Our Names Matter

It doesn't happen very often on a Sunday, but this year it does. Today, with the Church around the world, we celebrate the birthday of John the Baptist.

Ordinarily, we celebrate the day when a saint dies because it marks their birthday into eternal life. But John the Baptist has always had a special place because Luke gives us the details around his birth which, of course, precedes Jesus'. John prepares us so that we're ready for Christ to enter into our lives. John's birth reminds us Christmas is coming.

In the gospel today, it's Zechariah who gives John his name and insists on it even though family members try to name him something else. It's a dramatic moment, because Zechariah couldn't speak at the time. Gabriel, the archangel, had taken away his voice when he gave him the good news in the Temple that his wife Elizabeth was going to have a baby. Zechariah hesitated in accepting the news, and so he lost his voice...until the day, 9 months later, when he officially "announced" (by writing on a tablet) that John would be the baby's name. Then he could speak again. And the first thing he did was pray to God, giving him thanks for his son and the work God was giving his son to do for the world.

It's a powerful story. But, in many ways it tells us how important our names really are because they identify a person and a purpose.

We truly believe God knows us from the time of our conception—just as God knew John from the beginning of his life. We're not just a coincidence, but each of our lives have value, meaning, and dignity. And all of us are given the opportunity and desire to contribute to this world through our participation in family life, in community life, in parish life, in the life of society and in the ways we're uniquely meant to give of ourselves. We're not meant to be held back, or to hold ourselves back, but to live fully.

Our names become our identity and give us that dignity. They reveal our ability to participate and to respond to our God who gives us everything, especially our lives. It leads to gratitude for who we are, and for the One who loves us into being, saving us for a life with Him that is never meant to end.

Priesthood Convocation: What's That About?

This past week, Cardinal Cupich hosted all the priests of the Archdiocese for a convocation. It wasn't a convention, but really a gathering. It was a time to pray together, to be inspired on how to minister and pastor more effectively, to socialize and get to know our brother priests better, to do a health check, to hear how the Cardinal envisions us to work with him to meet the needs of our local Church, and to be reminded once again that as priests it's never "my priesthood" but the one priesthood of Jesus Christ in which we share. It was great to see Fr. Rizzo there, along with some of the other priests who have ministered here at St. Hubert over the years and have been with us on the weekends. I was blessed to be a part of it and strengthened in the ministry I am entrusted to do. I do all through Christ for you.

May God continue to bless us and lead us,

—Fr. Mike

Consider how much you and John the Baptist are alike. God assigned John's vocation to him at his birth and gave him his name while he was still in his mother's womb. The Lord did the same with you! At your conception, even before you looked human and had a beating heart and a brain that could think, he named you as his precious child.

God gifted John with a sharp-edged sword, i.e., the ability to speak the truth (the sword of the Spirit), which cuts through the lies and deceptions of evil. He gave you the same gift during your baptism when you received the Holy Spirit.

God concealed John in the shadow of his arm, i.e., he protected him. No matter how difficult your life has been, and no matter how often you strayed from the Lord, you still belong to him. He is holding onto you.

The verses of the responsorial Psalm confirm this: You are wonderfully made! Since the moment of your conception, your life has been precious and important.

As it was with John, God is your strength. And like John, what you think you can do is "too little" compared to what he knows you can do. He has a more important use for your gifts and talents and experiences and training. He wants to make his light shine through you! His salvation will reach others as long as you're willing to serve him.

What our Gospel reading today tells us of John is true of you also: You are God's child, growing and becoming strong in spirit. You have experienced the desert of hardships and training. Everything that has happened to you can become valuable and useful when you let God send you forth in service for his kingdom.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. Using Isaiah 49:1-6, how do the words reflect your own life?
2. What is most surprising to you? Why? Do you see yourself as less useful to the kingdom of God than he sees you?
3. God has wonderfully made you and each member of your family or group. Tell each other at least one thing that is evidence that God made a masterpiece when he created him/her.
4. How is this useful to God?

Even though you sometimes toil in vain and your efforts to do God's work seem worthless, as if you've uselessly spent your strength, like John, your reward is with the Lord. He will reward you generously.

No matter how ugly you think you are, no matter if you are too short or too tall or diseased or malformed by a birth defect, you look glorious to the Lord, your Creator.

Each age has its own way of defining the word prophet. Today the common notion, particularly within church circles, seems to be that a prophet is someone who challenges the institutional status quo, someone who shakes things up. As such, he or she is almost automatically conceived of as an agitator, as someone who makes others uncomfortable.

There is some truth to this notion, but it is, taken without qualification, simplistic. As a contemporary axiom puts it: Every prophet disturbs, but not everyone who disturbs is a prophet. Prophecy takes many forms, some of which far more subtle, and sometimes more needed, than is the common notion of the prophet as an agitator.

I want here to suggest a prophetic ministry that is desperately needed in both the world and the church today, namely, we need persons, prophets, who have wide enough loyalties, deep enough hearts, and extensive enough sympathies to help hold together a community that is dangerously fragmented. In both the world and in the church today the sincere are divided from the sincere, the good from the good, the committed from the committed. Everywhere we see anger, hatred, bitterness, people blaming others, people frustrated and stepping away from communities they used to take part in, and people with highly selective loyalties, sympathies, and indignations. Daily, the world and the church are further polarizing.

What we are losing in all of this is community. The radical edge of both the right and the left are fragmenting the middle in such a way that, simply put, the world and the church are falling apart. Because of this there is a growing hysteria in both the right and the left and this is helping to justify a lot of things in the name of prophecy which are antithetical to it. Elementary charity, respect for others, and simple good manners are frequently by-passed in the name of higher causes. Ever narrower agendas and ever more selective ideologies get paraded as the answer to everything and anyone, be he or she ever so narrow and intolerant, can get status as a prophet, as long as that person can display sufficient anger and indignation about something. At the end of the day, the net result of this is that more and more people get alienated from each other and our communities and families are falling apart.

Prophecy is about genuine moral indignation and this takes many forms. Today we need to be morally indignant precisely about all of this angry, cancerous indignation which is so destructive of community. The task of prophecy today is to absorb division. To be a prophet today, in the church or in the world, is to let your person and your loyalties be wide enough so that they can be that place wherein all the different sides can meet, where the various indignations can spend themselves, like the storms they are, and where liberal and conservative, feminist and bishop, pro-life and pro-choice, victim and perpetrator, legalist and nihilist, puritan and liberated, socially concerned and privately obsessed can be at one table sat down. The task of the prophet today is keep incarnate the wide, all-embracing heart of God, a heart that has many rooms.

This will be a very lonely and painful vocation. In it, one will feel the earthly helplessness of the word of God, that powerlessness that comes from refusing to violate the widest and deepest contours of things. To be this kind of prophet is to sweat blood in the garden and to be powerless, defenseless, and silent before those who sit in the judgment seats of both the left and the right.

It will be a vocation within which one will, frequently, be hated by both sides, judged to be too liberal by some and too conservative by others. To be this kind of prophet is to be called wishy-washy, backward, puritanical, unbalanced, lacking in commitment to justice, sloppy in orthodoxy, judgmental, sold out, morally bankrupt.

And with that, will come an unspeakable loneliness, namely, the loneliness of true conscience, of moral isolation, of being divided from and judged by sincere persons. But that pain is the price of genuine prophecy, the price of absorbing division within a community.

Prophets, we are told, die somewhere between the altar and the sanctuary. Some of them die because they are agitators and speak out against the system. Others die because they get caught, as buffers, in the violence that follows upon that – and faith and community go on because of the blood of all of those martyrs.

Teachers and Aides Needed!

Why Be a Catechist or a Catechist's Aide?

- The best way to learn is to teach.
- Your own faith will come alive.
- You become an active participant in one of the essential responsibilities of a Church community.
- You assist in bringing Christ to others.
- You practice stewardship.
- You show your own family that you value the Faith.
- You become a role model.
- Being a Catechist brings joy.
- You make a difference in the lives of our young people.

The success of the Faith Formation of our children is due to the generosity & dedication of volunteers. These volunteers, who become Catechists and classroom aides, share their faith while teaching the youth of our parish and help them grow in the Faith. We are in need of volunteers for the upcoming 2018-2019 year, which begins in September. We will provide you with the training, tools, and support to assist you in this Ministry. Classes are on Wednesdays 4:00-5:45 PM and Sundays 7:20 – 9:00 PM. Contact Mike Keenan for more information at mkeenan@sainthubert.org or 847-885-7703.

Children's Ministry of Initiation CMI

The Catechumenate for Children/Teens, which is an Adaptation of the Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (R.C.I.A.), is the process by which unbaptized young people of the age of reason come into the Church. (Infant Baptism is only for those children under the age of reason.) Older children who are already baptized, but who are uncatechized, also can prepare to celebrate the sacraments of Confirmation and Holy Eucharist together with their peers during the Easter Vigil or at a Rite of Full Communion.

The following is the criteria for attendance in CMI:

- Unbaptized children over the age of 7 who wish to learn more about the Catholic Faith and possibly become Catholic.
- Baptized Christian children from other denominations who would like to learn more about the Catholic Faith, and possibly be received into the Catholic Church.
- Baptized Catholics who would like to prepare for Eucharist and Confirmation by renewing their understanding of their Catholic Faith.

Catholic Charities New Hope Apartments: A Transitional Housing Program
for Homeless Families
May 2018 Update

Family #30

Our family consists of a 23 year old mom and her two sons, ages 4 and 2. She became homeless due low income status.

Our mom's father passed away from a heart attack. He was a veteran and was buried in a veteran's cemetery in Springfield. She said they had a rocky relationship early on, but recently the relationship began to soften and things were getting better between them. She's very sad that they will not be able to continue building their relationship. She also found out that her mother has a hole in her heart, so she is quite concerned about her health. Adding to the misfortunes, she recently experienced online theft from her savings account, which has set her back a bit.

On a brighter note she passed her GED exam and now has a high school diploma. She continues working at her current job. This month was tough for her, but she is determined to work toward her goals and keep a positive attitude.

Goals:

- Save up at least 3 month's rent/saving IRS tax refund.
- Obtain her GED.
- Apply for low income housing.
- Obtain her driver's license by paying off outstanding debts.

Family #31

This family consists of a 24 year old female and her two sons, ages 7 and 5. She became homeless due to emotional abuse from her ex and his family, with whom they lived.

Our mom is doing great! She still does not have a car, but is waiting for the repairs to be completed. Unfortunately, the repair costs will deplete her savings. She has officially accepted the Manager Position at the restaurant. Eventually she will be managing the store in Vernon Hills and is so excited about her added job responsibilities. In spite of her car problem, she is quite pleased with her raise and looking forward to her future. Her children are doing well and she has enrolled them in summer camp.

Goals:

- Save up at least 3 month's rent/saving IRS tax refund.
- Attend work and school as scheduled.
- Apply for low income housing.

New Hope sends sincere gratitude to the parishioners of the Peace and Justice Cluster! We are grateful to have your continuous support over the years. Thank you so much!

Sponsors are needed for RCIA!

What is a Sponsor? A sponsor is an active Catholic that is willing to be a companion to someone going through the RCIA process. As they get acquainted, they listen, answer questions, pray together, and connect them with the parish. Sponsors find their role to be one that enriches and deepens their own faith life as well. It is a very rewarding experience. Sponsors are not meant to have all the answers. Their main role is to be a friend and a companion on the journey.

If you are interested in more information or in becoming a sponsor companion, please contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700. ext. 124 or mstaffa@sainthubert.org

It's your responsibility!

It is said that St. Francis of Assisi once commented to his friars, "Go and preach, using words if you must." That same challenge is given to each one of us by virtue of our baptism. We are called to be witnesses of our faith and to share who God is in our lives with others. Whether we are aware of it or not, the way we live our lives and the way we give ourselves to others speaks volumes to those who come into contact with us.

Perhaps someone you know has shared with you how you have touched their life, or how they can tell that God is important to you. Perhaps some of these people have experienced an interest in learning more about your faith.

Perhaps you would be interested in sharing more with others as a sponsor in the RCIA process.

The RCIA offers participants the opportunity to reflect on the scriptures and discover how those scriptures apply to their lives; to look at the teachings of the Church; and to grow in faith through prayer and community. If you know someone who might be interested in this process, please have them call Marie Staffa for an initial conversation. We also ask you to keep these individuals in your prayers. The encouragement and prayer of the faith community is one of the greatest supports they can have! Call Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

When I Call for Help: A Pastoral Response to Domestic Violence...

Excerpts from the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops 1992, 2002

"As pastors of the Catholic Church in the United States, we state as clearly and strongly as we can that violence against women, inside or outside the home, is never justified. Violence in any form '---physical, sexual, psychological or verbal' ---is sinful; often, it is a crime as well. We have called for a moral revolution to replace a culture of violence. We acknowledge that violence has many forms, many causes, and many victims---men as well as women. (1)

The Catholic Church teaches that violence against another person in any form fails to treat that person as someone worthy of love. Instead, it treats the person as an object to be used. When violence occurs within a sacramental marriage, the abused spouse may question, "How do these violent acts relate to my promise to take my spouse for better or for worse?" The person being assaulted needs to know that acting to end the abuse does not violate the marriage promises. (2)

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops condemns the use of the Bible to support abusive behavior in any form. A correct reading of Scripture leads people to an understanding of the equal dignity of men and women to relationships based on mutuality and love. They clearly emphasize that no person is expected to stay in an abusive marriage. Violence and abuse, not divorce, can break up a marriage." (3)
