POWERFUL PRAYER TO SAINT MICHAEL

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do Thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host - by the Divine Power of God - cast into hell, satan and all the evil spirits, who roam throughout the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

May the Lord give you His peace. We continue to trudge through the month of January as the snow and ice continue to cover the land. “Bless the Lord, all you works of the Lord, praise and exalt him above all forever...Cold and chill, bless the Lord; praise and exalt him above all forever” (Dn 3:57,67). The former are excerpts from the Book of Daniel’s prayer of the three Israelites in the furnace. They praise God for all of creation, including fire and heat, frost and chill. By praising God in this way, their lives were spared. Not a hair on their heads was singed. We do well to praise God for the many blessings he has bestowed on us, even in the midst of nasty snow storms. Perhaps we may pray, “Salt and plows, bless the Lord; wipers and anti-lock brakes, bless the Lord; sunshine and car washes, bless the Lord!” Let us also bless the Lord for Guardian Angels, who watch over and protect us, especially in ice and snow.

Today’s readings show us the fulfillment of Sacred Scripture in Jesus. The prophet Isaiah says, “The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light.” Those people were the Gentiles, and that light is Jesus Christ. Matthew tells us that Jesus went to live in Capernaum, which was part of the region of Zebulun and Naphtali, which fulfills what Isaiah says, “First the Lord degraded the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali; but in the end he has glorified the seaward road, the land west of the Jordan, the District of the Gentiles.” ‘In the end,’ that is, the time of fulfillment, the beginning of the eschaton (the “end times”), the coming of the Lord. In this first coming, Jesus directs his followers to the eschaton and the coming of the kingdom of heaven. In fact, the Greek text implies that Jesus was constantly preaching, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.” Indeed, the kingdom of heaven is at hand through Jesus, the one upon whom John saw the spirit of God descend and remain. Of course, we await the return of the Son of Man, who will judge the world and gather the faithful to himself.

It is good for us to hear about the kingdom of heaven, because it focuses us on our destination. With Catholicism, we start with the end and work our way back to the beginning. In other words, our destination helps to inform how we live our lives, because our Blessed Lord gave us a certain set of commandments and beatitudes to follow. By doing so, we are in a process of becoming more prepared for our destination. Jesus’ own command to “Repent, and believe in the gospel,” is a command to turn from sinful ways and embrace holiness, virtue, and love (Mk. 1:15b). That is not to say we were not capable of love prior to this deeper conversion, but that our love is perfected by Christ. As St. Paul says, “I urge you, brothers and sisters, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree in what you say, and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and in the same purpose,” so too must we be united in the one teaching of Jesus—not following others, or ourselves as social media would tempt us to do. Jesus’ teaching is not limiting, but freeing. It shows us how to live life more abundantly by prioritizing the needs and concerns of others while disciplining ourselves to imitate Christ.

What about us? Are we seeking to turn from sin and more fully embrace the way of Jesus? Just as Jesus walks along the Sea of Galilee calling his disciples, so too does he call each of us to, “Come after me...” What an awesome invitation! The Son of the Most High God has called each of us to follow him. So, while we may find the dead of winter difficult, cold, and harsh, let us remember that the Lord has called us to eternal life in heaven, where the temperature is eternally perfect. And let us say to the Lord, “Blessed are you in the firmament of heaven, praiseworthy and glorious forever...Sun and moon, bless the Lord; praise and exalt him above all forever...Fire and heat, bless the Lord; praise and exalt him above all forever. Cold and chill, bless the Lord; praise and exalt him above all forever” (Dn. 3:56,62,66-67).

Pax,
Fr. Jim

Prayer for the Unborn

Heavenly Father, in Your love for us, protect against the wickedness of the devil, those helpless little ones to whom You have given the gift of life.

Touch with pity the hearts of those women pregnant in our world today who are not thinking of motherhood.

Help them to see that the child they carry is made in Your image - as well as theirs - made for eternal life.

Dispel their fear and selfishness and give them true womanly hearts to love their babies and give them birth and all the needed care that a mother can give.

We ask this through Jesus Christ, Your Son, Our Lord, Who lives and reigns with You and the Holy Spirit, One God, forever and ever.

Amen.

Joseph Paolini, Sr.

Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him. Amen.
