Seed Sower:

“On top of Nebraska’s state capitol is a 19-foot-tall bronze statue. The statue is a man holding a bag of seed in his left hand and in his right hand he is throwing seed to the left and to the right onto the ground. The statue emphasized the importance of agriculture to a noble life and civilization.”

“In the agricultural environment where Jesus was raised, he often saw farmers casting seed by hand to the left and right as they walked through fields. That ancient practice of scattering seed was the original meaning of our modern term broadcasting. That image became the basis of Jesus’ famous parable to explain the Word of God. The seeds are Good News: words of wisdom, cast to the world to produce a harvest of love and peace.”

“After Jesus had preached this parable, he explained it to his Apostles. The Word of God is pure, sacred and powerful. Our souls are the soil to keep clear of thorns, stones and briars (Satan temptations). There, the Word can be planted to grow into a spiritually fulfilled life. ‘Jesus, help me to be a seed sower.’ “¹

A relationship of faith and commitment exists between the Catholic Church and its members and the public, whether they are children, young people, adults or elderly. Sexual abuse in this context, or any other relationship, is a matter of grave concern. Knowledge of such abuse requires a special response in order to facilitate the healing process and assure the safety of the community. With this in mind, The Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee is committed to healing the hurting hearts of sexual abuse victims and has established Victims Assistance Coordinators, experienced and trained counselors. These coordinators are available to help persons who have been sexually abused by a priest, deacon or other church personnel. VICTIM ASSISTANCE COORDINATORS: Pensacola/Ft. Walton Beach area: Dr. Lewis Makarowski, PhD, P.A. (850)477-7181. Tallahassee/Panama City area: James Gagnon, MSW LCSW (850)877-0205. For Spanish speakers - en Espanol: Deacon Santiago Molina, (850)627-2350. Diocesan Victim Assistance Hotline: (850)435-3536.
