. All glory belongs to God alone. The image of slinking to a lower place points out the foolishness of not giving God the credit for blessings and talents. Because when we use our gifts to serve, God "exalts" us with His grace. How we serve and share must always be centered on recognizing that we are all "little" ones.

La humildad es la verdadera conciencia de quiénes y de quién somos, seres amados a la existencia por un Dios que habita dentro de nosotros. Sin embargo, seguimos dependiendo de Él en cada respiración. Jesús nos instruye a no buscar el honor en la mesa, no sea que un invitado más distinguido nos desplace. Esto es más que etiqueta. Toda la gloria pertenece solo a Dios. La imagen de escabullirse a un lugar más bajo señala la insensatez de no darle a Dios el crédito por las bendiciones y los talentos. Porque cuando usamos nuestros dones para servir, Dios nos "exalta" con Su gracia. Cómo servimos y compartimos siempre debe estar centrado en reconocer que todos somos "pequeños".

Background on the Gospel Reading
Meals played an important role in the society in which Jesus lived. More than a time for sharing nourishment, they were a time to share ideas and to model different aspects of social relationships. In Luke's Gospel, the places that a person ate (at the home of a tax collector, 5:29), the people with whom a person ate (sinners, 5:30), whether a person washed before eating (11:38), and, as is the case here, the place that a person sits while eating are all important. The narrator says Jesus tells a parable, but it is really wise advice to both guests and hosts about finding true happiness at the heavenly banquet. Jesus warns guests to wait before taking their places at the table lest they be asked to move if someone more important arrives. This is more than just a lesson about dinner etiquette. It is advice on how to find your true place in the Kingdom of God. Jesus advises hosts not to invite people who would be expected to repay them to dinner but to invite those who could not repay: the poor, the crippled, the lame, and the blind. This is where real blessings can be found. In these sayings, Luke gives us not only advice on how to approach the end times but also on how to live according to Jesus' vision of a good society. Luke's Gospel also advises us how the Church must be part of bringing about this society. It is yet another example in Luke's Gospel of the reversal the kingdom brings about.

Intención del mes de agosto del Obispo McKnight por nuestra Iglesia Local
