Third Sunday of Easter

So the disciple whom Jesus loved said to Peter, "It is the Lord." When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he tucked in his garment, for he was lightly clad, and jumped into the sea. John 21:7

Peter was all in, literally speaking. This passage above is taken from one of the appearances of Jesus to the Apostles after His Resurrection. They were fishing all night and caught nothing. Jesus, from the shore, told them to cast the net off the right side of the boat. When they did this they caught more fish than they could handle. When John realized it was Jesus and said so, Peter could not contain his excitement and jumped into the water to go and meet his Lord.

What a wonderful image this is to reflect upon. Specifically, it's wonderful to consider the interior excitement of Peter that led him to jump into the water and swim to the shore. His excitement could not be contained.

Would you jump into a lake to go to our Lord? That may seem like an unusual question but it's worth considering in a literal way. If you encountered our resurrected Lord, would you be so excited to see Him that you would be compelled to enter into His presence, even if it meant you had to jump into a lake? This action of Peter should be seen as a symbolic gesture for our own spiritual lives. The fact that Peter did not hesitate reveals how we should react when we encounter Jesus.

Obviously we do not encounter Jesus in His resurrected form in the way Peter did in this passage, literally and physically. But we do encounter Him every day, if we only have eyes to see. He is alive within our own hearts through prayer and by His indwelling presence. He is truly present in the people we meet every day. And He is most certainly present in the Sacraments, especially the Most Holy Eucharist.

There are two questions you should consider regarding this passage. The first is whether or not you actually do perceive Jesus' presence throughout the day. Peter did not recognize Him at first, even though Jesus spoke to him and the others in the boat. It took the miracle for them to recognize it was Him. The second question is how you react to His presence when you do perceive Him. Are you indifferent? Do you lack enthusiasm? Or are you filled with much joy?

Reflect, today, upon these two questions and resolve to become more attentive to the presence of our Lord every day, throughout the day. Resolve, also, to react as Peter did when you see Jesus. Let your heart and passion be drawn to Him and react with extraordinary joy and enthusiasm. Don't be afraid to go all in for our Lord!

From the Pastor

Dear Parishioners,

You may recall in last week's bulletin I exhorted you to be joyful during your Easter celebrations with friends and family, as "Jesus Saves!" is the evangelistic message that all people need to hear. We are still in the Easter season and that joy should still be infectious to all those around you.

But "infectious" evangelization will only intrigue people. "Invitation" will bring them into the Church. God is calling each of us to take that additional step. This can be at work, where you proudly display signs of your Catholic faith and slip in references to your experiences at church, religious traditions, and events at St. Frederic during casual conversations. This could be being alert to those around you crying out for corporal or spiritual works of mercy, and going out of your way to help them in their needs.

God may even be calling on you to visit inactive parishioners, fallen away Catholics, or new families to the area to invite them to St. Frederic and answer their questions about the Catholic faith. Does this sound uncomfortable? It should. After all, why should we be expected to act any differently than the Apostles did after Christ rose from the dead?

How do you start? Learn your faith from solid, Catholic books, TV/radio shows, the internet, and podcasts. Invite someone to RCIA and then attend classes with them. Join the Legion of Mary. If you're not sure where to begin, talk to me and I'll put you on the right path, but effective evangelization depends on you, the parishioners, to courageously walk down that road.

Happy, challenging Easter!

Father Marandu
