“Because this widow keeps bothering me I shall deliver a just decision for her lest she finally come and strike me.” - Lk 18:5

Persistence

Babe Ruth homered 714 times in career. He also struck out 1,330 times. In his autobiography, Michael Jordan wrote: "I've missed more than 9,000 shots in my career. I've lost almost 300 games. 26 times, I've been trusted to take the game winning shot and missed. I've failed over and over and over again in my life. And that is why I succeed." The jury's out on how many attempts it took Thomas Edison to invent the light bulb—anywhere from 1,000 to 3,800 to 10,000. The point is, it took time and effort.

What these cases share is that part of our human drive to succeed includes perseverance. Those who don't give up, but give to what it is they're passionate for, succeed. It drives them forward.

Jesus knows this about our human spirit. And so, like we hear in today's gospel, when it comes to prayer—one of the most important things we can do—Jesus says never give up. Be persistent. Keep hounding heaven.

Prayer is the place God and all of us meet, whether it's when we pray together as a community or in the depths of our heart. In the midst of our pain, hurt, frustration, dissatisfaction for the way things are, or in the midst of our successes and triumphs, keep praying. The only thing that can silence our voice to God is ourselves. God finds creative ways to respond to us, often in ways that surprise us—even a poor widow can achieve justice from a dishonest judge! Success is knowing we're not in a monologue, but in a conversation that's never meant to end.

Everyone Needs a Spiritual Friend

One of the recent blessings of our parish is the good number of young adults who have come to us this past year with a desire to learn more about our Catholic faith. The Rite of Christian Initiation (RCIA) is a program that accompanies them. Right now, though, some of those inquiring do not have a sponsor—a Catholic they can talk with and go through the program with. If you want to learn about being a sponsor, please call Marie Staffa in the parish office. Pope Benedict XVI once said, "There's nothing greater than sharing your friendship with Christ." (He's right! Thanks for considering it!)

A Light of Christ

Congratulations to our parishioner, Diane Kostecki. Along with representatives from other parishes, Cardinal Cupich recognized her last Sunday with the Christi Fidelis honor—a way to recognize her heartfelt contributions to building up our St. Hubert community.

Since 2008, Diane has been the creative force behind our art and environment, which contributes to our liturgical celebrations. What many don't know, is that it's hard work. Each week, Diane and her team maintain the flowers and plants, tweak things, are thinking creatively about the liturgical season ahead, and searching for different elements to try in the worship space and niche in the narthex.

Much of this work is done silently, behind the scenes. It's always done with great care, creativity and love... week after week. She's persistent, and she's sharing her talent as a gift to all of us. Then, in her "spare" time, she even sings in the choir! She gives it all with a cheerful and generous heart. Please join me in saying thanks to Diane for her contributions to our parish life.

In our Gospel reading, God promises to secure the rights of his faithful ones who seek his justice. When we're abused, neglected, rejected, betrayed, or falsely accused, God comes to our rescue. And speedily, he says! What? He's not helping you fast enough? Is he breaking his promise with you?

Although God often seems way too slow, whether it takes months or years (and it often does) before your problem gets resolved, Jesus is in fact at your side immediately delivering you from evil, in the very moment you begin to cry out to him.

The real question is not "Where is Jesus?" nor "Why doesn't he care enough to help me sooner?" The question that matters – for the healing of our souls – is stated in the last sentence of this Gospel passage: As he's arriving to help us, do we greet him with faith? Or is fear spinning our minds in such turmoil that we don't see him as he stands right next to us offering a helping hand?

If we're not living by faith, we inadvertently expand our problems. Are you feeling miserable after calling upon God for help? Look! Jesus is at your side begging for your trust. Are you feeling frustrated because God is not removing the obstacles you're facing? Look! Jesus wants you to follow him in a direction that's different than where you think you should go.

We all have adversaries. Jesus is wielding his sword of truth against the spirits of darkness who are working against us; he is driving them away. But if we reject the truth he wields, his sword is no help.

What about the troublemakers who continually annoy you? When our eyes are on them instead of on Jesus, we miss the healing that he's offering to us as vindication.

When we live by faith, we experience God's vindication every day, even while injustices continue. We experience it in our hearts as we receive his peace and his patience and his endurance.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. What injustices are frustrating you today? What evil is being done against you?
2. What will you do right now to be a faith-filled follower of Christ? What action will you take to conquer your fears and choose to give God your trust?
3. Describe an injustice that you recently witnessed or experienced. What shocked and dismayed you the most about it?
4. What is fearsome about it? And what does trust for the Lord encourage you to believe about it?

“The person who will not have a softening of the heart will eventually have a softening of the brain!” That warning, issued by G.K. Chesterton more than a half century ago, is particularly relevant for today, a time when virtually everything conspires against tenderness and softness.

Everywhere, today, the atmosphere is one of professionalism, efficiency, toughness, competitiveness, and lean strength. Workplaces, and at times even our homes and church circles, leave little room for softness, be it inefficiency, sentiment, or fat. Even to insert a call for any tenderness and softness to somehow tone this down is to endanger one’s status and respect. Our world has a very restricted place for what is unprofessional, sentimental, inefficient, fat, soft and fragile. Toughness and achievement are what get respect.

For this reason, we often experience our places of work and even our homes as being cold and somewhat brutal. But when we feel this coldness, what we are actually experiencing is our own intimidation. Our fear of being seen as soft, fat, childish, and as unable to handle pressure and meet certain standards of toughness and efficiency pushes us to make every kind of sacrifice rather than let ourselves be so judged. This shouldn’t be so, but, in fact, most often is. Ideally, we shouldn’t allow ourselves to be thus intimidated, but, most often, we do. The fact is that we generally do live and work within an atmosphere that is cold and unfeeling.

Given this, it is all too easy for us to become embittered, cold, and competitive ourselves. This happens gradually, imperceptibly, like the process of aging and the greying of hair. We look into the mirror each day and think we look the same. Then one day we look at an old photograph of ourselves and we’re shocked at how much we’ve changed. If we could see old photographs of ourselves which somehow indicated eagerness of spirit, spontaneity, hospitality, compassion, and simple joy and zest for life, many of us, I suspect, would be shocked at how much we’ve changed, hardened, through the years. The coldness, un-tenderness, and hardness that was so long outside of us, is now, in a large measure, inside of us, in our eyes, in our actions, and, sadly, often enough in our hearts. So gradually it happens. We change, harden, become the type of persons we would not choose to be friends with ourselves.

Given this, perhaps the most important prayer moments we can have each day are those moments which soften the heart, moments which bring us back to eagerness of spirit, hospitality, compassion, and childlike joy. To have a tender moment is to pray. Praying is more than just saying prayers. We are asked to “pray always.” This implies that we need to be praying even when we aren’t formally saying prayers.

To pray always, as Jesus says, implies that we read the signs of the times, that we look at the conspiracy of accidents which shape our lives and read in these the finger and providence of God. The language of God is the experience that God writes into our lives. To pray means to read our lives religiously. Perhaps the most important way in which we need to do this today is to pick up, read religiously, and see as grace and prayer those moments which somehow soften the heart, moments which put us in touch with our vulnerability, our tenderness, our sense of compassion and hospitality, and our connectedness with each other and our common struggle. We share a common heart and a common struggle. To become aware of that is to soften the heart. The world can be hard and, if we aren’t careful, if we do not massage the tender moment as prayer, we will harden too, becoming as untender, cold, and inhospitable as the world itself.

William Wordsworth once observed that a person often seems cold when s/he is only hurt. Lately, I suspect, too many of us radiate this coldness for precisely that reason. We need to pray by picking up the tender moment and letting its grace soften us. What constitutes the tender moment? Anything in life that helps make us aware of our deep connectedness with each other, of our common struggle, our common wound, our common sin, and our common need for help...the suffering face of another which mirrors our own pain, the sense of our physical mortality, the acceptance of our own sin, the beauty of nature, the eagerness and innocence of children, the fragility of the aged, and, of course, not least, moments of intimacy, of friendship, of celebration, of every kind of shared joy, pain or vulnerability.

John of the Cross once suggested that the function of solitude is “to bring the mild into harmony with the mild.” Moments which make us mild are deep moments of prayer. We need such moments badly or a cold and brutal world will make us cold and brutal. We need, daily, to pick up the tender moment.

Chesterton once also said: “The swiftest things are the softest things. A bird is active because a bird is soft. A stone is helpless, because a stone is hard. The stone must by its own nature go downwards, because hardness is weakness. A bird can of its nature go upwards, because fragility is force.” (Orthodoxy, Page 221)

ADVENT BOOKLETS AVAILABLE FOR PURCHASE

Advent reflection booklets from Fr. Ron Rolheiser are available for purchase for $2.99 each from Liguori Publications. The beautiful color interior offers a meditative backdrop for the reflections for each day of Advent through January 1, plus Epiphany.

Drawing from Scripture, literature, and personal experience, the inimitable Fr. Rolheiser shows us in these daily Advent reflections that God's love is an invitation that fully respects our freedom, but also never goes away.

We must place the order by October 28, so if you would like to order a book (or books), please call the office to place your request by Monday, October 28.

Catholic Charities New Hope Apartments A Transitional Housing Program for Homeless Families: September Update

Family #30

Our family consists of a female and her two sons, ages 4 and 2.

Our family completed the program on August 31. While in the New Hope program, the mom secured stable housing and made significant strides in building her savings account, which will help in covering rent and other needed expenses. We wish her and her family well and will meet again for a 3 month and 6 month follow up to check their status.

Family #31

This family consists of a female and her two sons, ages 7 and 5.

Our family exited from the program on August 31 as the mom maximized her stay. She is currently employed, though still looking for a more permanent job. She is fortunate to have a supportive family and friends who will offer a helping hand when needed. We will monitor how she is doing after 3 months and 6 months.

New Hope would like to personally thank the Peace and Justice Cluster parishioners for all your continued support over the years on behalf of our exited clients.

Thanks to all who helped with COMMUNAL ANOINTING of SICK

The communal celebration of the sacrament of Anointing of the Sick was held last Sunday at the 6:00 PM Mass. This celebration calls for the collaboration and services of a number of people. A special gratitude to all who participated – whether you received the anointing or prayed for those who were being blessed and prayed over. Thank you, to the Ministers of Care, who assisted those receiving the sacrament by giving directions or offering support. And thanks go, also, to the liturgical ministers – priests, musicians, cantors and choir – whose ministry adds so much to the beauty and meaning of the celebration.

Some of our children may be new to the parish and, for a variety of reasons, may need to receive sacraments other than at the designated grade levels. Children's Ministry of Initiation (CMI) is a process for children 7 years of age or older. CMI is a vibrant part of the parish's welcoming and evangelical efforts for families wishing to learn more about becoming a Catholic Christian or reconnecting to the Church. CMI provides families with the opportunities for religious education, prayer, service, and reception of the sacraments (Baptism, Confirmation, Eucharist). The children involved in this process of Religious Education receive their sacraments at the Easter Vigil in the second year of participation in CMI.

Immediate preparations are now underway for our CMI sessions to begin in October. Parents and grandparents, if you are interested in enrolling your child, teen or grandchild, please call Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email her at mstaffa@sainthubert.org

Stocking Stuffer

Once again, St. Hubert will be holding its annual Stocking Stuffer event on Thursday, November 7 at 7:00 PM

We need SMALL items that can fit into 8-inch treat bags, such as:

- Small toys and small beanie babies, new or gently used
- (Happy Meal toys are perfect)
- New items which you purchase (treat-bag sized prizes)
- Candy (even leftover Halloween Candy)

Please note that we cannot use pencils and lollipops as these tear holes in the treat bags

St. Hubert provides stuffed treat bags to our sharing parish, St. Aloysius, Gigi's Playhouse, and other needy organizations each year. Your generosity has been overwhelming in the past, and we ask for your help once again.

Please bring donations to the Parish Office. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Nina at nina.kindelin@gmail.com.

Thank you and God bless you!

MY FINAL WISH

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 2019

7 PM IN THE PARISH MINISTRY CENTER

MY FINAL WISH is an information meeting for pre-planning funeral arrangements for people of all ages. Many find it uncomfortable or unsettling to discuss end-of-life wishes.

St. Hubert Community Life Program is hosting an opportunity for the community and their families to learn, in a loving and practical way, several of the necessary decisions or considerations required when someone dies.

Our intent is to ensure that your wishes are communicated and understood while easing the burden of your family by doing some pre-planning; it can make difficult decisions much less difficult and act as a final gesture of love.

Often one's final wishes evolve over time and may even change. The expressing of your intentions is of great comfort to your family no matter how young or old you are. Come join us MY FINAL WISH and begin the process that gives you and your family peace of mind.

SPEAKERS AND TOPICS:

- Roberto Perez (Attorney—The Perrom Law Office)---remains directives, estate planning documents, after burial process and benefits of a trust.
- Ross Morizzo (Funeral Director, Morizzo Funeral Home)---funeral options, pre-arranging benefits, proper documentation of you wishes and important documents you will need.
- Mario Calderon (Catholic Cemeteries)---benefits of pre-planning, types of burial options and financing cemetery costs.
- Patrick Schilz (Financial Planner, Edward Jones)---steps to take when a loved one passes, financial documents needed, retitle loved ones assets and estate settlement process.

Following the presentations there will be time for questions and answers. And there will be no sales pitches and no pressure by the presenters.

Please call the Parish Office to register, as this will allow us the opportunity to accommodate everyone, or you can also call Deacon Dick Lawson at 847-885-7700, ext. 105.

SACRAMENTAL LIFE

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

EUCARIST FOR THE SICK AND HOMEBOUND

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
