Dedicated to Growth in Christ and to The Challenges of Loving Service

Each summer, the Church presents us with several weeks of readings with St. John's Gospel in which Jesus explains to his disciples (and to us) the meaning of the bread of Life and how he himself feeds us with the Bread of his Body. So though this is Year B when the Sunday Gospels are from St. Mark in sequence, the Sundays from July 25 through August 22 offer us the opportunity to reflect on the meaning of Jesus' gift of himself as the food and drink that gives life to the world. Today's First Reading was chosen with John's Gospel in mind. In this reading from Exodus, the Israelites have just escaped slavery in Egypt. But now, hungry and thirsty in the desert, they have forgotten the God who saved them and can only grumble about the lack of food. Through Moses, God feeds them bread from heaven, while in today's Gospel Jesus reveals himself as the true bread from heaven.
