

Estén atentos y levanten la cabeza, porque se acerca la hora de su liberación, dice el Señor.

Stand erect and raise your heads because your redemption is at hand.

... the day that is coming will set them on fire, leaving them neither root nor branch, says the LORD of hosts. But for you who fear my name, there will arise the sun of justice with its healing rays.

El día que viene los consumirá, dice el Señor de los ejércitos, hasta no dejarles ni raíz ni rama. Pero para ustedes, los que temen al Señor, brillará el sol de justicia, que les traerá la salvación en sus rayos".

Malachi 3:19-20

"But I say to you, love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you." Mt. 5:44

We continue to lift up to the Lord...

...all who have died. We pray for those who struggle with migration, aging, cold weather, disease, illness, violence, grief or addiction. We are grateful for those who feed, house and clothe the world, and those who labor selflessly for our safety, growth and well being, including our catechists, first responders and military. May we always follow the Father's beloved son, Jesus Christ.

Gospel of St. Luke / El Evangelio de San Lucas
November / Noviembre 16, 2025

Our Lord brings home the urgency of right priorities, "All that you see here—the days will come when there will not be left a stone upon another stone..." We must focus on eternity. Yet before the eternal, expect to be tried and tested. "Before all this happens, however, they will seize and persecute you, they will hand you over to the synagogues and to prisons and they will have you led before kings and governors..." Sounds scary. But hopefully, you have a plan in place. Stick with it. Put our Lord first in your time, talent, and treasure. Jesus promises it will lead to salvation and the joy of union with Him. "By your perseverance, you will secure your lives."

Nuestro Señor nos recuerda la urgencia de establecer las prioridades correctas: «Todo lo que ven aquí, llegará el día en que no quedará piedra sobre piedra...». Debemos centrarnos en la eternidad. Sin embargo, antes de la eternidad, prepárense para ser puestos a prueba. «Antes de que todo esto suceda, los apresarán y los perseguirán; los entregarán a las sinagogas y a las cárceles, y los llevarán ante reyes y gobernadores...». Suena aterrador. Pero, con suerte, ya tienen un plan. Manténganse firmes en él. Dediquen su tiempo, talentos y recursos a nuestro Señor. Jesús promete que esto los llevará a la salvación y a la alegría de la unión con Él. «Con su perseverancia, salvarán sus vidas».

Background on the Gospel Reading

In the context of Luke, today's Gospel appears near the end of Jesus' teaching in Jerusalem, just prior to the events that will lead to his crucifixion. His warnings and predictions are ominous but can be read in many ways.

To those who first heard Luke's Gospel, those may have been words of encouragement. The destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem by the Romans was history (70 A.D.); Luke's Gospel, Catholic scholars propose, was written between 80 and 90 A.D. His audience was probably Gentile Christians.

Luke here tries to interpret the fall of Jerusalem for them and to locate it in God's plans for humankind (salvation history). At the same time, Luke is suggesting to his audience that there will be a considerable elapse of time before Jesus' final coming. Luke's listeners have likely seen much upheaval and are anxious to know if these are the signs of Jesus' coming. Luke is urging greater patience.

In the second part of today's Gospel, Jesus warns that his followers will face persecution for their beliefs. Luke presents persecution as an opportunity for the followers of Jesus for "It will lead to your giving testimony" (Luke 21:13). In persecution God's wisdom and power will be shown in the example of followers of Jesus. Perseverance in the face of persecution will lead to their salvation.

Here Jesus is assuring his followers that God is present to all believers, even in times of trouble. Ultimately, Jesus will witness to this with his own death. As disciples of Jesus, we try to follow his example, trusting in God's mercy and protection, even when we are facing difficulties.

Avoid complacency: God examines not only actions but also intentions. Yet, God's ultimate desire is healing, not destruction; restoration, not punishment.
