The Feast of the Baptism of the Lord
January 13, 2019

Today, we officially end our Christmas season with the Baptism of our Lord. Tomorrow, we'll once again move to the color green of ordinary time. Christ's baptism is an important event in his life. In the Gospels, Jesus' baptism marks the beginning of his public ministry and his proclamation of God's kingdom.

As we celebrate Jesus' baptism today, we might ask ourselves: Why would Jesus have to be baptized if he was the Son of God and already free from sin? What insights can we learn from his baptism. And what does our own baptism really mean for us in our daily lives?

Those in the crowd who came to John the Baptist were baptized in repentance for their sins, yet Jesus had no sins for which he needed to repent. John baptized them so they could turn away from sin, but this also pointed to something much greater, to Jesus, who would take on humanity's sins and who would pay for them by making God's forgiveness available to all who seek it. John told the crowds: "I am baptizing you with water...He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire." Jesus was baptized publicly not only in recognition of his role in our redemption and in taking away our sins, but also to reveal his identity as God's Son. After Jesus' baptism and the time he spends in prayer, the Holy Spirit descended upon him and the voice of the Father came forth, calling him his beloved Son.

Jesus' baptism is at the heart of his mission to heal us, reaching out to our sinfulness and brokenness. Jesus' baptism helps us recall our own baptism and the promise and hope it brings. Our Catholic faith is rich in powerful symbolism. Water is one of our most meaningful symbols, as it reminds us of the new life we receive from Christ in baptism. We have a water font at the entrance as we come into church— I see so many parishioners use that holy water to make the sign of the cross as they enter and exit the church. Sometimes, when I go to visit the sick or shut-ins, I carry a container of holy water in order to bless them and to remind them of their baptismal promises, of how Christ the Good Shepherd leads us to streams of living water. Water is a very earthy symbol for us as human beings, reminding us that water makes our life on earth possible, and that from a spiritual perspective, the baptismal water gives us new life in Christ.

In our own baptism, in our life of faith, we all have many people who point us to Jesus and who connect us to God's kingdom. Jesus had his family who taught him in the ways of the faith, just as most of us had parents, godparents, and other family members present us for baptism as infants and who raised us and formed us in the faith. We also had others outside of our extended family who prepared us in the faith, who were examples and inspirations for us.

Through the new life in Christ that we gained in our baptism, through the baptism of Jesus that we celebrate today, may we all try to live that new life with passion and dedication in a way that is truly worthy of our calling as followers of Our Lord Jesus Christ.

BAPTISMAL PREP CLASS:

Baptismal Prep – A Baptismal Prep class will be held on Wednesday, January 16, at 6:30 pm in the classroom across from the office. This class is designed for first-time new/expecting parents or parents of children under the age of 7 who are Baptizing a child in the Catholic faith for the first time. Registration is required. Please contact Stacy in the office by Monday, January 14, if you wish to attend.

The Catholic Church has always demonstrated a concern for children. The Diocese of Jackson is committed to ensuring that children served by the church are not at risk of sexual abuse by the Church personnel.

Diocesan policies and procedures currently in place seek to protect, enhance and, in some cases, restore the trust that our faith calls for between agents of the Church and the children and adolescents entrusted to our care. In accordance with the Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People passed by the U.S. bishops in Dallas, the Diocese of Jackson wishes to encourage any victim of sexual abuse by a member of the Catholic Clergy to come forward and begin the healing process. When an allegation is found to be credible, counseling will be offered, so that the healing process can begin in accord with our present diocesan policy. We encourage any victim to contact Ms. Valerie McClellan, Victims Assistance Coordinator at 601-326-3728.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Merry Christmas! Share that cheerful greeting with some folks today. They may wonder if you have had any Elvis sightings lately, attended Star Trekkie conventions, or were Cleopatra in a previous lifetime. Despite the skeptics, today is solidly within the Christmas season. In fact, in some strands of the Christian tradition it represents the clearest manifestation of the mystery of the Incarnation. On Christmas Day, for example, the Gospel reading is the Prologue of John's Gospel, which reveals the glory of Christ shining through our humanity precisely in his baptism.

At any rate, this is an ancient feast, celebrated first in Egypt sixteen centuries ago. More than most other ancient people, the Egyptians understood the life-giving properties of water. On this day, they drew water from the Nile, so central in the history of their people, and reserved it in honor. Many other places copied the custom, so that St. John Chrysostom wrote of people in Antioch gathering at midnight to collect flowing water into vessels they brought from home since "today there is a blessing on the water." At home for dinner tonight, decorate the table with beautiful bowls of water and white candles, toast one another with goblets of sparkling water, and light a Christmas candle in the window one last time.
