1st Sunday of Lent

REFLECTION

by Sr. Sallie Latkovich, C.S.J.*

Congregation of St. Joseph

For those of you who are familiar with music, you may occasionally notice the word “lento” in the musical score. This is a direction that literally means “go slow.” Once in a first- grade classroom, I asked the children: “What can you see when you are riding in the car on an interstate highway?” Their little faces scrunched up as they replied: “You can’t see anything because you’re going too fast.” But, I said, “what can you see when you are in the car going slowly?” Those same little faces lit up, reporting all kinds of things: “petals on flowers,” “people sitting on their porches,” “even cows’ eyes!”

Indeed, in Lent, we as a church are called to go slowly, so that we can better see God and ourselves in relationship. The readings we are given to hear call us to see with eyes of faith.

In the first reading from Deuteronomy, Moses recalls the saving action of God in setting the Israelites free from their oppression in Egypt. Having heard their cry, God is remembered for strong hand and outstretched arm, with great power, and signs and wonders. God has brought them to the land flowing with milk and honey, and the Israelites then offer God the first fruits of the land and bow down in God's presence. As Lent begins, let us also recall the saving actions of God in our lives: How has God heard the cries of our hearts and responded? What are the ways that we show our gratitude and in fact bow down in the presence of God we experience?

In Romans, Paul affirms the saving action of God, and adds an inclusive statement that God's care and relationship is not limited to Jews alone. In naming Jews and Greeks, Paul is implying that God's Spirit is with all people. Throughout time and even today, nations and peoples claim a superiority over others. For those of us baptized into Christ, we are one. In another place in Galatians, Paul is even more clear in writing: "There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, but all are one in Christ." As we enter into these Lenten days, we may need to reflect on how we not only believe but act in the reality that we are one with all of humankind and all of creation.

The account of Jesus' temptation in the desert is a familiar story, that deserves our reflection. The three temptations that are described relate to the original temptation of Adam and Eve in the garden. That temptation is not simply eating the apple, but rather: "If you eat this apple, you will be like God." Therein lies the original sin that we all struggle with, that is, our desire to be like God, in control and with power.

The first temptation appeals to Jesus' hunger, having fasted for 40 days in the desert. Perhaps we should consider more than the hunger of our bodies and reflect on the hungers of our hearts. We may be attracted to nourish the hungers of our hearts with illusions that will not in fact fill the emptiness of our hearts. Neither money nor possessions can fill our hearts, and neither food nor alcohol nor drugs can cover our inner hungers or thirsts. Only God, only love can fill our souls. How and when do we experience an inner hunger? What do we seek and do to quench such hunger?

Secondly, the devil tempts Jesus with power: "I will give you all this power and glory." Really??? We continue to be tempted by power in our daily lives; we resist feeling powerless or vulnerable. God alone has power, and God's primary power is simply presence. For those of us who believe, we know that we are never alone. Our own power is in the service and worship of God alone..The final temptation takes place in Jerusalem, the center of Jewish faith and the place of God's presence in the Ark of the Covenant in the inner Temple precincts. The challenge is to tempt God to exercise power. We take up this challenge when we pray for a particular need, for a particular healing. We want God to do what we want God to do. Our faith is shaken, sometimes, when we don't receive exactly what we had prayed for. And yet, Jesus doesn't fall for the challenge. He has indeed emerged from the 40 days in the desert stronger in his own faith in God.

The Feast of Yom Kippur is observed by Jews as their annual Day of Atonement. They reflect on how they may have betrayed their Covenant with God, how they may have sinned through the last year. As individuals and as community, the Jews seek forgiveness and thus reconciliation and renewal of their relationship with God. Perhaps this is ours to do during the Lenten season. We make every effort to go slow, and to reflect on our relationship with God. The temptations of Jesus are good markers of temptations we also face. May we arrive at the Triduum and the Easter Vigil having renewed our relationship with God, and may we rejoice in the saving action of God in our lives and in our world.

STATIONS of the CROSS

The Stations of the Cross provide us a vision to help us enter into God's overwhelming love for us. We use visual images of each Station to help focus and direct our prayer. With each Station, let us place ourselves in the moment. What does the cross look like? What do the crowded streets feel like? What does nails, piercing the hands and feet of Jesus sound like? Enter in and allow the Holy Spirit to lead you to a deeper spiritual place. The COVID-19 pandemic brought many challenges and continues to reveal much to us about our humanity. The goal of praying the Stations is not just to get through them. It's not just a nice tradition. The goal is to contemplate the depth of love God demonstrated on the Cross. The other goal is to learn how to carry our own crosses with Christ. In praying the Stations, we learn compassion. We enter into the suffering of Christ to better understand our suffering and the suffering of others. Let us begin our walk with Jesus.

AROUND THE DIOCESE

INTO THE BREACH

TAKE THIS LENTEN JOURNEY WITH US.

In the past two decades, more than 14 million Catholics have left the faith. In the face of these losses, Catholic men are called to put aside any hesitation to live a life of mission. We must enter into the breach.

CALLED TO CONVERSION

Christ calls us to a life of continued formation so that, with grace, we can seriously engage the war for our souls. That's why the Knights have produced Into the Breach, a video series inspired by Bishop Thomas J. Olmsted's apostolic exhortation of the same name.

READY FOR BATTLE

Prepare yourself for the spiritual battle raging around you. To step into the breach requires every man to have faith and take action. The Into the Breach series challenges men to seek greatness and to be heroically virtuous, to have a character marked by goodness and truth, strength and courage.

BUILDING A BROTHERHOOD

"Iron sharpens iron, and one man sharpens another" (Proverbs 27:17). Through shared experience and small group discussion, men build a brotherhood through Into the Breach, strengthening them in their mission as disciples.

YOU'RE INVITED

The Men's Club invites all guys (18+) to join us as we watch and discuss Into the Breach. Through small group discussions, we'll learn how to be stronger fathers, better husbands and men fit for the breach.

MONDAYS, MARCH 7TH
THROUGH APRIL 11TH

6:00 - 7:00 PM

IN THE MAIN SPACE OF THE COMMUNITY CENTER

If you want more information, please contact Tom Melton at 702-510-5481

Inspired by the Apostolic Exhortation for Catholic men written by Bishop Olmsted of Phoenix, the Knights of Columbus produced a video series which seeks to answer the question of what it means to be a man and how to live as a man in today's world.

A special Synod

WHERE IS THE HOLY SPIRIT LEADING THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH IN THE FUTURE?

We, now, offer you an opportunity to participate in the world-wide Synod of Bishops, called by Pope Francis, to be held in Rome in 2023. In preparation for that gathering, he invites every Catholic in the world to engage in a process of mutual listening and hearing. By listening to one another and hearing the voices of all God's people, it is our Holy Father's hope that we can together discern what the Holy Spirit is saying to the Church today and where the Holy Spirit is leading the Church in the future.
