THE BAPTISM
OF THE LORD

JANUARY 10, 2021

GETTING READY TO FLY

Today we conclude our celebration of Christmas as we hear the events of Jesus' baptism in the Jordan by John. It comes full circle. We first heard about John's baptisms in early Advent. Jesus, now an adult, is ready to be baptized. His baptism is one of the catalysts that moves him into his ministry.

A sign of that is the presence of God the Holy Spirit, which Mark tells us was like a dove. The dove, of course, reminds us of the passage about Noah and the flood. When the dove returned with an olive branch in its beak, Noah knew there was land. It's become an international symbol of peace. In the case of Noah, it was the realization of a new beginning; a new day of hope. God and humankind are not opposed to one another, but go forward together forging a new covenant.

The image of the Holy Spirit as a bird that can fly is also significant. It takes on the attributes of movement and activity. It's the Holy Spirit within us that moves us into action to be of service to others. When John baptized Jesus it was with water. But when we're baptized, it's with the Holy Spirit, which gives us the kind of passion within for doing good. That passion is described as a fire because fire spreads.

THE WORK OF CHRISTMAS

By Howard Thurman

*When the song of the angels is stilled,
When the star in the sky is gone,
When the kings and princes are home,
When the shepherds are back with their flock,
The work of Christmas begins:
To find the lost,
To heal the broken,
To feed the hungry,
To release the prisoner,
To rebuild the nations,
To bring peace among people,
To make music from the heart.*

This week I came across this insightful poem by Howard Thurman that beautifully describes the movement to service that comes from the event of Christmas.

Christmas is realizing that in Jesus Christ God is with us. It's the same movement that happens when we realize that our own baptism is the catalyst that moves us into action. Our baptism is living out the reality that God is always with us—Father, Son and Holy Spirit. We call it our primary vocation because with God in our life, we can live the mission to love fully—to love God with all our being and to love our neighbor as ourselves.

And that's what leads us in what we do. In the reading from the Acts of the Apostles, Peter talks about the events of Jesus' life: "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and power. He went about doing good and healing all those oppressed by the devil, for God was with him" (Acts 10:38).

In a world where there is still a lot of fear, uncertainty and conflict, we can be the force for going about and doing good, finding ways to build peace, which begins with understanding and dialogue. The work of Christmas begins when we realize we don't need to acquire anything more, or to gain secret knowledge, or to wait until a certain moment; we already have all that we need within to fly.

May the peace of the Lord be with you always!

—Fr. Mike

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD

We need history. We need it in order to understand ourselves, personally and collectively. The pieces of our histories may not have always been the most positive, honest, exemplary, dignified, proud and best moments of our lives, but they are ours. We have to acknowledge, remember, accept, and often heal them. We cannot forget them or pretend that they never existed. As horrible as the atrocities of events like Auschwitz, brutal injustices committed throughout the human journey, or personal painful experiences in our own stories, we need to remember. These times when humanity in general or people in particular have lost their way are times that need to be reconciled and redeemed.

If we lose the memories, we will make the same mistakes again. The human soul needs a strong sense of affirmation, direction, and clear purpose. Without these essentials, we will easily run amuck and repeat the sins of our past. God's voice throughout history has spoken precisely about this! We are reminded through the voices and example of many prophets and witnesses not to make the same mistakes again, come back to center, discover the purpose given to us by God, maintain a sense of proper direction, seek healing for wounds and be reconciled to our Creator.

Baptism is so incredibly important for the salvation of humankind, not only eternally but here and now. Our existence depends upon it. It gives us the affirmation we need from God by gifting us with the same intimate relationship Jesus had with the Father. We are blessed with the direction and clear purpose we need in order to be productive stewards and faithful Christians. Baptism calls us to remember, accept, and deal with the sins and inequities of our past regardless of how hurtful and serious. We consciously choose to turn away from them and put on the new life of Christ. To do this well, we must look hard and long at our sins and failings, listen to what they are saying and learn from them. If we ignore the past, collectively or personally, or pretend that it never happened, we will never grow. We will surely die.

People need to hear the message, lived and spoken, delivered by the baptized members of the Body of Christ. It is an essential message of hope that is layered with visions of justice, peace, reconciliation, redemption, blessing, and healing. It is a message that helps us remember what has gone before, the graces and the sins, and bring ourselves by God's help where we need to be. We are called to do much more than sit home behind our closed doors. We have a message to deliver. Are we ready to do so?

Praying Lauds and Vespers

By Ron Rolheiser, OMI

One of the things asked of us by adulthood itself, and more especially by our baptism, is that we pray for others. Like the high priests of old, we need to offer up prayers daily for the whole world. Indeed we are all priests, ordained by the sacred oils of baptism and consecrated by the archetypal burdens that have given us wrinkles and grey hair. As adults, elders, we have both privilege and the responsibility to, as scripture puts it, “make prayer and entreaty, aloud and in silent tears, for ourselves and for the people.” All of us, lay and cleric alike, need to offer up priestly prayer each day.

But how do we do that? How do we pray priestly prayers? We pray as priests, as Jesus prayed in the 17th chapter of John’s gospel, every time we sacrifice self-interest for the good of the community. That’s priestly prayer in its widest sense. However, we pray that prayer, formally and sacramentally, whenever we pray the prayer of the church, namely, the Eucharist or the Divine Office. This kind of prayer, called liturgy, is what keeps incarnate the priestly prayer of Christ.

In priestly prayer we pray not just for ourselves, nor ideally by ourselves, but we pray as a microcosm of the whole world, even as we pray for the whole world. In this kind of prayer we lift up our voices to God, not as a private offering, but in such a way so as to give a voice to the earth itself. In essence, when we pray at the Eucharist or at the Divine Office, we are saying this:

“Lord, God, I stand before you as a microcosm of the earth itself, to give it voice: See in my openness, the world’s openness, in my infidelity, the world’s infidelity; in my sincerity, the world’s sincerity, in my hypocrisy, the world’s hypocrisy; in my generosity, the world’s generosity, in my selfishness, the world’s selfishness; in my attentiveness, the world’s attentiveness, in my distraction, the world’s distraction; in my desire to praise you, the world’s desire to praise you, and in my self-preoccupation, the world’s forgetfulness of you. For I am of the earth, a piece of earth, and the earth opens or closes to you through my body, my soul, and my voice. I am your priest on earth.

And what I hold up for you today is all that is in this world, both of joy and of suffering. I offer you the bread of the world’s achievements, even as I offer you the wine of its failure, the blood of all that’s crushed as those achievements take place. I offer you the powerful of our world, our rich, our famous, our athletes, our artists, our movie stars, our entrepreneurs, our young, our healthy, and everything that’s creative and bursting with life, even as I offer you those who are weak, feeble, aged, crushed, sick, dying, and victimized. I offer to you all the pagan beauties, pleasures, and joys of this life, even as I stand with you under the cross, affirming that the one who is excluded from earthly pleasure is the cornerstone of the community. I offer you the strong and arrogant, along with the weak and gentle of heart, asking you to bless both and to stretch my heart so that it can, like you, hold and bless everything that is. I offer you both the wonders and the pains of this world, your world.”

To pray like this is to pray liturgically, as priest. And we pray like this each time we go to the Eucharist or when we, with others or alone, pray the Divine Office of the church. It is particularly this latter prayer, the Divine Office (also called “Breviary” or “Liturgy of the hours”), that is available daily as the priestly prayer for those of us who are not ordained ministers in the church. And this is especially true for two of those liturgical hours, Lauds (Morning Prayer) and Vespers (Evening Prayer). They, unlike the other hours which are more the particular domain of monks and professional contemplatives, are the ordinary priestly prayer of the laity.

And what is important in praying them is to remember that these are not prayers that we say for ourselves, nor indeed prayers whose formulae we need to find meaningful or relevant. Unlike private prayer and contemplation, where we should change methods whenever praying becomes too dry or sterile, Lauds and Vespers are prayers of the universal church that are in essence intended to be communal and priestly. They don’t have to be relevant for our private lives. We pray them as elders, as baptized adults, as priests, to invoke God’s blessing upon the world.

And whenever we do pray them, we are, in microcosm, the voice, body, and soul of the earth itself, continuing the high priesthood of Christ, as we offer prayers and entreaties, aloud and in silent tears, to a God who can save us.

LIVE THE LITURGY: INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

We carry a greater depth of self-confidence and chance of succeeding when we have affirmation, a sense of direction and clear purpose in life. Each of these serve to provide our lives with meaning, allowing us to clearly establish priorities and goals. They also are necessary for integrity, which is the conviction and single mindedness that keeps us grounded in the truth of who we are. "You are my beloved Son; with you I am well pleased." Jesus' baptism provides him with exactly what he needs to get about the business of his mission as the Son of God. He is given what he needs to be successful in fulfilling the purpose for which he was sent. Our baptisms give us these same gifts. We receive the affirmation we need from God, knowing that we are one of his beloved daughters and sons. We are gifted with the direction and clear purpose we need in order to be productive stewards and faithful Christians. Are we ready and willing to answer the call?

Job Support Group Meeting—9:30–11:00 AM Every Monday Morning

The Saint Hubert Job and Networking Ministry continues in its mission to assist the job seeker and job changer with the introduction of “virtual” Accountability/Job Support Group meetings via Zoom. The meetings are a way to address your career and job connection concerns with one of our team members, as well as one another, learn more about the resources available to job seekers, and to share information and support with a small group of attendees. If you would like to register for this event, send an email with the subject, “Accountability/Job Support Group,” to sainthubertjobministry@gmail.com. You will receive an invitation to join the Zoom meeting.

January 11, 6:00–7:00 PM—Job Seeker’s Exchange

Whether you are a newcomer to the Saint Hubert Job Support Group or one of our members, feel free to attend the meeting, for job seekers, which precedes our regular Monday meeting on the 2nd and 4th Monday of each month, where you can sit in and learn from the questions and answers of others. Stop in prior to the start of our regular meeting.

January 11, 7:00–8:30 PM—Networking Skills

In many industries, networking is by far the largest source of job landings. The longer you are into your career and the higher your compensation level, the greater the importance of networking. Unfortunately, too many job seekers avoid networking and/or network poorly. This workshop will help you come to networking from a different direction, you are not asking for a job; rather you are seeking information to better understand employment opportunities and hopefully, become the “candidate in demand.” Send an email with the name of the event, “Job Seeker’s Exchange” or “Networking Skills” to sainthubertjnmrepresentation@gmail.com. You will receive an invitation to join the Zoom meeting.

January 16, 9:00–11:00 AM—Free Resume Review

Consult with a Human Resources/Job Search Professional for a 20 minute review of your resume. The resume reviewer will provide you, via telephone, with suggestions and guidelines for your resume. Why not take advantage of this career-enhancing opportunity? Learn how to transform your resume. You will receive an email on the day prior to the event with your scheduled time and the name of the Reviewer.

January 18, 6:00–8:00 PM—Expanded Evening Exchange Group

Whether you are a newcomer to the Saint Hubert Job Support Group or one of our members, feel free to attend our “Expanded Evening Exchange Group”, for job seekers, on the 1st and 3rd Monday of each month, where you can sit in and learn from the questions and answers of others. If you would like to register for this event, send an email with the subject “Expanded Evening Exchange Group” to sainthubertjobministry@gmail.com. Helping Hands Ministry

We'd like to believe that when needing support, we all have a family member or friend close by to help out. Unfortunately, this is not always the case. Or, perhaps, a great deal of support is needed requiring more support than family members are able to provide. The Helping Hands Ministry was formed to assist members in our parish, free of charge, in various ways:

- Rides to appointments, grocery store, Mass
- Relieving a caregiver by sitting with homebound family member
- Handy work or yard work
- Housework/cleaning
- Meals for those recovering from illness
- Just ask!

To request assistance or to volunteer, please contact the St. Hubert front desk at 847-885-7700, ext. 102. Your request will be shared with the Helping Hands Coordinator.

WHAT SHOULD I DO IF SOMEONE I KNOW IS EXPERIENCING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE???

Victims of domestic violence are often embarrassed by what is happening or are in denial about their situation. If you have reason to believe that a friend, family member or neighbor is experiencing domestic violence, there are many ways you can try to help.

Start the conversation - Talk to the person and try to help her or him to open up. You may have to try several times before the person will confide in you. Be direct. Start by saying something like, "I'm worried about you because ..." or "I'm concerned about your safety ..."

Be a good listener and offer support - Listen. And believe what you hear. Too often, people don't believe a victim when she or he first discloses the abuse that is occurring. Reassure the person that the abuse is not their fault. Let the person know that you are there for them. Do not judge. Focus on providing support and building self-confidence.

Connect the victim to local resources - Encourage the person to seek the help of a local domestic violence agency. Agencies can provide support, advice, services and referrals. They can help a victim with safety planning.

Be patient and stay involved - It can take a long time for a victim to recognize that she or he is experiencing domestic violence. It can take even longer before the victim is able to make safe decisions about how to get out of a domestic violence situation. Don't tell the person to leave. Don't criticize her or him for staying. An abused woman faces the greatest risk at the point when she is separating from her abuser and immediately after leaving the abusive partner. Provide reassurance. Realize that this is a very challenging and stressful situation for the victim.

Is it safe to go to a neighbor or relative's house when deciding what to do? The safest place for someone escaping domestic violence is one that's not familiar to the abuser. If you make the decision to leave, it's best to go to a location that the abuser doesn't know about.

Call the Illinois Domestic Violence Hotline at 877-863-6338 for a referral of where to go and what the next step should be.
