A Summer Retreat (without Retreating!)

Every three years, the Church gives us an excellent opportunity for spiritual reflection and prayer. The Church has us focus on one of our greatest gifts: the gift of the Eucharist. Over a five-week period—which actually began last Sunday with the passage about the multiplication of the loaves and fishes—we will journey through chapter six of John's gospel.

This is a spiritual journey into one of Jesus' great revelations about our relationship with him. Scholars call it "The Bread of Life Discourse" because Jesus makes the case that his own body—his very self—is the bread we need to sustain us in life. As we go further and further into the chapter, Jesus will tell us "Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me and I in him." (John 6:56) Jesus gives us the Eucharist to be with us—as intimately as possible—in all we go through in life. It is a gift, the greatest gift we have as Catholics in our everyday world and everyday lives.

Jesus' argument for this will build over the course of the next four Sundays (including today). We will hear him make the case for wanting to share everything with us—including his own life. And maybe that's what can make for a great spiritual retreat—without retreating anywhere except into our own hearts.

If you're ready to go a bit deeper, ready for something to contemplate about God and God's interaction with your own life, think about taking some time each of the next few Sundays—before Mass, during Mass, after Mass, or some quiet time at home—to take in Jesus' invitation to share our lives with him. In each of the next few weeks, Jesus gives us something to contemplate, discover and be inspired by little by little.

In the end, as a whole, the Bread of Life Discourse is revealing something pretty amazing: Each of our own lives matters very much to Jesus—enough for him to want to remain with us and for us to remain with him. We're meant to go through life together.

Life in the Parish

- Our 2020 Vision. Next Sunday, we'll be launching our capital campaign that we are calling our 2020 Vision. Check your mailbox this week for a letter introducing the campaign and for some background information. This campaign identifies the needs that will help our parish keep doing the good things we do as we head into the 2020's.
- Vision Focused. In addition to our capital needs, our St. Hubert Parish staff spent a day away on retreat to establish goals for ministry, also focused on heading into the 2020's. We're blessed with such a capable and caring team who are good shepherds looking out for all of us.

It's hard to believe it's August. We hope to see you at the Sharing Parish Picnic on August 11th. It will be a nice opportunity to meet the community that we support in so many ways.

May God continue to bless you and lead you in all you do,

--Fr. Mike

In the Gospel reading, Jesus says: "Do not work for food that perishes but for the food that endures for eternal life." In other words: In your daily life, work hard to obtain whatever will nourish your soul and sustain you past death into eternity.

Jesus says: "The work God wants you to do is to believe in the one he sent." Why does he call this "work"?

To fully believe, we must work at getting rid of every doubt and distrust that interferes with our belief in Christ, our trust in his words (including what he inspired in the official teachings of the Church), and our willingness to conform to his way of life.

This work requires (1) identifying our vulnerabilities that make us doubt and distrust, (2) uncovering what we're afraid will happen if we do trust, and (3) overcoming that fear by gaining a better understanding of the truth. Any fear that interferes with our holiness is always based on something untrue.

Jesus says: "The bread of God, which nourishes your soul, is that which comes down from heaven and gives life." He's referring to his presence in the Eucharist, the bread that he provides in every Mass. What work do you need to do so that you can be nourished more fully by the Eucharist? Is there something that's stopping you from receiving the Eucharist? Work hard to remedy that obstacle! It will make a difference to your eternal soul. If you're sincere about uniting yourself to Christ, he will make possible whatever is needed to clear the way.

Because the Eucharist is Jesus, it can heal us, purify us, and help us become more like Christ himself. However, it takes conscious effort to fully embrace this opportunity. Why would we want to be lazy about that? The benefits of hard work in our faith life will endure for eternity.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. What raises doubts in your mind about Christ's presence and power in your daily life?
2. What in your relationship with Jesus needs more work so that your belief in him will give you confident hope that he is guiding you to heaven?
3. How has the Eucharist helped you on your journey to heaven? How has it changed you, purified you?
4. Is it possible that Christ's true presence in the Eucharist can also help those who are unable to receive communion? How so?

Have you ever had the experience of being touched very deeply by something that left you, in its wake, strangely inarticulate?

The experience is profound – it moves you, frightens you, teaches you, changes you and you know it is doing you good – but you are left stunned, wondering how to respond.

I feel that way now, sitting in this, the hugest, dirtiest, most congested and poorest city I have ever been in: Cairo, Egypt.

I remember my naïve enthusiasm in coming here. The quick, smug, letters to friends: “I want to go and rub shoulders with the poor, see the Third World, taste its dirt, its over crowdedness, its inhumanness.

“I want to see poverty, first-hand, let it jar me into making a deeper response. A response to what? I don’t know. I just know that I need to see that kind of poverty for myself!”

I am seeing it now and the experience is more than I want it to be: 12 million persons, all living in an area capable of giving even minimally adequate space, water, sanitation and human living conditions to only one-quarter of that number!

It is a megalopolis of dirt, noise, lack of privacy, over crowdedness, smell and poverty. For a Westerner, like myself, it is overpowering.

Superficially, it is overpowering because I am unable to find for myself the sanitary food, the clean air and water, the space, and the privacy and quietness I am used to.

More seriously, it is overpowering because, while it is ripping open inside of me very serious questions about the validity of my own lifestyle and my normal concerns (and Western affluence in general), it is leaving me powerless to respond in any truly useful way.

Perhaps what I am feeling is what is so generally felt in the face of the disturbing fact of social injustice and poverty. It is real. We know that we should be doing more, sharing more. But what?

Everything seems so huge, so hopeless, so beyond us! We are locked into a huge system, more powerful than ourselves. So are the poor. Our efforts to help seem puny and impotent.

Moreover, we have our own limitations and problems, deep, painful poverties of our own which seemingly already demand more energy than we have. There is in our lives, already, more than enough malnourishment and dirt with which to contend.

It is an overpowering helplessness that I feel here. I look at the magnitude of the problems and I am depressed. I look at my own abilities (and inabilities) to respond... and I am further depressed.

What can I do? I can come and look. I can, as I have already done, stay in a poorer section of Cairo. I can walk through Cairo’s worst slum, the “Red Alley,” Darb el Ahmar, (where few tourists venture).

I can ride the city buses, look at faces, talk to some people. I can spend some time talking and working with Sister Emmanuelle, among Cairo’s very poorest, sitting on a dirt floor teaching Arab kids (crawling with fleas) kindergarten.

I can help hold a young girl of five as the doctor disinfects her wounded foot and be moved with pity and compassion. But... in the end, I am playing a game and I know it. Even my looking has a safe antiseptic distance to it. Yet, I am not sure what, barring prayer, I can do.

I do not have the charism of a Mother Teresa, a Sister Emmanuelle (see Time, Dec. 27, 1982), nor a Sister Kathleen (who works with Sister Emmanuelle in Cairo). I can’t drink the water, eat the food, speak the language, nor, in fact, even offer proper empathy and support to those who have the charisms for the front lines.

In the end, I am helplessly distanced.

What can I do? I am a priest and teacher. Turn my theology classroom into a social justice seminar? Preach on social justice more often? Perhaps. But is that an answer?

And what of the very real problems within our own society? Are our pains less real? Less urgent? Does social injustice in the Third World bring about more pain and death than psychological, emotional, and spiritual injustice in the First World? What types of dirt and malnourishment dehumanize more?

I have seen the worst slums of Cairo, but I have also seen the seamiest sides of San Francisco, New York, London, Amsterdam, and Frankfurt. Which is worse and which would I choose to live in? I am not sure!

Right now I am only sure of being deeply unsure. Veni, vidi, non-vici! The riddles grows thicker, the glass darkens, the exile is further from home!

I am here with two friends. Occasionally, when the noise, dirt, and lack of space seem a bit overpowering, one of us asks the others: “What are we doing here?”

I suspect the answer will be slow in coming. The transfiguration of Christ always stuns those who witness it. However, like the earliest followers of Christ sensed when their normal perception of Christ was transformed, “It is good that we are here!”

Sponsor Ministry for RCIA

Parishioners are needed to sponsor adults inquiring into the faith and preparing to come into full communion with the Church. A sponsor is not required to have a degree in theology, but rather a listening, active, and open heart. Time and again, past sponsors have experienced the privilege of being part of someone's spiritual journey into the Church. They have found that one of the hidden treasures in this ministry is the spiritual riches that they receive along the way.

If you are interested in more information or in becoming a sponsor companion, please call Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.
