Sign of the Times

Every year at this time, we hear scripture readings and themes related to the second coming of Christ. And every year, when reflecting on all the signs that are meant to point us to when it is going to take place—world wars, powerful earthquakes, famines, plagues, signs in the skies, persecutions, and more (see Luke 21:5-19)—I wonder whether the time might be right around the corner.

But then, I also remember that Jesus tells us: we'll never know for sure when it's going to happen. It's up to God the Father. Instead, his advice is to live as if we're always ready for him to come into our world. It's a message that we'll hear again once we begin Advent (interestingly, "advent" means "coming into being").

What comforts us in the midst of some horrendous things that the world has experienced, is experiencing now, and will experience, is that we live as people of hope. That's because, as Catholics, we're very aware and attune to the simple reality that Christ is already here. The Eucharist is His true presence every time we come to Mass and will be until he comes again.

So the Eucharist becomes the sign of the times. It's the sign that through Him, with Him and in Him, Jesus is already with us. And so, when he comes again—whether that be tomorrow, 100 years from now, or 2000 years from now—our prayer doesn't have to be one of fear, but one of invitation and acceptance: "Come, Lord Jesus." When we enter the communion line, we enter into this prayer of hope. It's what helps soothe an uncertain heart.

A Community of Kindness

During the past couple of weeks, our parish once again responded with great generosity. Thank you to everyone who gave blood, who donated candy and toys or volunteered their time to make the stocking stuffer project a huge success, and those who donated your used and new backpacks for children in need in Cambodia.

We're also getting ready for our annual Thanksgiving Food Drive on November 23rd & 24th to benefit families in need in our own community and those who come to our sharing parish, St. Aloysius. See page 7 for the suggested items that we typically need. Another great way to help is to volunteer to drive the food we collect to St. Al's in Chicago. It might even be a great way for a family to participate in something meaningful together. Sign-up sheets are in the narthex.

Our Teens Are Headed to Indy! One of the great offerings for high school teens is an experience at the National Catholic Youth Conference, which takes place every other year in Indianapolis. Our St. Hubert teens are heading there this week to be with tens of thousands of other teens from all over the US. It can be a life-changing event for those who experience it. We're grateful to all of you who donated to help make this trip a reality for those who couldn't afford it on their own. Your generosity opened a window to an experience with the Holy Spirit. Thank you!

As we battle Siberian arctic fronts, snow, and the uncertainties of the weather, we have our faith to keep us warm.

—Fr. Mike

1 Maccabees 6:1-13
Ps 9:2-4,6,16,19
Luke 20:27-40

Jesus says that the day will come when not one stone of the temple will be left mortared to another, because it will all be torn down. He's reminding us that everything here on earth is temporary.

Think of what you enjoy here on earth. It's temporary. What causes you to suffer? It too is temporary. What of this world do you depend on? It's temporary. What do you admire, trust, save, hope for, spend working hours to achieve and plan relaxation hours for a reward? It's all temporary – unless we are using it for the Kingdom of God.

We know that we're supposed to focus on the things of God, things that will last for all of eternity, but we're uncomfortable with the blind faith that this requires. We are like the disciples who looked for God's vindication against injustices and immorality in the temporal world: wars, earthquakes, plagues and famines. We wish that Jesus would hurry up with his Second Coming and stop all the evils and hardships.

In our daily lives, we seek God's help, but we look for something tangible upon which to base our faith. We want to know the future; we don't like the insecurity of not knowing what God has planned. We depend on what we can see more than we depend on God whom we cannot see, so we ask God for signs.

However, the best way to walk forward with God is to raise one foot in air for the next step, and – while that foot is still in the air – ask God: "Where do You want me to place my foot next?"

This takes balance; if we don't remain centered in God, we teeter and fall. If God doesn't show us immediately where to put our foot down to move forward, we can either fall away or fall into his hand.

God's hand is never temporary! God's hand provides true security based only on his endless, all-powerful, all-knowing love. It doesn't always feel that way, but his love and protection never fail.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. What help from God are you waiting for? What battles plague your life? Do you believe that your problem is temporary or do you fear that it's permanent?
2. What will you do this week to entrust yourself to the wisdom and guidance of Jesus?
3. When waiting for God's guidance, how do you stay centered on God? How do you find and hold your balance while you've got one foot wavering in the air?
4. What if you were to put your foot down in the wrong place and move in the wrong direction? Does God protect you then? How?

Have you ever noted how we spontaneously react to a perceived threat? Faced with a threat, our primal instincts tend to take over and we instantly freeze over and begin to shut all the doors opening to warmth, gentleness, and empathy inside us.

That's a natural reaction, deeply rooted inside our nature. Biologists tell us that, whenever we perceive something or someone as threatening us, paranoia instinctually arises inside us and has the effect of driving us back towards a more primitive place inside our bodies, namely, the reptile part our brain, that remnant still inside us from our evolutionary origins millions of years ago. And reptiles are cold-blooded. So too, it seems, are we when we're threatened.

This, I believe, helps explain much of the paranoia and violence in our world today as well as the bitter rhetoric that, almost universally, is blocking any real possibility of meaningful discussion apposite our tensions today within politics, economics, and our churches.

We live in a bitterly polarized world. All of us recognize this, and all of us see a lot of cold-bloodedness inside world politics, inside the politics within our own countries and communities, and, sadly, not least, inside our churches. What we see in nearly every discussion today where there is disagreement is a cold, hard rhetoric that is not really open to genuine dialogue and is, invariably, the antithesis of charity, graciousness, and respect. What we see instead is paranoia, demonization of those who disagree with us, ridicule of our opponents' sincerity and values, and blind self-defensiveness.

Moreover this bitterness and disrespect, so contrary to all that's in the Gospels and to all that's noble inside us, is invariably "sacralized", that is, it is rationalized as demanded by "God" because we believe that what we are doing is for God, or for truth, or for country, or for the poor, or for mother-nature, or for art, or for something whose transcendent value, we believe, justifies our bracketing both Jesus and common courtesy. If you doubt this, simply turn on any radio or television station that does commentary on politics or religion or listen to any political or religious debate today. We are, as John Shea puts it, more skilled in justification than in self-examination; but, then, we can sacralize our disrespect and lack of elemental charity.

But, in doing this we are far from the Gospel, far from Jesus, and far from what's best inside us. We're meant to be more than the reptile part of our brain and more than the instincts we inherited from our ancient ancestors, the beasts of prey. We're called to something higher, called to respond to threat beyond the blind response of instinct.

St. Paul's own reaction to threat can serve as a template for what our ideal response should be. He writes: When we are ridiculed, we bless; when persecuted, we endure; when slandered, we respond gently. (1 Corinthians 4, 12-13) Earlier, in the same Letter, he had already given another counsel in regards to dealing with opposition. His counsel: Live with enough patience inside opposition so as not to have to defend yourself, let God and history do that for you: "It does not concern me in the least that I be judged by you or any human tribunal; I do not even pass judgment on myself; I am not conscious of anything against me, but I do not hereby stand acquitted; the one who judges me is the Lord. Therefore, do not make any judgment before the appointed time."

Admittedly, this is difficult. Our instinctual self is not easily subdued. Like everyone else, I struggle a lot with this. Every time I hear or read someone who dismisses my preaching and writing as heretical, or dangerous, or (even more biting) as light-weight fluff, the reptile part of my brain stirs to do its ancient job and my natural instincts bitterly resist the high road that St. Paul so wisely counsels. Natural instinct does not want to try to understand the position of the one who has belittled us, nor does it want to bless and endure and respond gently. It wants blood. I suspect that everyone's instincts work in the same way. Natural instinct doesn't easily honor the Gospel.

But, that's the test; indeed one of the litmus tests of Christian discipleship. When we look at the core of Jesus' moral teachings and ask ourselves, what more than anything else sets Jesus apart from other moral teachers? What particular challenge of his might serve as a litmus test for genuine discipleship?

I submit that at the core of Jesus' teaching lies this challenge: Can I love an enemy? Can I bless someone who curses me? Can I wish good to someone who wishes me evil? Can I genuinely forgive someone who's been unfair to me? And, perhaps even more importantly, can I live in patience when I'm in tension, not rushing to defend myself, but leaving that defense to history and to God?

HELP OUR TEENS TRAVEL TO INDY

The National Catholic Youth Conference (NCYC) is a fantastic opportunity for teens to strengthen their Catholic identity and meet other Catholic teens from around the U.S. Many teens say that their participation in NCYC is life-changing.

Several teens from St. Hubert will be making a pilgrimage to NCYC. Scholarships are needed to make this trip a reality for all teens hoping to attend. Please help to make this experience possible. Please label any donations in an envelope marked with NCYC. Your contributions will allow the teens to experience presentations by leading speakers on issues including social justice, prayer, servant leadership, appropriate use of technology, the sacraments, cultural diversity, and transitioning to college. They will have the opportunity to meet with bishops and other church leaders and get the chance to listen to outstanding Catholic musicians, have powerful prayer experiences, and pray together at Mass.

Thank You!

The St. Hubert Stocking Stuffer Ministry would like to express its sincere appreciation for the generosity of those who donated items to our Stocking Stuffer project in November. This year we filled 335 treat bags and could have filled many more!

A very big THANK YOU also goes out to the 30+ volunteers who helped stuff the bags. We could not have done it without you!

This year, we distributed the bags to St. Aloysius Parish, GiGi's Playhouse, the GIFT Program, and the Children's Advocacy Center's Safe from the Start Program. Thank you for helping us put a smile on the children's faces this year!

God bless you all!

P.S. – Do you know a non-profit organization that might like holiday treat bags for the children they serve? Contact Nina at nina.kindelin@gmail.com so we can contact them for next year.

St. Hubert 'Helping Hands' Ministry

St. Hubert Helping Hands volunteers have offered to provide their time and talents to help people in need for 'free'. Let us know if you need help.

Ways people received help:

- Ride to church
- Ride to the store
- Snow removal
- Housework
- Yardwork
- Etc.

Here is one way a St. Hubert volunteer helped someone in need:

'An older man living by himself, who could not see well, contacted St. Hubert requesting someone to come over and read to him. He loved books and was so happy a volunteer offered to come over regularly to read for him.'

'Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ.' Galatians 6:2.

'Don't forget to do good and to share with what you have with those in need, for such sacrifices are very pleasing to him.' (Hebrews 13:16)

Contact the parish front office at 847-885-7700 if you need help or if you would like to become a volunteer. God Bless!

Baking Your Way Through the Holidays with The Bread Monk Fr. Dominic Garramone, OSB

Every time Fr. Dominic Garramone teaches his scripture students about the multiplication of the loaves, he bakes. Bread, of course. As he is head of the religion department at St. Bede Academy in Peru, IL, it is not surprising. After all, he's also The Bread Monk, a member of the Order of St. Benedict, host of a former PBS television show, a prolific author and one of God's best-known Breadheads.

By day, he teaches scripture and sacraments, is the school's drama director (he has published two plays) and handles myriad other abbey duties. Off hours, he's found either in the abbey kitchen or herb garden, writing or preparing to travel Illinois giving lively and entertaining bread demos to civic and religious groups.

Fr. Dom brings his talent, personality and humor to St. Hubert on Saturday, November 23 with Baking Your Way Through the Holidays. Presented by the Café Ministry, it is free and open to the public from 10 AM to Noon at the St. Hubert Parish Ministry Center, 729 Grand Canyon, Hoffman Estates, IL. Reservations are suggested – 847-885-7700 or speakerseries@sainthubert.org.

Fr. Dom says his culinary education is a result of "my mother's kitchen, PBS and the public library." His interactive presentation gently walks the audience through creating breads to make this year's holiday celebrations extra special:

- Gluten-free Pumpkin Scones with sweet cream cheese filling.
- Bambino Bread – shaped like Baby Jesus in swaddling clothes.
- French Toast Custard Casseroles
- An Epiphany Cake that makes family feel like the Three Kings.

Delicious samples (warm from the oven), free door prizes, and audience participation heighten the fun.

Shop the Monks' Market treats from the Abbey, beeswax candles, honey and kitchen gadgets - thoughtful holiday gifts for a favorite foodie. Or choose one of Fr. Dom's many baking books. Or His Brother Jerome and the Angels in the Bakery, which received the 2011 Christopher Award for Children's Books and the 2011 Catholic Press Association's First Place Award for children's books.

While his PBS program no longer airs, "The Bread Monk" is still seen on occasional PBS pledge specials. He's also a baking instructor on Blueprint.com. Learn more about Fr. Dom at www.breadmonk.com. Please come and meet him at St. Hubert November 23.

Thank you for assisting the Knights of Columbus, Council #6964, in their efforts to raise funds with our "Dine to Donate" event. We realize that every dollar counts, and we will do our best provide a fun atmosphere with high quality food and service to make a memorable experience for you, your guests and friends. Here's how it works: It is an all-day event, so come for lunch, dinner or both (open to close). Make sure that this flyer is brought for the visit! CARRY-OUTS qualify too!

- These flyers may be copied and passed out to anyone and everyone prior to the event. Flyers must not be passed out on the restaurant property as the Knights of Columbus will be penalized.
- This flyer must be turned in to your server at the time of payment so it may be attached to a copy of your bill in order to receive credit for the donation. Once you left the building you may not return with a flyer to apply to a bill..
- 20% of the pre-taxed bill, excluding any discounts and bar charges, will be donated to the:

SACRAMENTAL LIFE

Call the Parish Office 847-885-7700 for further questions or to make arrangements.

BAPTISMS

To register for Baptism, stop in or call the Parish Office. Parents must attend a Baptismal Preparation Meeting, which is held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7:30 PM. You may attend this parent meeting either before or after the baby is born.

Baptisms take place on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 1:30 PM or at Mass by arrangement. You will confirm the date for Baptism by attending the Baptism Preparation Meeting.

MARRIAGES

Please do not reserve your banquet hall before confirming the date with the church. Set your date by calling the Parish Office as early as possible as you plan your wedding—at least 6 months before the wedding. Weddings take place on Saturdays at 2:00 PM. Weekdays and Sundays must be arranged individually.

RECONCILIATION

Saturday after 4:30 PM Mass, or by appointment.

EUCHARIST FOR THE SICK AND HOMEBOUND

If there is anyone who would like to receive Eucharist at home, or if you know a friend, neighbor or family member who is homebound and would like a home visit to receive Eucharist, please call the Parish Ministry Center. One of our dedicated ministers will be glad to fulfill these requests.

SACRAMENT OF THE SICK

Please call the Parish Ministry Center Office to make arrangements for a priest to visit.
