POWERFUL PRAYER TO SAINT MICHAEL

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do Thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host - by the Divine Power of God - cast into hell, satan and all the evil spirits, who roam throughout the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

To reserve a Mass for your loved one, please visit or call the Parish Office during normal business hours.

May the Lord give you His peace. I hope by now everyone has gotten dug out of the ice and snow. The St. Isaac's parking lot is quite the winter wonderland with all the giant mounds of snow. It should go without saying, those mounds are not for climbing...even if the thought had crossed all our minds! ☺

In his Wednesday Audiences, Pope Leo continues to offer catechesis on the documents of the Second Vatican Council. On January 21, he continued to reflect on the Dogmatic Constitution Dei Verbum (Divine Word), and explored how Divine Revelation unfolds through Jesus Christ, the Incarnate Word of God. He emphasized that revelation is a relational dialogue, a covenant between God and humanity, fostering communion and reciprocity. God reveals himself through Christ, offering a personal encounter where individuals discover the truth and are known by God in their deepest essence. Jesus reveals the Father by inviting us into his relationship with the Father, facilitated by the Holy Spirit. This knowledge is rooted in Christ's humanity, highlighting the importance of embracing his "integral humanity" to fully understand God's truth. God chose to be one with humanity through the Son. Luke's Gospel illustrates this, noting how Jesus' prayer reveals the Father's hidden wisdom: "I thank you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the wise and the intelligent and have revealed them to infants; yes, Father, for such was your gracious will" (Lk. 10:21). Ultimately, recognizing Jesus—his life, death, resurrection, and the Spirit—allows us to know God as we are known, fostering a confident trust in God's love, as Paul affirms, "If God is for us, who is against us?" (Rm. 8:31).

St. Paul's words of encouragement help us to realize that as God became human through the Son, he is also one with all humanity. As the Catechism of the Catholic Church says so eloquently, "Through an utterly free decision, God has revealed himself and given himself to man. This he does by revealing the mystery, his plan of loving goodness, formed from all eternity in Christ, for the benefit of all men. God has fully revealed this plan by sending us his beloved Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, and the Holy Spirit" (CCC 50). It is through Christ, the Incarnate Word of God, that the Divine Word has been revealed to humanity, and continues to unfold in the Spirit even today, particularly through our faithful reflection upon the Divine Word.

One of the primary ways in which we reflect upon the Word of God is our regular Sunday worship. We gather as a community of believers in dialogue with God. First we listen, then having been transformed by the Word, we respond by leading the life of faith. How are we encountering Jesus in the liturgy today?

Last week I reflected on Azariah's prayer in the furnace from the Book of Daniel: "Frost and chill, bless the Lord!" We are all feeling the chill, particularly in the church. The heat has been running non-stop the last week, yet it struggles to keep the temperature around 60 degrees. I would apologize for this, but it's not my fault. The equipment in our buildings is already 24 years old, and we have one of the largest churches in Burlington. We will have to look into an upgrade to the HVAC system in the near future—this may even take precedence over replacing the roof. Logically, the roof would be done first, then work on the interior, but in this case, we can patch damaged areas of the roof, and focus on the more pressing needs of maintaining the HVAC system. As it stands, we already have to replace the heater in the chapel. Fortunately, parts are still available for this unit. The Finance Council and I are in the process of obtaining the necessary estimates for this immediate need. I will keep everyone posted on our progress. Please pray that we can get this taken care of for a reasonable price and quickly.

In our first reading, the prophet Zephaniah encourages the people to seek the Lord. With all that is going on in the world, from violence in the streets of Minneapolis, to acts of war in Ukraine, to financial difficulties, to misunderstandings, disagreements, and frustrations, we are being bombarded by every worldly excuse to be divided, whether politically, ethnically, or religiously. St. Paul encourages us not to be wise according to human standards. There is one institution, however, that does not discriminate, promotes peace, and seeks to bring about harmony among all peoples. It is the Catholic Church, which is at one and the same time a human institution, but also a divine institution, founded by a Divine Person, Jesus Christ. In the Church, we are one people, who share one creed, one faith, one baptism, with one Lord over all. Jesus taught us to pray for our enemies. If we wish ill towards another, the world has already won. If we are to love our enemies, then we are to desire nothing other than their salvation. So, let us pray for one another, particularly those with whom we disagree, so that they might be converted and come to the knowledge of the Truth, our Lord Jesus Christ, who says, "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God."

Pax,
Fr. Jim
