

*He elegido y santificado este lugar, dice el Señor,
para que siempre habite ahí mi nombre.*

*I have chosen and consecrated this house, says the Lord,
that my name may be there forever.*

"Take these out of here, and stop making my Father's house a marketplace."
His disciples recalled the words of Scripture,
Zeal for your house will consume me.

"Quiten todo de aquí y no conviertan en un mercado la casa de mi Padre". En ese momento, sus discípulos se acordaron de lo que estaba escrito: El celo de tu casa me devora.

John 2:16-17

"But I say to you, love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you." Mt. 5:44

We continue to lift up to the Lord...

...all who have died. We pray for those who struggle with migration, aging, cold weather, disease, illness, violence, grief or addiction. We are grateful for those who feed, house and clothe the world, and those who labor selflessly for our safety, growth and well being, including our catechists, first responders and military. May we always follow the Father's beloved son, Jesus Christ.

Dedication of the Lateran Basilica, Year C
La Dedicación de Basilica de Laterán
Gospel of St. Luke / El Evangelio de San Lucas
November / Noviembre 9, 2025

We celebrate the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica, the cathedral church of the Pope. This reminds us that we, the People of God, are the living temple of God's presence. Ezekiel describes life-giving water flowing from the temple, bringing renewal wherever it goes. St. Paul tells us, "You are the temple of God, and the Spirit of God dwells in you". We are entrusted with the sacred task of caring for this temple, that is, our hearts and our parish community, so that God's presence always shines. Jesus declares His body is the true dwelling place of God. Through our baptism, we share in this sacred mystery.

Celebramos la Dedicación de la Basilica de Letrán, la catedral del Papa. Esto nos recuerda que nosotros, el Pueblo de Dios, somos el templo vivo de la presencia de Dios. Ezequiel describe el agua vivificante que fluye del templo, trayendo renovación adondequiera que va. San Pablo nos dice: «Ustedes son el templo de Dios, y el Espíritu de Dios habita en ustedes». Se nos ha confiado la sagrada tarea de cuidar este templo, nuestros corazones y nuestra comunidad parroquial, para que la presencia de Dios siempre resplandezca. Jesús declara que su cuerpo es la verdadera morada de Dios. A través de nuestro bautismo, participamos de este misterio.

Background on the Gospel Reading

The story of the cleansing of the Temple is found in all four Gospels. In Matthew, Mark, and Luke, Jesus is upset with the deceitful practices of the vendors and expels them for that reason. But in John, Jesus' authority is contrasted with the authority of the Temple cult and is a criticism of the cult itself.

The story is composed of two parts, Jesus' action in the Temple and Jesus' predictions about the Temple's destruction. The time of year is the sacred feast of Passover. If the many pilgrims to Jerusalem during Passover were to have animals for the sacrificial rituals of the feast, it was necessary to sell cattle in the Temple and to change the unclean Roman money. By denouncing this, Jesus is cutting to the core of the Temple cult.

The story is really about Jesus' fate, not the Temple's fate, revealing that Jesus, not the Temple, is the locus of God's presence on earth. As they often do in John, the Jews misunderstand Jesus' words. This gives John the chance to explicitly state his point. Although this is the beginning of his ministry, Jesus is already speaking of his coming death and Resurrection.

John intentionally integrates a post-Resurrection perspective into the Gospel narrative. The statement that concludes this passage uses the fact of the Resurrection to prove the point of Jesus' words. Believers need to remember the words and actions of Jesus and claim them as affirmations of the truths of their faith.

Christians sometimes point to Jesus' anger in this passage as a way to point out Jesus' humanity. But this would miss the powerful point of the entire Gospel, that the Word became flesh. The point is not that Jesus' anger proves he is human. It is that a human being, in his words and actions, can claim the authority of God.

Remember your personal commitment to return to God, the Father, a minimum of one hour of worship, prayer, service and wage each week.

Today, the Church celebrates the Feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica in Rome, the cathedral church of the Pope and the mother church of all Christendom. While this feast honors a sacred building, it also reminds us of a deeper truth: we, the People of God, are the living temple of His presence. In the first reading, Ezekiel describes life-giving water flowing from the temple, bringing renewal wherever it goes. This image calls us to be channels of God's grace in the world. St. Paul tells us, "You are the temple of God, and the Spirit of God dwells in you". As stewards, we are entrusted with the sacred task of caring for this temple, our own hearts and our parish community, so that God's presence may shine through us. In the Gospel, Jesus cleanses the temple, declaring that His body is the true dwelling place of God. Through our baptism, we share in this mystery.
