PASTOR'S LETTER

At the Feet of Jesus

My mom always gets frustrated when she hears today's gospel passage about the two sisters, Mary and Martha. My mom is a "Martha"—she loves hospitality, entertaining, and taking care of guests who come over for dinner.

That's why, when Jesus seems to side with Mary and excuse her from helping her sister, my mom doesn't understand. What's wrong with helping people out? Isn't that what we're supposed to do as Christians? Why does Jesus seem to come down on Martha?

After all, in the first reading, we see how God rewards Sarah and Abraham for their hospitality to the three visitors who turn out to be angels. They entertain the visitors and show them incredible hospitality way before they discover who they're being generous toward. In other words, their kindness is driven from who they are—not motivated by interior greed to only help those in a position to help them in return.

Jesus isn't diminishing Martha's incredible kindness in helping get the meal on the table., but he is defending Mary's desire to sit at his feet and listen. "Sitting at the feet" of Jesus is code for learning from the teacher. Mary was deepening her sense of what it means to be a disciple and to take to heart what it is God wants us to know. So for Mary, she was choosing the better part at that time. It was a good use of time, not an act of laziness or defiance toward her sister.

And during a time, and in a culture where women weren't privy to listening to a rabbi teach, it was a radical desire of Jesus' to show the dignity of every human person.

The better part is to follow that instinct when it comes within to learn more about Jesus and being a disciple. And, it's good to empower the other people we're close to in life to discover it, too. (I'll have to send this article to my mom to see whether or not she's convinced!)

Welcome Sister Angela!

Speaking of hospitality, this weekend we welcome Sr. Angela Omoareghan of the Sisters of the Eucharistic Heart of Jesus at all the Masses. Sr. Angela will share her experiences of working with God's people in isolated and disadvantaged villages in Africa to bring the presence of Christ to those eager to receive Him. Sister Angela is both a doer, like Martha in today's Gospel, and a listener like Mary.

Missionaries are typically both, because what drives many religious to do the work they do is an interior life that's fed by their love for Christ. They're able to see the face of Christ in those they are helping.

Please join me in welcoming Sr. Angela. The second collection this weekend will benefit her congregation and the Missionary efforts of the Church. Turn to page 6 to learn more about the Sisters of the Eucharistic Heart of Jesus.

May God continue to bless you as we head into the heart of summer. Keep cool, keep praying, and keep bringing the heart of Christ to those in your life,

--Fr. Mike

Matthew 13:24-30

In this Sunday's Gospel reading, Jesus speaks to us about our anxieties and worries. They distract us. They're harmful to us if we let them control our lives, because they take our eyes off of our Lord and focus us on what's going wrong and how it might get worse.

Mary chose the "better part"; she didn't let anything distract her from being a disciple learning avidly from Jesus. When we make the time to put aside the busyness of life to sit quietly and learn from Jesus, we discover reasons why our worries aren't really so worrisome.

Only as we sit quietly at the feet of Jesus do we find hope that overcomes despair, peace that conquers anxiety, and wisdom that gets us through trials. Even the littlest worry, such as Martha's concern that her kitchen chores wouldn't get done, is a sin when it takes our eyes off of Jesus. Nothing that distracts us from Jesus is ever good for us.

We cannot grow in holiness when we're not watching Jesus and learning from him how to be holy. We cannot love as he loves nor receive all the love he gives us unless we have a prayer life that includes quiet time alone with him, drinking up his lessons and his loving embrace. Prayers said while driving or listening to homilies isn't enough.

Anxieties and worries are varying degrees of fear. We're afraid that something bad is going to happen. Even when there's a legitimate reason to worry, fear blocks our view of Jesus, because it turns us away from him.

We need to recognize fear as a warning flag that's telling us to slow down, quiet down, and sit down with Jesus for a good discussion on whatever it is that's bothering us. He's got the answers, the encouragement, and the affirmation that will bring us peace.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. What has been worrying you lately? What are you anxious about? What are you fearing might happen? Write them on a list and take them to Jesus in a quiet prayer time.
2. What lessons is Jesus trying to teach you in those situations? Ask the Holy Spirit to help you learn from Jesus. Search the Bible for additional inspiration.
3. What are some of the ways we can slow down our lives and improve our prayer times?
4. Tell the story of an experience you had when quiet prayer relieved an anxiety or solved a problem.

William Stringfellow was once addressing a group of social justice advocates on a day when they were particularly discouraged because a key project, to which they had given considerable time and effort, had failed.

Assessing both their sincerity and their discouragement, he said something to this effect: “I am old enough to scold you. I see your passion for truth and justice, and I laud that, but I hear your discouragement too. You lament the world’s hardness of heart, and you are correct there too. However, what I don’t hear in all this are many words about the Lordship of Jesus. We talk as if we need to save the world, as if everything depends on us. Well, it doesn’t. In the resurrection of Jesus the world is already saved, the powers of death and darkness have already been vanquished. We, we only need to live in such a way so as to show that world that we believe this.”

What Stringfellow is telling us is what Jesus tried to teach, namely, that the opposite of faith is not so much unbelief and doubt in the existence of God as it is anxiety and fretless worry. The opposite of faith is what Jesus cautions Martha against: “Martha, Martha, you are anxious about many things!”

We are not to be anxious about many things. Jesus keeps telling us not to worry – about what we will eat, about what we will wear, and about tomorrow and the problems it will bring. He tells us not to worry, not because there are no real threats to us, but because there is a Lord in charge of the universe and nothing happens, no sparrow falls from the sky or hair from a human head, that is outside the scope and care of that Lord.

We are in good hands, all the time. A gracious, all-powerful, loving God is solidly in charge and nothing will happen in the world and nothing will happen to us that this Lord is indifferent to. Our faith, at its core, invites trust, and not just abstract trust, belief that good is stronger than evil. No. To say the creed, to say that I believe in God – and originally the Christian creed was only one line, Jesus is Lord – is to have a very particularized, concrete trust, a trust that God has not forgotten about me and my problems and that, despite whatever indications there are to the contrary, God is still in charge and is very concerned with my life and its concrete troubles.

When we anxiously worry, in essence, we are denying the Christian creed because we are, in effect, saying that God has either forgotten about us or that God does not have the power to do anything about what is troubling us. It is then that we, like Martha, begin rushing around and fretting about many things.

We see the opposite of this in Jesus’ prayer in the Garden of Gethsemane. He truly says the creed. With all the powers of death and darkness closing in on him, just when it seems that God has abandoned him and the earth, he begins his prayer: “Abba, Father, all things are possible for you.” What Jesus is saying is that, despite indications to the contrary, despite the fact that it looks like God is asleep at the switch, God is still in charge, is still Lord of this universe, is still noticing everything, and is still fully in power and worthy of trust.

This is the essence of faith, to believe that someone benign and concerned with us is ruling the universe and we can stop our unnecessary fretting. To have faith is to believe that mother and father are home, aware of the situation, and in charge.

The trouble though is that this is hard to do, even when we do believe in a God who is Lord of the universe. Our problem is that we project our limited, selective care onto this God. We feel that God is inadequate because often we are, that God falls asleep at the switch because we occasionally do, and that God forgets about us in our problems because we have a habit of letting certain persons and things slip off of our radar screens.

You know how we are as human beings, forever letting certain things slip! We look into our closet one-day and notice a shirt or a blouse that we forgot we had. Then, we suddenly remember an invitation we were supposed to, long ago, have responded to. Things slip our minds. Our capacity to care is limited and selective. Were we Lord of the universe, many a sparrow would be forgotten and many a hair would fall to the ground unnoticed.

And so we fear that God sometimes forgets and does not notice us, that God, like us, is an inadequate Lord of the universe. That is why we get anxious and fret, because, like one without faith, we can feel that we are in an unfeeling universe.

Sisters of the EUCCHARISTIC HEART OF JESUS Congregation

Founded in 1943 by late Archbishop Leo Hale Taylor of the Society of African Missions.

I have called you by name, you are mine

We the Sisters of the Eucharistic Heart of Jesus are a Religious congregation of women whose dedication to the love and service of God and our fellow men and women takes special inspiration from the Eucharistic Heart of Christ. Our dedication to is expressed through the Vows of Obedience, Poverty, and Chastity.

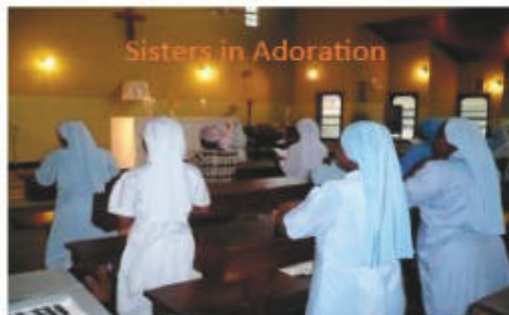

The Joy of the Lord is our strength

Our Spirituality is Eucharistic. We share thus the sentiments of Christ when He gave us the Eucharist. The spirit of thanksgiving to God therefore permeates our daily living. This we try to make concrete in our day-to-day living by our participation at Mass, daily adoration of the Blessed Sacrament and by bearing witness to the Eucharistic Lord who in all things gave thanks.

Archbishop Leo Hale Taylor, SMA
(b. 1889 - d. 1965)

Our founder insisted that we take the period of formation very seriously. In one of his letters, he said, "If we are to have good African religious, they need a long solid training in obedience, humility and love of God, not in a lot of activities." In another letter he made it clear that though he was "not despising numbers," we have to "insist on quality, not numbers." The Novitiate period is a period of learning, prayer, and recollection. The Novices are taught to gradually imbibe the spirit of our Institute.

Sisters in Adoration

As the Eucharist is taken, broken, shared and consumed, our Sisters place themselves at the service of others; ready to make sacrifices. While trying to make our lives a living memorial of Christ, we accept apostolate in remote and difficult areas. In witnessing to our Eucharistic Lord and fostered by our apostolic Spirit, we reach out to people through our apostolate of teaching; health services; social work; pastoral work, mass media, orphanage, etc.

At Eucharistic Liturgy

In the spirit of our founder, we are committed to continuing the mission of Christ. Our founder believed that our Institute would be "a great missionary power" (Founder's letter, 1947). How we are to become the aforesaid is very clear and emphatic in our Constitution. We are chiefly to exercise the virtues of Religion and to do good as long as they give glory to God and help us to be holy. "All to the greater glory of God" is the reason for the existence of our Institute. According to our founder, the work we do is a means to perfection. And so, we consecrate our apostolate to God, knowing very well that whatever our task is, it is but a sharing in the mission of Christ.

Can you help me
become a Catholic?

RCIA can be a wonderful mix of people.

The RCIA is for anyone who is thinking about joining the Catholic Church. This includes people who were never baptized and those who have been baptized in other Christian churches. It includes people who have grown up with some or much religious instruction, as well as people who have had no religious upbringing. Those who take part in RCIA might be single people, spouses of RCIA members or Catholics, and sometimes entire families. RCIA is also for those who have been baptized as Catholics, but did not complete their initiation with First Communion and/or Confirmation.

Call Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

Please note, if you are an adult whose only need of completing your initiation is through the Sacrament of Confirmation; or if you are fully initiated, but have been away from the Church and interested in returning, know that we have separate ministries to welcome you into or back to the fullness of our Church.

Sponsors are needed for RCIA!

What is a Sponsor? A sponsor is an active Catholic that is willing to be a companion to someone going through the RCIA process. As they get acquainted, they listen, answer questions, pray together, and connect them with the parish. Sponsors find their role to be one that enriches and deepens their own faith life as well. It is a very rewarding experience. Sponsors are not meant to have all the answers. Their main role is to be a friend and a companion on the journey.

If you are interested in more information or in becoming a sponsor companion, please contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

The Role of the RCIA Team

The team represents the parish community—the body of Christ. Each team member has a particular leadership role that helps facilitate the process of RCIA. At the Tuesday sessions they assist by providing hospitality, distributing materials, and leading small group discussions. Team members also take turns leading the Sunday discussions, called Breaking Open the Word, in place of the Liturgy of the Eucharist during the periods of the Catechumenate and Purification and Enlightenment.

Please consider sharing your time and your faith with those who are knocking at our door and asking to join our Catholic family. This is both a powerful and prayerful ministry that is at the core of the Church's mandate to "Go... and make disciples..." [Mt 28:19-20]. Your own faith-life will be renewed and enriched! Please keep all those involved in the RCIA process in your prayers.

Training will be provided. For more information, contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

CHILDREN'S MINISTRY OF INITIATION (CMI)

DO YOU HAVE CHILD INTERESTED IN MAKING THEIR FIRST COMMUNION AND CONFIRMATION?

CMI is primarily for children who fit the following criteria:

- Children who are of school age and have not been baptized.
- Children who were baptized in another Christian tradition, but wish to be members of the Catholic Church.
- Children who were baptized in the Catholic Church, but have not received formal instruction in the faith and have not received the other Sacraments of Initiation (Holy Eucharist and Confirmation).

For more information, contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

SACRAMENTAL LIFE

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

EUCARIST FOR THE SICK AND HOMEBOUND

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
