Wanting to See

In today's gospel, we'll hear the moving passage about Bartimaeus, a blind man who was looking for compassion from Jesus. He wanted nothing more than to see again. And because Jesus took the time to talk with him, Jesus also saw the depth of his faith. He granted him his desire. That day, Bartimaeus received more than physical sight. He received insight into who Jesus was and into the compassion of God. He also learned that God wanted to hear his voice despite the crowd around him trying to silence him as if he didn't matter at all.

In some ways, it's also a reflection about our own spiritual journey. We have to deal with many things life throws at us, blinded as to what it may all mean or not knowing where we're headed. We seek insight, and so we turn to God to help us see clearly what it is we need to know or do or say to go forward. We seek meaning for why we have to experience hurt, anger, sorrow, or injustice. We echo Bartimaeus' desire: "Master, I want to see."

As I grow older (and hopefully wiser), I have begun to value the insight God places in my heart that comes in the form of hindsight. In the thick of the hard things we experience, it can be difficult to see God's hand at work. God may even seem deaf to my prayer or my voice is silenced.

Over time I learned to see how God was there even if I couldn't see it or value it when it was happening: through the voice of friends or family, through a homily or reflection, through a scripture verse, through a turn of events that were so coincidental that it could have been only been led by God the Holy Spirit; and maybe most of all through my own desire to stay the course and to hold on tighter to God instead of letting go. Having faith leads to faithfulness. And it helps us to see.

Odds & Ends

- Today during Masses, Cardinal Cupich asked us to pray the prayers for the success of the Synod that was launched by Pope Francis in Rome earlier this month. (See page 3.) As part of gathering input from the faithful, each diocese around the world will create a way for your voice to be heard. We will keep you posted for how this will work here in our Archdiocese.
- Every November we take the time to remember and honor those we love and miss who have gone before us in faith. We write their names in our "Book of the Dead" which is more than a memory, but a prayer of thanksgiving for how they touched our lives. It's a prayer that God, who knows us by name, is holding them forever in His hands. The Book is now located in the narthex and will remain there until Advent. As in year's past, we have put up a table if you would also like to include a picture of your loved one.
- Masses in celebration of All Saints Day on November 1 are at 7:00 AM and 7:30 PM. (Because of the COVID distancing protocols in place for children, the 8:30 AM Mass will be for the school and for our homeschool families.)
- On Tuesday, November 9, the historic monstrance that was used during the Eucharistic Conference in 1926 at Mundelein Seminary will be here at Saint Hubert during Adoration from 5:00 PM to 7:00 PM. Our seminarian, Deacon David Jameson, will conduct a prayer service and Benediction beginning at 7:00 PM. We will be praying for an increase in vocations.

May Christ continue to help us see more clearly each and every day.

—Fr. Mike

Please note that Fr. Mike will be away from the Parish from October 26-29 on a retreat to gain more insight into the Gospel of Luke. He'll be with his family on October 30 for a funeral in Wisconsin.

Pope Francis has called the world Church into Synod. Preparations for it begin now and will culminate in the bishops of the world gathering in Synod at Rome in 2023. The theme of this synod is “For a Synodal Church: Communion, Participation and Mission.” By convening this synod, Pope Francis invites the entire Church to reflect on a theme that is decisive for its life and mission. It is precisely this path of synodality which God expects of the Church of the third millennium. Following in the wake of the renewal of the Church proposed by the Second Vatican Council, this common journey together is both a gift and a task.” The objective of the current Synod is to listen, as the entire people of God, to what the Holy Spirit is saying to the Church...the whole synod process aims at fostering a lived experience of discernment, participation and co-responsibility. Synods are a time to dream and “spend time with the future.” We are encouraged to express an innovative outlook; to be inclusive; to keep an open mind; to listen to each and every one; to capture an understanding of journeying together; and to value and involve the role and vocation of each member of the Body of Christ.

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD

When we see God with true sincerity of heart and God passes us along our way, it is only then that we will be able to cry out, "Jesus, son of David, have pity on me!" We have to truly want to be healed by, and in union with, God in order for us to reach out to him. If God is only an abstract idea, theory, or someone found in the pages of a book, there is no motivation for a relationship and no desire to seek him. God needs to be real in order for faith to be real. It's all about the journey.

St. Augustine reminds us that "to fall in love with God is the greatest romance; to seek Him the greatest adventure; to find Him the greatest human achievement." We strive after many things and mercy is not always one of them. We think that we can find fulfillment and healing in other things only to discover that we are still short and empty. From the moment human beings were created, God has been calling us and seeking us. He has been walking right beside the human story from the minute He first breathed life into the first human soul. Are we able to recognize God as He walks with us? At some point we have to realize that there is only one way to satisfy the deepest longings of the human heart and that is in relationship with our Creator. We are called to this. However, we make the huge error of thinking that what we are hearing is coming from somewhere else. We become confused. Every human being would certainly profit with wisdom if they realized Who calls them and to Whom they belong.

Then and only then will we realize that it is only our Divine Master who can give us true vision and heal us. Once we recognize and reach out for the merciful presence of our loving Maker, we will be able to see with our soul, understanding the true nature and depth of all things. God's mercy is always available. It doesn't matter how far we have strayed or how blind we become, God patiently waits to console us, guide us and heal us. All we need to do is desire Him. Once we reach out, we also realize that there is no greater love to be found than God's, no human adventure that comes even close to the thrill of a spiritual search, and no human achievement even remotely as satisfying as union with Him. This is where we belong. This is salvation.

Seeing in a Deeper Way

By Ron Rolheiser, OMI

Sometimes you can see a whole lot of things just by looking. That's one of Yogi Berra's infamous aphorisms. It's a clever expression of course, but, sadly, perhaps mostly, the opposite is truer. Mostly we do a whole lot of looking without really seeing much. Seeing implies more than having good eyesight. Our eyes can be wide open and we can be seeing very little.

I've always been intrigued by how scripture describes Paul immediately after his conversion. We always assume that it tells us that Paul was struck blind by his vision, but, I think, the text implies more. It tells us that Paul got up off the ground with his eyes wide open, seeing nothing. That doesn't necessarily equate with physical blindness. He may well have been seeing physically, but he wasn't seeing the meaning of what he was getting himself into. Someone had to come and open his eyes, not just so that he could see again physically but especially that he could see more deeply into the mystery of Christ. Seeing, truly seeing, implies more than having eyes that are physically healthy and open. We all see the outer surface of things, but what's beneath isn't as automatically seen.

We see this, for instance, in what's contained inside the healing miracles of Jesus. In the Gospels, we see Jesus perform a number of healings. He heals lame people, deaf people, mute people, people with leprosy, and two women who for different reasons are unable to become pregnant. What's important to see in these various miracles is that, almost always, there's more at issue than mere physical healing. Jesus is healing people in a deeper way, that is, he is healing the lame so that they can walk in freedom and in service of God. He is healing the deaf so that they can hear the Good News. He is healing the mute so that they can open their mouths in praise. And he is healing those who are hemorrhaging interiorly so that they can bring new life to birth.

We see this most clearly at those times when Jesus heals people who are blind. He's giving them more than just physical sight; he's opening their eyes so that that can see more deeply. But that's only an image. How might it be unpackaged? How can the grace and teachings of Jesus help us to see in a deeper way? Here are some suggestions:

- By shifting our eyes from seeing through familiarity to seeing through wonder.

G.K. Chesterton once affirmed that familiarity is the greatest of all illusions and that the secret to life is to learn to look at things familiar until they look unfamiliar again. We open our eyes to depth when we open ourselves to wonder.

- By shifting our eyes from seeing through paranoia and self-protection to seeing through metanoia and nurture.

It is not incidental that the first word out of Jesus' mouth in the Synoptic Gospels is the word "metanoia", a word that opposes itself to "paranoia". We open our eyes to depth with we shift from a posture of self-protection to a posture of nurture.

- By shifting our eyes from seeing through jealousy to seeing through admiration.

Our perception becomes distorted whenever we move from the happy state of admiration to the unhappy state of envy. Our eyesight is clear when we delight in admiration.

- By shifting our eyes from seeing through bitterness to seeing through eyes purified and softened by grief.

The root of bitterness is wound and the way out of bitterness is grieving. Tears clear our eyesight because they soften a heart hardened by wound.

- By shifting our eyes from seeing through fantasy and auto-eroticism to seeing through appreciation and prayer.

One of the key movements within our spiritual lives is the movement from fantasy to prayer, a movement that ultimately frees us from wanting to press to ourselves all that's beautiful to appreciating beauty for its own sake. We can only really see and appreciate beauty when we stop lusting for it.

- By shifting our eyes from seeing through relevance to seeing through contemplation.

Our longing for relevance makes us look out at the world with restless, dissatisfied eyes. We practice mindfulness and see the richness of the present moment only when our disquiet is stilled by solitude.

- By shifting our eyes from seeing through anger to seeing through forgiveness.

Nothing taints our eyesight as much as anger. It's the most debilitating of all cataracts. And nothing cleanses our vision as much as forgiveness. Nobody holding a grudge sees straight.

- By shifting our eyes from seeing through longing and hunger to seeing through gratitude.

Longing and hunger distort our vision. Gratitude restores it. It enables insight. The most grateful person you know has the best eyesight of all the people you know.

Love is the eye! So say the medieval mystics, in wisdom that needs to be added to the medical vocabulary of contemporary optometry. Seeing straight has more dimensions than we normally imagine.

From the Business Office Stewardship of Treasure Report

We are so very grateful for everyone who has consistently contributed to our Parish over the past couple of years. We know it has been a difficult time for many. Like many families, businesses and organizations we find ourselves trying to pull through as best we can. As we began our new fiscal year, we found that we experienced shortfalls over the past two months. Last week, we faced the hard news we will need to replace one of our major heating units, which will cost approximately $14,000.

As we also look forward to the end of the current fiscal year, in order not to draw funds from our savings, we forecast a need of an additional $32,000 a month between now and June 30. As such, if you are able to increase your weekly contribution or to make an additional donation to our Parish, it would help a great deal.

Thank you for your continued generosity and support of our Parish...our spiritual Home.

COUNTERS NEEDED

We have had some wonderful volunteers who have been counting our weekly donations since the Church reopened, but we are now in need of some more people to help. Counting is done on Monday mornings after the 8:30 AM Mass in the Parish Ministry Center. You don't need an accounting background just a willingness to help. We will show you how. We are seeking enough volunteers so you would only have to come once a month or less. Counting takes between about an hour and a half to complete.

If you are interested in volunteering for this ministry, please contact Joyce Manfre at 847-885-4925 or jmanfre@sainthubert.org.

Thank you for considering helping.

"There is no problem, I tell you, no matter how difficult it is, that we cannot resolve by the prayer of the Holy Rosary."

–Sister Lucia dos Santos, Fatima seer

The month of October each year is dedicated to the Most Holy Rosary. It was instituted to honor the Blessed Virgin Mary in gratitude for the protection that she gives the Church in answer to the praying of the Rosary by the faithful.

The feast was introduced by Pope St. Pius V (1504-1572) in the year 1571 to commemorate the miraculous victory of the Christian forces in the Battle of Lepanto on October 7, 1571. The pope attributed more to the "arms" of the Rosary than the power of cannons and the valor of the soldiers who fought there.

Every Friday morning at 8:00 a.m., we gather in Church to pray the rosary before the 8:30 a.m. Mass.

It would be wonderful if you could join us in this beautiful prayer. If you are unable to join us, perhaps you could find time to pray the rosary at home. There is a link on our website under "Pray - Devotional Prayer" if you would like to pray the rosary virtually with us.

When I Call for Help: A Pastoral Response to Domestic Violence.....

Excerpts from the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops 1992, 2002

“As pastors of the Catholic Church in the United States, we state as clearly and strongly as we can that violence against women, inside or outside the home, is never justified. Violence in any form ‘---physical, sexual, psychological or verbal’ ---is sinful; often, it is a crime as well. We have called for a moral revolution to replace a culture of violence. We acknowledge that violence has many forms, many causes, and many victims---men as well as women. (1)

The Catholic Church teaches that violence against another person in any form fails to treat that person as someone worthy of love. Instead, it treats the person as an object to be used. When violence occurs within a sacramental marriage, the abused spouse may question, “How do these violent acts relate to my promise to take my spouse for better or for worse?” The person being assaulted needs to know that acting to end the abuse does not violate the marriage promises. (2)

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops condemns the use of the Bible to support abusive behavior in any form. A correct reading of Scripture leads people to an understanding of the equal dignity of men and women to relationships based on mutuality and love. They clearly emphasize that no person is expected to stay in an abusive marriage. Violence and abuse, not divorce, can break up a marriage.” (3)

20% of your pre-tax bill including dine-in and carryout, but excluding liquor charges, will be donated to the Charities of Council #6964

Here's how it works. It is an all-day event, so you can come for lunch, dinner or both (open to close). You can bring your business colleagues from work for lunch and then the family for dinner. Make sure you bring a flyer for each visit.

- These flyers may be copied and passed out to anyone and everyone PRIOR to the scheduled event. ANYONE suspected of passing out flyers on the day of the event on Pilot Pete's property may cause a penalty deduction or forfeit the entire donation.
- This flyer must be turned in to your server at the time of payment along with a copy of your bill in order to receive credit for the donation. Once you've left the building you may not return with a flyer to apply to a bill.

Stocking Stuffer

Once again, St. Hubert will be holding its annual Stocking Stuffer event in November.

We need SMALL items that can fit into 8-inch treat bags, such as:

- Miniature stuffed animals or Beanie Babies (new)
- New items which you purchase (party favor sized prizes)
- Happy Meal toys (new, preferably unopened)
- Candy (even leftover Halloween Candy)

**Please note that we cannot use pencils and lollipops as these tear holes in the treat bags**

St. Hubert provides stuffed treat bags to our sharing parish, St. Aloysius, Gigi's Playhouse, TLC Pregnancy Services, and other needy organizations each year. Your generosity has been overwhelming in the past, and we ask for your help once again.

Please bring donations to the Parish Office. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Nina at nina.kindelin@gmail.com.

Thank you and God bless you!

Helping Hands Ministry

We'd like to believe that when needing support, we all have a family member or friend close by to help out. Unfortunately, this is not always the case. Or perhaps, a great deal of support is needed requiring more support than family members are able to provide. The Helping Hands Ministry was formed to assist members in our parish, free of charge, in various ways. To request assistance or to volunteer, please contact the St. Hubert front desk at 847-885-7700, ext. 102 and your request will be shared with the Helping Hands Coordinator.
