SUNDAY OF EASTER

"In my Father's house there are many dwelling places." - Jn 14:2

May 7, 2023

A Place for Us

Traveling through the Easter Season

In today's gospel Jesus is giving advice to his apostles. He's preparing them for the time of his resurrection and ascension into heaven. He tells them not to be troubled because he's prepared a place for us to be with him so that we are always together.

Immediately we think of life after death. Heaven is the "place" where God fully is. So, Jesus prepares a place for us to constantly be with him; to constantly be loved. He brings us into a new way of being when we pass over from this world into the next. We begin a whole new adventure in what it means to live.

But, on the other hand, maybe the place he's prepared for us isn't just something we have to wait to experience. Maybe the "place" is already within our reach. It's not "in a galaxy far, far, away." In fact, heaven and earth come together in the person of Jesus Christ—human and divine. Heaven is where God is present—and that gets us thinking. Maybe the "place" we can find God, and be with God, is accessible here and now. Maybe it's closer than we think.

Maybe there are dwelling places we can also find here on earth. And so, the search begins.

One "place" we find him is in every Catholic Church on the face of the earth. Jesus is present in the Eucharist. That's why we call Holy Communion "a taste of heaven". We don't have to wait for heaven, heaven can be held in the palm of our hand. It's also in the Word of Life—in God's word that we all have access to in our Bibles.

Another "place" we find him is in the good things we do for one another. Jesus will say today, "Whoever believes in me will do the works that I do, and will do greater ones than these" (emphasis mine).

That's the kind of faith Jesus has in you and me. It's hard to think we can do anything greater than what Jesus did. But then, he's challenging us to change our thinking: maybe we can! Heaven is where love is pure, and in doing the needful and right thing to help a person in need we get a glimpse of heaven. It's in the experience of helping each other—maybe even in getting from one day to the next. Mother Teresa helps us see that the greatest things we can do may be in the smallest of things we do when we do them with great love.

And then, Jesus also has us pray some powerful words: "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven." Heaven is where our will matches God's. It's where we are in synch; where we are together.

The places we find God are the places where God is present. A blessing in life is seeing where God opens himself up to us. It's in the Eucharist. It's in God's word. It's in the good things we do out of love for each other. It's in the discovery that God's will can be our own.

Wherever we find it, please know I feel very blessed to be on this journey with you as we discover the places Jesus has prepared for us to find him alive and with us. Easter is the dawn of something new—an opening to seeing God where God makes himself known.

Peace and Good Things,

—Fr. Mike

PLEASE JOIN US FOR THE ROSARY

For centuries, the Catholic Church has set aside the entire month of May to honor Mary, the Mother of God. Every Friday morning at 8:00 AM, we gather in church to pray the rosary before the 8:30 AM Mass. It would be wonderful if you could join us in this beautiful prayer. If you are unable to join us, perhaps you could find time to pray the rosary at home. You can pray the rosary along with a recording featuring St. Hubert Parishioners, which can be found on the St. Hubert website under Devotional Prayers.

If you can't make it to church this weekend, you can still contribute to our Sunday Offering electronically by scanning this QR code or texting SUNDAY to 312-248-6203.

“Jesus said to him,

“I am the way and the truth and the life.

No one comes to the Father except through me.

If you know me, then you will also know my Father.”

— John 14:6-7

If you had to summarize the essential core of the Christian life, what would it be? Mercy, truth, or love, perhaps? The readings today suggest another word which may surprise you. That word is priesthood.

St. Peter says to us, “You are a ‘chosen race, a royal priesthood...” To be part of a priesthood is to offer a particular sacrifice in order for the community to survive and thrive. Jesus is the great high priest because he offers the one perfect sacrifice which heals and perfects the entire human race. Peter the Apostle wants us to know that all the baptized share in this priestly ministry. The whole of our lives, including every detail, is meant to become our acceptable offering to God.

The baptized exercise this priesthood in many ways, I’ll mention three. At Sunday Mass, in private prayer, and in daily work. At Mass, we offer the sacrifice of our lives with that of the priest, who symbolizes Christ the Priest. In our prayer, a “morning offering” prayer is a great way to offer up all the joys and sufferings of the day to come. In our daily work, we sacrifice our time, comfort, money, and energy to do good for others. All this gives the deepest possible meaning to our lives: we share in the priesthood which saves the world. That’s at the core of our faith.

Going on Ahead

“I go on ahead to prepare a place for you!” Jesus speaks those words to his disciples. His words are meant to console them and give them the assurance that they aren’t being abandoned. It’s just that he is going on ahead to prepare a place for them to come and join him later.

That story speaks to me very personally because of how one of my sisters died. She was young, the mother of a large family, and seemingly too young to leave her young children behind. She was dying of a cancer that, while relentlessly doing its deadly work, mercifully left her relatively pain-free and clear in mind and heart to the very end. The cancer eventually took her to a point where she could no longer eat, but could still be nourished for a time by intravenous transfusions. But these too eventually no longer worked and, once unhooked from the intravenous needles, she was told that she had roughly a week still to live. She chose to spend those last days in a hospital rather than at home, with her family having easy, 24-hour, access to her hospice bed.

The days leading up to her death were a sacred time. I took her communion several days before she died and, with her head still very clear, she told me what I should say at her funeral liturgy. She had chosen that exact text where Jesus, on the night before he dies, tells his heavy-hearted disciples that he is going ahead, to prepare a place for them. She shared how, before every one of her children was born, before she went to the hospital to give birth, she had carefully prepared everything at home for the new arrival, the crib, the diapers, the clothing, the room. She brought each of her children home to a place she had carefully prepared. And now she was going on ahead of them again, to prepare another place for them.

I preached those words at her funeral and despite our grief and despite the fact that in moments like these there is nothing really that can be said that takes away the pain, her raw testimony of faith left us with an image that placed us all, not least her husband and children, inside a bigger story, a faith-narrative, that highlighted two things.

First, the image of her going on ahead of her children awakened our grieving faith to the truth that a mother can go on ahead to prepare a place for her children in much deeper ways than simply bringing a new-born home from a hospital. Second, her “going ahead” was also showing her children, and the rest of us, how to die, how to do that act that we all someday must do. After you watch a good person die, you become less afraid to die yourself because you see how it can be done in an ordinary way, by an ordinary person, in a way that you can also do. In her dying, she prepared a place for us.

But this isn’t a lesson only about dying. This image, I go on ahead to prepare a place for you, is a metaphor which defines the essential task of our adult, mature years. Our task of as “elders”, whether that be as a mother or father, an older brother or older sister, an uncle or an aunt, a teacher, a clergyman, a nurse, a worker, a colleague, or a friend, is to live in such a way so as to create a place where the young can follow. Our task as adults is to show the young how to live at a place where they’ve never been as yet.

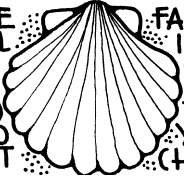

And it is both a noble and humble task. Most of us cannot live up to the lofty ideals we see lived out in the lives of the great saints, though their lives have created an ideal place for us. However, while not everyone can live as Mother Teresa did, perhaps they can live like you do and your life can be their exemplar for meaning, wholeness, anonymous sanctity, and dying without unnecessary fear.

I’ve been graced to be at the deathbed of a goodly number of ordinary people who died very ordinary looking deaths, with no choirs of angels silently chanting in the background, no alleluias on their lips, with pain and thirst dominating their concerns, with their hands being tightly grasped by loved ones, and their hearts still very much focused on the pain of leaving this world. And that’s not a bad way to die. In how they managed their deaths they prepared a place for me. Looking at how they died, I am far less fearful and can more readily say: I can do this!

What a grace to have someone go on ahead to prepare a place for you!

• MAKE ALL WHO ARE BAPTIZED INTO CHRIST FAITHFUL IN OUR CALLING TO BE YOUR CHILDREN •

CHILDREN'S MINISTRY OF INITIATION RITE OF WELCOME 2023 May 7 at the 10:00 AM Mass

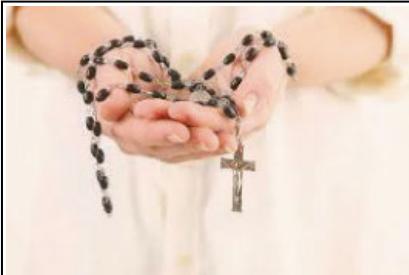

Over the past several months, a number of children with their families have become a part of Children's Ministry of Initiation (CMI). This year all the children in CMI are baptized Catholics. They are all preparing for the Sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist. They will make public their intention to follow Jesus and continue in sacramental preparation for the initiation sacraments. From this point on, these children, who are already baptized, will be called candidates. Watch for their photos on our kiosk in the narthex of the church.

As part of our mission, the entire community is called upon to welcome and support these children in their formation and discernment. It will be our duty to pray for them and with them throughout the year in the liturgy – especially in the Rite of Sending for Election and Continuing Conversion, in the early spring of 2024, and the Rites of Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist at the Easter Vigil in 2024. We will be asked to help them learn about our faith in the traditions of our Church – as they continue to participate in CMI and as they grow in appropriating a gospel life that connects faith with action.

Certain people have also been asked to assist them and their families' in varied support roles as sponsors, godparents, and catechists.

Thanks for joining us in prayer as they make this important step on their journey of faith.

If you have an unbaptized child over the age of seven, or uncatechized child over the age of 8, who is interested in receiving the sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist, please contact Marie Staffa at 847-885-7700, ext. 124 or email mstaffa@sainthubert.org.

Come join the Knights of Columbus Council 6964 every 2nd Thursday of the month at 6:15 PM as they pray the Rosary.

The knights welcome all to join them at St. Hubert Church. Spend some prayer-filled moments at church. Bring your Rosary and join this community in prayer.

We need YOUR help to extend the Tax Credit Scholarship Program!

Let your legislators know you value this program, what it means to the St. Hubert Catholic School community, and ask them to #RemoveTheSunset!

Did you know more than 17 scholarships have been awarded to St. Hubert Catholic School students for the 2023-24 school year thanks to the Invest in Kids Tax Credit Scholarship Program?

Many deserving students would not be able to attend St. Hubert Catholic School without these scholarships. Our school community is stronger from these scholarships, too, as the recipients truly exhibit what it means to be a St. Hubert Catholic School student.

Passed in 2017, the Invest in Kids Tax Credit Scholarship Program provides scholarships to students from low-income and working-class families to attend their best-fit school. The program is a proven success with bipartisan voter support, awarding more than 38,000 scholarships worth more than $300 million.

Despite its immense success, the Tax Credit Scholarship Program is a pilot program, and has a sunset clause, which would end the program in 2023, unless our state lawmakers vote to extend or make the program permanent.

When you go to <https://p2a.co/gmqrehi>, it will take you less than one minute to complete the process.
Thank you for your support!
