This Saturday, we gathered to celebrate our Independence Day, the nation paused to rejoice in the profound blessings of liberty that define our homeland. We lift our hearts in praise to God, recognizing that “Every good gift comes from the Lord”.

Among His greatest gifts to us is the precious freedom we enjoy—the ability to live, worship, speak, and pursue happiness without the shadow of tyranny. In a world where such liberties remain elusive for many, we must never take these blessings for granted. This year carries special historical weight as we mark the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. A nation of self-governance, rooted in principles of God-given rights, stands as a beacon to the world.

My own journey to being a citizen has given me a deeply personal appreciation for what American freedom truly means. Though born and raised in the southern regions of India, I later served as a missionary in North India. In North India, the reality of life without robust religious freedom is stark and often dangerous. Churches are still attacked, sometimes burned or vandalized by religious extremists. Christians face discrimination in employment, education, and daily life simply for professing their faith in Jesus Christ. Conversion can lead to social ostracism, legal harassment, or violence from segments of the Hindu majority. Worshipping openly often meant living with constant fear—of mobs, of police indifference and rejection. Christian communities still live in tension: these were the daily realities I witnessed. The contrast with life in the United States could not be more humbling or inspiring.

Upon arriving in America, I experienced firsthand the immense blessing of a nation founded on the ideal that all people are “endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights.” Here, we can gather in churches without fear of arson or arrest. We can proclaim the Gospel publicly, teach our children the truths of our Catholic faith, and participate in civic life as people of faith. We enjoy the freedom to celebrate sacraments, organize charitable works, and advocate for moral principles in the public square. This liberty extends beyond religion to include speech, assembly, and the pursuit of justice. It is a rare and fragile gift in human history, one that demands vigilant stewardship and grateful hearts.

This year in particular, let us remember in fervent prayer our brothers and sisters in Christ around the globe who still endure persecution. In nations across Asia, the Middle East Africa, and elsewhere, Christians face imprisonment, discrimination, and martyrdom for their beliefs. Reports from organizations tracking religious freedom paint a sobering picture: millions live under regimes or cultural majorities hostile to the Gospel. We pray for God’s strength, protection, and comfort for them. May the Lord open doors for greater liberty, and may their witness inspire us to value our own freedoms more deeply.

We also give thanks to the visionary Founding Fathers who, guided by Judeo-Christian principles and Enlightenment ideals, established this republic on bedrock values of liberty, justice, equality before the law, and the inherent dignity of every human person. They understood that true freedom flourishes when rooted in moral responsibility and reverence for God. Their courage in declaring independence against overwhelming odds set in motion an experiment in ordered liberty that has endured and inspired countless millions.

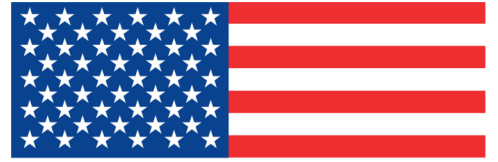

Equally vital are the brave men and women in uniform—our military personnel, veterans, and first responders—who defend these freedoms at great personal cost. Many have sacrificed limbs, peace of mind, or their very lives so that we might enjoy cookouts, fireworks, and family gatherings in safety. Their dedication ensures that the blessings of liberty endure for future generations.

May we promote truth, defend freedom, and extend love not only within our borders but to the ends of the earth, through missionary work, advocacy, charitable giving, and lives lived as faithful witnesses. May God continue to bless America, her citizens, and all who yearn for the same liberties we cherish. Let this 250th anniversary not merely mark a milestone but rekindle in us a deeper patriotism grounded in faith, gratitude, and resolve.

Father Tomy Abraham

“Among you I am a man of faith, with you I am a Christian, and for you I am a priest.”

GOSPEL MEDITATION

ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

This weekend, our nation celebrates the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Unlike most nations, the United States was not founded primarily on a shared ethnicity, language, or culture. Instead, our founders built a political community out of diverse peoples united by a shared vision of liberty. That vision echoes something deep in the Christian mystery revealed in today's Gospel.

Jesus returns to his hometown. The people see only what is familiar: the carpenter, the son of Mary, one of their own. As Mark tells us, "They took offense at him. Jesus said, 'A prophet is not without honor except in his native place and among his own kin and in his own house.'" Their narrow vision blinds them. Jesus has come to inaugurate a new communion that transcends geography, bloodlines, and culture. He has come to unite all people in himself.

At its best, America's national unity reflects this possibility, which fully subsists only in the Catholic Church. Our unity is not based on ancestry or tribe, but on a shared commitment to higher ideals. For this reason, we can love our country with gratitude while situating patriotism within the broader horizon of faith.

Rooted in Christ, we are less vulnerable to the unholy tribalism that threatens civic life and faith. This weekend, let us thank God for our nation and pray that we also live as citizens of Heaven in Jesus Christ.

OCIA

ORDER OF CHRISTIAN
INITIATION FOR ADULTS

BECOMING CATHOLIC

OCIA (Order of Christian Initiation for Adults) is a process of exploring the teachings of Jesus Christ and the Catholic Church, including the opportunity to become Catholic through the Sacraments of Initiation: Baptism, First Communion, and Confirmation.

Holy Archangels Catholic Parish is a Eucharistic community that places God first in all things and comes together as a family to love as Christ loves and serve as Christ serves.

OCIA IS FOR YOU IF YOU ARE:

- Someone who has never been a part of a formal religion.
- Someone who was raised and/or baptized in another faith tradition and now wishes to become Catholic.
- An adult who received some but not all of the sacraments.

OCIA PROCESS

INQUIRY | The first step of the OCIA journey is scheduling a time to meet to explain the process and answer your questions. Wherever you are in your journey, you can inquire at any time.

LEARNING MORE | Sessions meet weekly on Monday nights.

ONGOING SUPPORT | An OCIA team and catechists, along with sponsors and godparents, will guide you through the process. Our parish community will also support you through prayer during your time of preparation.
