Fr. Wojciech's Corner

We are exactly in the middle of Advent. As we get closer and closer... to Christmas, please take time to see well the schedule of Advent Confessions, so that our souls may be ready to welcome the Lord. Please see the schedule of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day Masses. This year Christmas falls on a Saturday, and on Sunday, December 26, we will celebrate the Feast of the Holy Family.

Next Sunday we will welcome again among us the Bethlehem Handicrafts. Details in the next column

This week the great Novena of Christmas begins on December 17. The readings that until now were pointing to the Second Coming of Christ in glory at the end of time, will now shift to His first coming in humility, where or when His glory was veiled. May our last preparations help us to see in this veiled baby a real God who comes amongst us.

today Bambinelli Sunday

"Bambinelli", plural for the word "bambinello", refers to the "Baby Jesus" in a Nativity scene. The Bambinelli Blessing is a thirty year old tradition that was started in Rome at the Vatican. Today every family brings their "Baby Jesus" from their Nativity Scene to receive a blessing from the Pope at the Angelus.

The Bambinelli Blessing at OLV's 10:45AM Family Mass in the Gym this Sunday will incite us to experience God's true joy and love that comes to us from the infant Jesus. Come and rejoice in God's love for you in this new Advent celebration with your parish family.

DID YOU KNOW?

Our Lady of Guadalupe (Feast Day December 12—today) is the only apparition in which Mary appears well along in her pregnancy. That's why she is called THE GREAT EMPRESS OF AMERICAS and Patroness of the Pro-Life Movement and Protectress of the Unborn. Our Lady of Guadalupe appeared in Mexico as the pregnant Mother of God to Blessed Juan Diego, an Aztec Indian, on December 9, 10, and 12, 1531. She left a Miraculous Image of her appearance on his cactus fiber cloak, or "tilma", which still exists today for all to see in the Basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe in Mexico City. CONFESSION'S POWER

Charles de Faucauld (now already Blessed) came into the confessional and said through the confessional screen: Father, I do not have Faith, please give me some advice. He heard from the other side a voice: Please kneel, confess your sins to God and you will believe. But I did not come for that, responded Charles. Please, confess, insisted firmly the priest. Charles knelt and allowed his heart to speak ...

John the BEST MAN for our WEDDING

John was what we would today describe as the "best man" at the wedding, not the bridegroom. In the 1st Century the role of the "best man" was a little more involved. He was known as the "shoshben." The shoshben had a prominent place in a Jewish wedding. He was the liaison between the bride and the bridegroom. He was instrumental in the arranging of the wedding and inviting people to the wedding. He brought the bride and the bridegroom together and guarded the bridal chamber making sure no others came in. And once his jobs were done, he willingly and graciously faded from the picture. He had a prominent place, but he was not center stage. John the Baptist sees himself as in this role.

"Maybe Christmas.....

.....means a little bit more?"

"And the Grinch, with his Grinch-feet ice-cold in the snow
Stood puzzling and puzzling, 'How could it be so?

'It came without ribbons! It came without tags!

'It came without packages, boxes or bags!

And he puzzled three hours, 'till his puzzler was sore.

Then the Grinch thought of something he hadn't before!

'Maybe Christmas,' he thought, 'doesn't come from a store.

'Maybe Christmas ... perhaps ... means a little bit more!'"

Prayer for the Safety of Soldiers

Almighty and eternal God, those who take refuge in You will be glad and forever will shout for joy. Protect these soldiers as they discharge their duties. Spiritual Communion composed by Cardinal Rafael Merry del Val

As I cannot this day enjoy the happiness of assisting at the holy Mysteries, O my God! I transport myself in spirit at the foot of Thine altar; I unite with the Church, which by the hands of the priest, offers Thee Thine adorable Son in the Holy Sacrifice; I offer myself with Him, by Him, and in His Name. I adore, I praise, and thank Thee, imploring Thy mercy, invoking Thine assistance, and presenting Thee the homage I owe Thee as my Creator, the love due to Thee as my Savior.

Apply to my soul, I beseech Thee, O merciful Jesus, Thine infinite merits; apply them also to those for whom I particularly wish to pray. I desire to communicate spiritually, that Thy Blood may purify, Thy Flesh strengthen, and Thy Spirit sanctify me. May I never forget that Thou, my divine Redeemer, hast died for me; may I die to all that is not Thee, that hereafter I may live eternally with Thee. Amen.

FRIDAYS outside Lent

The Fridays of the year, outside of Lent, are designated as days of Penance. Each individual should abstain from meat or may substitute some other practice of voluntary self-denial as penance.

REQUIREMENTS for GODPARENTS

Godparents play a very important role in your child's spiritual life as role models of the faith. They should support not only the child, but the parents as well. Additionally, in their role as godparent, they represent the larger Church community and this is a tremendous responsibility. The Church has provided guidelines to help parents choose the best possible godparents for their children in recognizing the importance of the godparent and their duties:

Godparent/Sponsor must be at least 16 years old.

Godparent/Sponsor must be in good standing with the Catholic Church. Must be a practicing Catholic (Attend Sunday Mass weekly).

Must have received the Sacraments of Baptism, Communion, and Confirmation. If married, must be married in the Catholic Church. If single, not living with significant other, nor married civilly only.

Godparent/Sponsor cannot be the candidate's parent. Each child only requires one Godparent. If you wish to have two Godparents, there must be one female and one male. (Canon Law 872-874)

Christmas Greens

Holly and Mistletoe or other Evergreens have been used to decorate for thousands of years in many cultures. Evergreens are symbols of enduring life since they stay “alive” all winter when most plants wither and die. Some believed evergreens had magical power due to their constant greenness. Homes were decorated with evergreens in the hope of enticing the spirits of the woods inside to bring good luck in the coming year. They were twisted into a circle, symbol of eternity, and suspended from ceilings after being attached to wagon wheels, brought inside to protect them from the winter elements. Candles were often added to give light to the room – and presto: Advent wreaths were born! Some consider holly “masculine” since it uses its thorns to protect itself, as men use weapons to protect themselves; ivy is “feminine” since it entwines or embraces whatever it is near. Since mistletoe was thought to bring good luck and fertility, the Scandinavians began the custom of “kissing under the mistletoe.” In Norse mythology, an evil spirit formed an arrow from mistletoe and killed Baldur, the god of innocence, beauty, joy, purity, and peace. As his mother wept, her tears became the white berries of the mistletoe – and his life was restored! In thanks, his mother, Frigga, the goddess of love and beauty, is said to kiss anyone who passes under mistletoe. Even enemies would call a truce when they met underneath it.

THE BEGGAR'S RAGS

A beggar lived near the king's palace. One day he saw a proclamation posted outside the palace gate. The king was giving a great dinner. Anyone dressed in royal garments was invited to the party. The beggar went on his way. He looked at the rags he was wearing and sighed. Surely only kings and their families wore royal robes, he thought. Slowly an idea crept into his mind. The audacity of it made him tremble. Would he dare? He made his way back to the palace. He approached the guard at the gate. "Please, sire, I would like to speak to the king." "Wait here," the guard replied. In a few minutes, he was back. "His majesty will see you," he said, and led the beggar in. "You wish to see me?" asked the king. "Yes, your majesty. I want so much to attend the banquet, but I have no royal robes to wear. Please, sir, if I may be so bold, may I have one of your old garments so that I, too, may come to the banquet?" The beggar shook so hard that he could not see the faint smile that was on the king's face. "You have been wise in coming to me," the king said. He called to his son, the young prince. "Take this man to your room and array him in some of your clothes." The prince did as he was told and soon the beggar was standing before a mirror, clothed in garments that he had never dared hope for. "You are now eligible to attend the king's banquet tomorrow night," said the prince. "But even more important, you will never need any other clothes. These garments will last forever." The beggar dropped to his knees. "Oh, thank you," he cried. But as he started to leave, he looked back at his pile of dirty rags on the floor. He hesitated. What if the prince was wrong? What if he would need his old clothes again. Quickly he gathered them up. The banquet was far greater than he had ever imagined, but he could not enjoy himself as he should. He had made a small bundle of his old rags and it kept falling off his lap. The food was passed quickly and the beggar missed some of the greatest delicacies. Time proved that the prince was right. The clothes lasted forever. Still the poor beggar grew fonder and fonder of his old rags. As time passed people seemed to forget the royal robes he was wearing. They saw only the little bundle of filthy rags that he clung to wherever he went. They even spoke of him as the old man with the rags. One day as he lay dying, the king visited him. The beggar saw the sad look on the king's face when he looked at the small bundle of rags by the bed. Suddenly the beggar remembered the prince's words, and he realized that his bundle of rags had cost him a lifetime of true royalty. He wept bitterly at his folly. And the king wept with him.

GAUDETE SUNDAY

Today is Gaudete Sunday – Rejoicing Sunday -"rejoice"- because the Entrance Antiphon of Holy Mass takes up St Paul's words in the Letter to the Philippians where it says: "Rejoice in the Lord always; again, I will say, Rejoice". Today we light the rose candle on the Advent Wreath as we rejoice in the Lord's coming.

why ROSE today?

The season of Advent originated as a fast of forty days in preparation for Christmas, commencing on the day after the feast of St. Martin (November 12).

St. Gregory the Great was the first to draw up an Office for the Advent season, and the Gregorian Sacramentary is the earliest to provide Masses for the Sundays of Advent. In both Office and Mass, provision is made for five Sundays, but by the tenth century four was the usual number, though some churches of France observed five as late as the thirteenth century.

Notwithstanding all these modifications, however, Advent still preserved most of the characteristics of a penitential season which made it a kind of counterpart to Lent, the middle (or third) Sunday corresponding with Laetare or Mid-Lent Sunday. On it, as on Laetare Sunday, the organ and flowers, forbidden during the rest of the season, were permitted to be used; rose-colored vestments were allowed instead of purple (or black, as formerly). Gaudete Sunday, therefore, makes a breaker like Laetare Sunday, about midway through a season which is otherwise of a penitential character, and signifies the nearness of the Lord's

A farmer whose crops were more plentiful than those of his neighbors, on being asked how this happened with such unvarying regularity, said he was not surprised because He Always Had

The Kind of Weather He Wanted.

He was asked to explain. He said: "It is so because I want whatever kind of weather God wants, and because I do, He gives me the harvests I want." If souls resigned to God's will are humiliated, says Salvian, they want to be humiliated; if they are poor, they want to be poor; in short, whatever happens is acceptable to them, hence they are truly at peace in this life. In cold and heat, in rain and wind, the soul united to God says: "I want it to be warm, to be cold, windy, to rain, because God wills it."

Silence of St. Joseph

Joseph's silence in the Gospel, does not demonstrate an empty interior, but rather the fullness of faith that he carries in his heart. Let's allow ourselves to be 'infected' by the silence of St. Joseph!

Silence is so lacking in this world which is often too noisy, which is not favorable to recollection and listening to the voice of God. In this time of preparation for Christmas, let us cultivate interior recollection so as to receive and keep Jesus in our lives."

THE "O ANTIPHONS" OF ADVENT

The Roman Church has been singing the "O" Antiphons since at least the eighth century. They are the antiphons that accompany the Magnificat canticle of Evening Prayer from December 17-23. Since the Second Vatican Council, they have also been adapted (slightly reworded and rearranged) for the "Alleluia Verse" of the Mass (the short scriptural text or paraphrase that immediately precedes the Gospel reading). Each Antiphon invokes the coming of the Messiah, beginning with a biblical title and closing with a specific petition. They are a magnificent theology that uses ancient biblical imagery drawn from the messianic hopes of the Old Testament to proclaim the coming Christ as the fulfillment not only of Old Testament hopes, but present ones as well. Their repeated use of the imperative "Come!" embodies the longing of all for the Divine Messiah.

CLOWN'S Gift for Christmas

There is an old story about a weary, way-worn juggler who performs his very last act before a statue of the Virgin Mother and Child in a dark church on Christmas Eve. This playful gift of flying colored balls was a gift of delight offered to the Monarchs of Heaven, and one blessed by a miracle when the image of the Child catches the last falling ball even as the clown falls to the floor in death - his soul in the hand of God.
