Father Peter's Corner

FIFTH SUNDAY OF LENT YEAR B

God promised to make another covenant with the house of Israel after the previous covenants. The new covenant which the Lord wanted to make he would write the Law in their hearts. He promised to forgive all evil doings. God promised not to count and remember their sins anymore. Our God is the God of mercy and love, who does not count our sins, is ready to forgive our wrong doings. This message of the Lord who forgives gives us hope. The covenant which God made with his people created new page of relationship between God and his people. This covenant makes us confident of our relationship with Jesus and that amid suffering we will not perish. Jesus' analogy of the grain of wheat refers of his own passion, death, and resurrection; that unless the grain of wheat falls on the ground and dies will remain a single grain, the passion and death and resurrection of Jesus will bear fruits, which is the salvation of all humankind. Again, Jesus reminds us that following him is not an easy task, requires sacrifice. Following Jesus fully as he urges us today to the point of hating our own life is not an easy task requires God's grace. Jesus foresaw the pain of his passion, he even asked his Father to let the cup pass away from him: "Going a little farther, he fell with his face to the ground and prayed, My Father, if it is possible, may this cup be taken away from me. Yet not as I will, but as you will". Matthew 26:39. Finally he endured the passion on the cross for the salvation of the world. Jesus has given us the example of obedience to the will of God, the Law written in our hearts wants us to obey the will of God as Jesus did. God has promised us the forgiveness of our wrongdoings through his Son Jesus Christ, who fulfilled by passion, death, and resurrection. God has done his part through his Son, what is left is ours.
