We are not called on to judge our own worthiness or value, but to leave those judgments to God.

Whether we are at a social event or striving in our daily lives to attain the kingdom of God, it is best not to place ourselves above others. In the Kingdom of God, rank or prestige carries no meaning; we are all brothers and sisters, children of the same God.

HOLY YEAR OF MERCY

December 8, 2015—November 20, 2016

THE SPIRITUAL WORKS OF MERCY

Jesus said, “Blessed are the merciful, for mercy shall be theirs” (Mt 5:7), which makes the practice of the Spiritual Works of Mercy a win-win for everyone!

When we instruct the ignorant and counsel the doubtful, we’re forced to brush up on our own faith in order to properly inform others. How many misunderstandings about Church teaching could be prevented if we understood not just what She teaches, but why!

Admonishing sinners isn’t about judging someone’s heart; it’s about those everyday moral decisions about right and wrong that we make whenever we decide not to steal, gossip, lie, etc. When we admonish sinners with love, we reaffirm our own convictions and make this world more civil and loving.

To bear wrongs patiently not only impresses those who offend us, it makes us stronger in body, mind and spirit. Paybacks might feel good, but they also introduce discord and division into our world. When we bear wrongs patiently, we become channels of peace.

Scripture and science agree that forgiving offenses willingly, letting go of grudges and bitterness, makes people happier, healthier and better able to meet the challenges of everyday life.

Comforting the afflicted brings the merciful touch of God to those most in need. Our own faith is reinforced when we see how God’s presence can strengthen a soul in the midst of suffering.

Praying for the living and the dead unites us to the full Body of Christ — both in heaven and on earth — and invites the power of God into the lives of our living and deceased loved ones. When we give God’s Mercy to others, it becomes a blessing to us all!

— Susan Brinkmann, O.C.D.S.,
Catholic Life Institutes, Bedminster, PA
