PASTOR'S LETTER

He Was Hungry

As we journey into Lent, each year on the first Sunday, the Church has us focus on the ways the devil tempted Jesus in the desert. This year, we hear the account from the Gospel of Luke.

It's an important beginning, because temptation is something that's going to hit us all through Lent. On Ash Wednesday, a lot of times we head into these 40 days with great enthusiasm and, in the spiritual writer Matthew Kelly's words, to make this "The Best Lent Ever."

We have our goals for prayer and how we'll really try to grow closer to Christ. We have a plan for what we're going to give up—whether it's something pleasurable we enjoy and want to sacrifice, or whether it's a bad habit we're working on. We have an idea of what we're going to do to give alms and help the less fortunate, like participating in our parish's annual Operation Rice Bowl program. (Take some time to visit the display in the narthex to find out how to help the poor in third world countries.)

But as Lent progresses, the temptations come to us. We get the thoughts that we maybe we don't have as much time for prayer as we thought. Or, even though we gave up coffee for Lent, we're beginning to dream about Starbucks or Dunkin Donuts. And even though we see the enormous value in reaching out to the poor or to help the needs of the parish, we suddenly realize we could really use that money toward some other goals we've prioritized.

So this focus on battling temptations comes at an important time. The message of the gospel today, is that with some self-control, we can do it. We can overcome it. Jesus' temptations of course went to the core of his own identity as the Son of God. They were temptations to abandon trust in God and to follow the human tendency to be fully self-focused.

Luke tells us the devil tempted him after 40 days of fasting, when Jesus was hungry, meaning when he was at his weakest. But in his hunger, Jesus clung to God's words that gave him strength.

That's what we can do, too. Our Lenten symbol this year is a wooden cross—a sign of Jesus' great love for us that opened our way to God our Father and a life with him that is meant to last forever. It's something we have to hold onto, to cling to, so that when the temptations come, we can grab the cross and remind ourselves that our strength comes from Christ. When we hold onto Christ, our lives begin to change. The temptation to turn from Christ, becomes a desire instead to go toward Him.

May God be with us as we journey toward the cross together and to Easter,

--Fr. Mike

If you ever had a desire in your heart to be a Eucharistic Minister, it's probably not just a whim, but an urging from the Holy Spirit to do something very meaningful for all of us in our community. Eucharistic Ministers bring the Body and Blood of Christ to us during our Masses every Sunday. Those who enter into this ministry will tell you it's an incredible experience of the power of giving.

Believe it or not, every weekend it takes 72 ministers to bring the sacramental presence of Christ to all of us gathered together.

If you'd like to learn more about this ministry and feel that this is something you would like to participate in, join us for a training here at St. Hubert. There are two sessions to choose from:

Jesus' life is our life if we're sincere about our faith. We unite ourselves to him by receiving his body and blood in the Eucharist. We meet him in the scriptures and walk with him on the path to heaven.

During Lent, the readings help us with this journey if we listen with an ear that recognizes our personal connections to Christ.

This Sunday, we journey with Jesus into the desert. Consider your own struggles with temptation; reflect on how sin makes your life feel barren and dry like a desert.

By walking with Jesus, we unite ourselves to his victory over the devil. In our efforts to remain united to him, we reject Satan and choose holiness. The Church helps us by giving us ways to improve our self-discipline: fasting and abstinence, alms-giving, reconciliation services, faith formation events, reading materials, and more.

Every meal and meat that we give up for Lent, every sin that we confess in the Sacrament of Reconciliation, every sacrifice of time that we make to add more prayer and spiritual reading to our daily life, and every other Lenten activity is a practice of self-denial that unites us to Jesus in the desert.

Jesus fasted from food and other physical comforts during his battle with the devil, and this strategy strengthened him and prepared him for the ministry that came afterward. This is what Lent should be for us, too.

Satan is not someone to fear. Jesus already defeated all demons on our behalf, first in the desert and then on the cross. Our battle is really only against temptation and our personal weaknesses that make us vulnerable to succumbing to sin.

We don't always want to follow Jesus. This is what we must surrender to God during Lent. Then Easter will be far more meaningful, because we will emerge from Lent much stronger in our faith.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. How have you been succumbing to temptation? Don't be afraid to face it. Guilt is not what Jesus wants from you. What he does want is your desire to receive his help in overcoming temptation. He's waiting for you in the Sacrament of Reconciliation.
2. How do you know that the Sacrament of Reconciliation really works?
3. How is it more than just a confession of your sins?
4. How has it helped you grow stronger in faith?

Cosmologists today tell us that the universe has no single center. Its center is everywhere, every place, every planet, every city, every species, and every person. But we already know this.

Faith tells us that what ultimately defines us and gives us our identity and energy is the image and likeness of God in us. We are God's blessed ones, masters of creation, special to God and special within creation.

And we know this long before religion tells it. Deep down, whether we admit it or not, we each nurse the secret of being special. And this is not just ego or narcissism but a congenital imprint inside our very souls. Imprinted in the core of our being is the sense that we are not just an accidental, anonymous chips of dust, almost invisible on the evolutionary conveyer-belt, destined to flicker for an instant and then disappear forever. We know we are more. We, literally, feel timelessness, eternity, and immortal meaning inside of ourselves.

In our daily lives that often causes more heartaches than it solves. It is not easy to live out our blessed, special status when, most of the time, everything around us belies that we are special. As much as we experience ourselves as special, we also experience emptiness, anonymity, and dour ordinariness. And so it can be easy, in the end, to believe that we aren't special at all, but are precisely small, petty spirits, haunted by over-inflated egos.

But, while over-inflated egos do cause their share of heartaches, it is still an unhealthy temptation to believe that we are not blessed simply because life finds us one-among-six-billion-others, struggling, and seemingly not special in any way. Faith tells the true story: We are, all of us, made in God's image and likeness, blessed, and our private secret that we are special is in fact the deepest truth.

However that isn't always easy to believe. Life and circumstance often tire us in ways that tempt us to believe its opposite. It happened to Jesus.

He too was tempted, and there was a particular prelude to his vulnerability:

During his baptism, he had heard his Father say: "You are my blessed son, in whom I take delight!" Those words then formed and defined his self-consciousness. Knowing that he was blessed, Jesus could then look out at the world and say: "Blessed are you when you are poor... and meek ... and persecuted."

But throughout his life Jesus struggled to always believe that. For instance, immediately after his baptism, we are told, the spirit drove him into the desert where he fasted for forty days and forty nights – and afterwards "he was hungry". Obviously what scripture is describing here is not simply physical hunger. Jesus was empty in ways that made him vulnerable to believe that he was not God's blessed child. These were his three temptations:

First, the devil tempted him to this effect: "If you are God's specially blessed one, turn these stones into bread." In essence, the devil's taunt was this: "If you believe that you are God's specially blessed creature, why is your life so empty?" Jesus' reply, "One doesn't live on bread alone!" might be rendered: "I can be empty and still be God's blessed one! Being blessed and special is not dependent upon how full or empty my life is at a given moment!"

The second temptation has to do with human glory and its absence. The devil shows Jesus all the kingdoms of the world and says: "All of these will be yours if you worship me!" The taunt is: "If you're God's blessed one, how come you're a big, fat nobody? Not famous, not known, anonymous." And Jesus' reply might be worded this way: "I can be a big nobody and still be God's blessed one. Blessedness doesn't depend upon fame, on being a household name!"

The third temptation follows the same lines: The devil takes Jesus to the top of the temple and challenges him to throw himself down to make God catch him since, in faith, it is promised that God won't let his blessed one "dash his foot against a stone." Jesus responds that we shouldn't put God to the test. The temptation and how we should resist it are both contained in his reply. In essence, what Jesus says when the devil challenges him to throw himself off the top of the temple to prove his specialness is this: "I'll take the stairs down, just like everyone else!" Our blessedness is not predicated on having a VIP elevator, or on having any special privileges that set us apart from others. We are God's blessed ones, even when we find ourselves riding the city buses.

And it is good to remember, namely, that we are God's special, blessed sons and daughters, even when we lives seem empty, anonymous, and devoid of any special privileges because then we won't forever be putting God and our restless hearts to the test, demanding more than ordinary life can give us.

A LETTER FROM FR. PETER FERNANDES, SFX

Enter into a wilderness

The season of Lent is a special gift, a time set aside to allow the rational soul to enter into the depth of its being. A journey of forty days and forty nights, Lent takes us away from the hustle and bustle of ordinary life so we can soul-search. The goal of this journey is to break away from a whole life of sin; to renew the grace of baptism, bringing back to us the joy of life in the Spirit, which sin destroys. Therefore, everyone should use this time to renew the covenant with God which we signed at Baptism; to make God the center of our life, serving him alone, striving to know him better and to love him more. Indeed, this journey will lead the disciples to deeper understanding and conviction that their dying to sin and rising to a new life is intimately connected with the death and resurrection of Jesus.

Jesus enters into wilderness to engage in a deeper relationship with God in prayer. His forty days and forty nights in the wilderness gave Jesus clarity about his mission. Basked in the divine presence, Jesus fought temptations with grace, clarity and resolve. During his public ministry, Jesus was profoundly aware of His Father's presence, which he had deeply experienced in the wilderness. The wilderness experience is vital if we are to grow spiritually and to fight the temptations of the material world that entices us at all times. A constant awareness of divine presence through a profound relationship with God in prayer is crucial for all disciples to live as children of God, and to reject the devil. Hence, the Church invites all during the season of Lent to enter into a wilderness to renew Baptismal grace with true repentance for our sins with prayer, fasting, and almsgiving.

The Israelites wandered forty years in the wilderness before they entered the Promised Land. Those forty years gave the people of Israel the opportunity to humbly acknowledge their unworthiness, to know and love the Lord better, to trust in his providence, and to walk the journey of faith with confidence. A sincere and true spiritual renewal requires a significant amount of time and effort. In fact, at the end of forty years, the people of Israel had acquired the confidence to take possession of the Promise Land. Such a spiritual journey allows a person to trust in the Lord with full confidence: "Man does not live on bread alone, but on every word that flows from the mouth of God." Jesus came into the world not only to deliver us from sin, but to teach us how to avoid it. Jesus allowed himself to be tempted, thereby teaching us how to defeat the devil when he is trying to lure us into evil.

It is crucial for all to enter into wilderness for a spiritual renewal that will help us to face the devil, who seems to be more active in destroying the lives of people now than ever before. The material world is constantly filling society with false goals, and man is falling prey to its tactics. The darkness of sin is growing day by day, as society has rejected God from its public life. The repercussions of this stance are glaring, and evident for all to see, yet man refuses to notice them. When Jesus rejected the glitter of the material world, why should we embrace it? Therefore, let us enter into wilderness with weapons of prayer, penance, fasting and almsgiving to fuel a true spiritual renewal during these forty days and forty nights of Lent. Indeed, like Jesus, we will be able to face the world with confidence as children of God strengthened by the grace of the Holy Spirit.

The purpose of Lent is to be a season of fasting, self-denial, spiritual growth, conversion, and simplicity. Lent, which comes from the Teutonic word for springtime, can be viewed as a spiritual spring cleaning: a time for taking a spiritual inventory, and then cleaning out those things which hinder our personal relationships with Jesus Christ and our service to him.

We invite you to join us for this spirit-filled evening of prayer, song, and silence; to reflect upon our own Lenten calling for prayer, fasting, abstinence, and almsgiving. Don't miss this opportunity to deepen your personal relationship with the Lord.

Catholic Charities New Hope Apartments: A Transitional Housing Program for Homeless Families

January 2019 Update

Family #30: Our family consists of a mom and her two sons, ages 4 and 2.

Our mom continues working at her job and picking up a lot of extra hours. She reports her supervisor admires her work ethic. Unfortunately, she has experienced many issues with her neighbors in her apartment complex and feels that racism may play a part in the issue. She has handled this situation appropriately by notifying the landlord and New Hope staff.

She is doing well besides her housing issues. She is saving and thinking about her future and is looking for affordable housing in the area.

Her goals are:

- Save up at least 3 month's rent
- Obtain a CNA certificate
- Secure affordable housing before June 2019

Family #31: This family consists of a 24 year old female and her two sons, ages 7 and 5.

Our mom is trying her best to get stable, while working very hard to find a job. Her last job did not end well. She reported recently being let go from her hostess job. She is currently working with the New Hope Job Developer and the IDES (Illinois Department of Employment Security).

The children are stable; however she is struggling with depression since the loss of the hostess job and is currently seeking a therapist for support and guidance.

Her goals are:

- Save up at least 3 month's rent
- Attend work and school as scheduled
- Apply for low income housing
- Look for full-time employment
- Save up for a car

Greetings to all the Peace and Justice Parishes. Our families are extremely grateful for thinking of them during the holidays. New Hope sends love to all the Parishioners and may God continue to bless everyone and their families.

RCIA HIGHPOINTS: RITE OF SENDING for the RITE OF ELECTION and CONTINUING CONVERSION

Those present for the 9:00 liturgy on Sunday, March 10 will participate with the RCIA and CMI candidates and catechumens in a significant step in their conversion journey: the Rite of Sending for Election and Continuing Conversion.

In this ritual, having heard the testimony of the sponsors, RCIA and CMI team members, and the Faith Community of St. Hubert, we will send the candidates and catechumens to these rites.

Throughout this year, these men, women, teens and children have journeyed in the St. Hubert RCIA process.

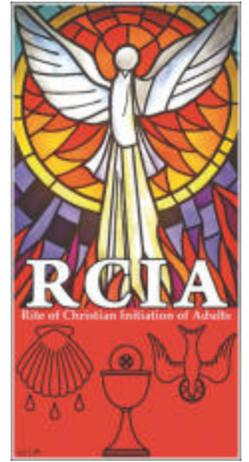

Though the RCIA and CMI process has some instructional components, it is – at heart – not an educational program, but a discernment process. Moved by an initial sense of God's call to investigate being disciples of Jesus in the Catholic Church, the RCIA journeyers test the "fit" of Catholic teaching, way of life, and worship for them. They have deliberated with their sponsors and with the RCIA and CMI team. As they enter Lent, they have announced their desire to receive the Easter sacraments.

Have the catechumens and candidates seriously entered into the Catholic way of life? Have their lives evidenced conversion? Are they ready to be presented to the Bishop for election? The sponsors and team answer "Yes," and will so testify during Sunday's Rite of Sending and Continuing Conversion.

Because the sponsors and team are delegates and agents of the Faith Community of St. Hubert, the discernment process will be complete only when the community affirms the RCIA and CMI members' readiness.

When the catechumens and candidates celebrate the Rite of Election on Sunday, March 10, they will travel that evening to the cathedral to be a part of a great throng of their peers from the many parishes of the archdiocese. All of them are entering the final period of preparation for the full initiation at the Easter Vigil.

Please feel free to take a flyer of those in RCIA and CMI at the RCIA kiosk. If you wish, you may want to write them a note. Please continue to pray for all of them on this journey of faith.
