Our Military Men & Women serving our country

PASTOR'S CORNER: In the Catholic tradition, such small matters constitute part of what is called our “duties of state,” that is, the obligations we have because of our state in life. For example, my state in life includes the roles of husband, father, and teacher, and a whole host of obligations—my “duties of state” - come with those roles.

In particular way, this Sunday’s First Reading calls us to recognize the heroism of women, especially in their role as wife and mother. Our society does not honor women, and if it does, it honors them for taking on roles traditionally associated with men. Thus, history books praise “women pioneers” in fields like science or politics. But this backfires socially because it unintentionally reinforces the attitude that the role women traditionally fulfilled as mothers and wife's was and is unimportant compared to accomplishments some women make in the public arena. All followers of Christ need to repudiate this attitude that fails to recognize the incalculable value to society of faithful motherhood. If we had to monetize the socio-economic contribution of mothers to society, the economy would collapse because we cannot afford to pay people enough to do what mothers do for free. Anti-mothering attitudes are evil, demonic, and anti-human, based on a contempt for children, the natural family, the weak and vulnerable, and anything that does not involve money, fame, or power.

The second servant is not jealous of the first servant. He doesn’t complain that he only got two talents. He just gets to work and does what he can. In the end, he receives the same reward as the first: the Master’s joy. It’s message to all of us to focus on our duties of state, focus on doing the small things of our small lives with great love and great faithfulness. If we do, we can look forward to sharing the Master’s joy along with five-talent-servants like Saints John Paul II, Teresa of Calcutta, and Josemaria.

DIOCESE VOCATION PRAYER: O Lord, My God, please raise up an army of priests from the sons of the Diocese of Salina. Priests that will carry Your merciful words of absolution upon their lips. Priests that will anoint our loved ones with Your Holy Oil in sickness and at the hour of their death. Priests who will fearlessly proclaim the Gospel in season and out. Priests who will offer the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass for our salvation. Dearest Mother Mary, whisper consoling words of comfort into the hearts of mothers and fathers of our diocese as their sons discern a call into the Holy Orders of Christ’s Eternal Priesthood. We ask this with humble hearts through the Holy Name of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

Theme: Christ calls us to use our gifts for the Reign of God.

Adults: Using Jesus’ parable as your starting point, describe in your own words how you are using your own gifts to enrich the reign of God.

Youth: Name three talents that you have. How can you use these talents in the next week to make someone’s life better?

Children: Name one talent or gift that God has given you and tell how you have used it.
