God's Loving Light Shines Through Us and Our Actions

May 27, 2020

Dear Parents and Guardians,

We've almost made it! Kudos to all of you, as well as your children, for sticking with us during this unprecedented time! We can't thank you enough for the support you have provided, whether through email or phone call, and we hope you have felt our support as well.

Perhaps the greatest frustration for all of us is the unknown. We're still trying to work out some plan for graduation, but until then, our eighth graders are filming their portion of the Baccalaureate Mass and Graduation Ceremony, and we will put it all together to compose formal events. So far, they've done a great job! The resilience of your children (at every grade level) is astounding. I frequently find myself pondering their acceptance of our situation, and am learning to take a page from their book and "let go and let God". That they have come so far is a testament to their flexibility.

Everyone has done a great job, but all good things must come to an end. Our last day of school will be Thursday, June 11. We will be scheduling classes to come into school the following week in order to drop off any materials (including ChromeBooks) that belong to the school, as well as to pick up any belongings they may have left behind in March. We will also be sending information related to summer work.

At this time, there are too many variables to even think about where we will be in September. That being said, I will be in contact with you over the summer so that we may all be prepared for whatever next school year will bring. In the meantime, get outside and enjoy this beautiful weather. This time with our families will eventually come to an end, and I know we will all miss this family time!

"There is an appointed time for everything, and a time for every affair under the heavens (Ecclesiastes 3:1)." In good time, we will be together again. Until then, know that we love and miss all of you, and hope that day comes sooner, rather than later!

In God's Love,
