Dedicated to Growth in Christ and to
The Challenges of Loving Service

In today's First Reading and in the Gospel, we meet two very poor widows. In the Old Testament reading, Elijah the Prophet encounters a widow and her son who are about to die. Even in the face of utter poverty, the widow decides to trust the Prophet and his God, and offers all she has left to eat in order to make a small cake for Elijah. God rewards her trust with lavish abundance. Jesus points to a poor widow in his town who acts with the same profound unselfishness. This is the fifth of six weeks during which we hear a passage from the Letter to the Hebrews. The author reminds us that in offering his very own life to God, Jesus offered a sacrifice that is complete and unrepeatable. Jesus dies once for all, bringing healing and wholeness to all who await him.

Jesus himself is the eternal High Priest and the Sacrifice.
