

Making Room for God

FR. JOSEPH JUKNIALIS

The story of John the Baptist is the story of taking a back seat to Jesus, of fading into the background so that Jesus might be the light. Fading out of the picture is something we may find ourselves doing more than once in our lives. Sometimes it's also a choice we have to make, even when it's painful.

Actor Nick Nolte talked about what it was like for him when he turned seventy; how his body would hurt and how painful it was to get out of bed some mornings. He told of how he cried when a longtime friend passed away and of the sadness death brings. But the worst part, he said, is coming to the realization that your children have grown up, are on their own, and don't need you the way they once did. His son has a family, and for him the family comes first, as it should be. That's the painful part, Nolte says, the letting go of your children because they are no longer yours; in reality, they never were.

From the perspective of faith, why do we need to fade into the background? To leave room for the hand of God in life, that's why. So that God can do what God does best, and so that we don't get in the way of it all. That is a task not only at the end of life but for all of life. ●

Reflect

When has it been difficult for you to fade into the background?

[John] was not the light, but came to testify to the light.

Lord God, the source of all love, the wise plan of your providence has brought these young people together. As they prepare themselves for the sacrament of marriage and pray for your grace, grant that, strengthened by your blessing, they may grow in their respect for one another and cherish each other with a sincere love. We ask this through Christ our Lord,

Fr Mike's Musings

"I rejoice heartily in the Lord," the prophet Isaiah says in the First Reading. And why wouldn't he? He has glad tidings. The poor will be taken care of, the brokenhearted will be healed, the captives will be freed, and the prisoners will be released. Who wouldn't rejoice in these things? As the winter dark and cold encroach on our days, and as the birth of the baby Jesus draws near, we hear these beautiful words everywhere. But the problem is that, for so many people, this is a time of depression, not of joy.

Why? Because the poor are still poor; the people are still broken-hearted; and the captives and prisoners are only slowly released. In this country, the bank still forecloses on the house of a person who has lost their job; a friend still becomes treacherous; a spouse succumbs to alcoholism or infidelity. What has happened to the promise and the beautiful words? How is joy possible?

Our response can be found in Mary's words in the Magnificat prayer.

*"My soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord,
and my spirit has rejoiced in God my Savior."*

Does anyone think that she took these words back when she stood by the Cross as her son suffered torture and was crucified? How can Mary maintain the words of the Magnificat still at the sight of all of this personal tragedy? The answer is that the greatest love of the Lord was there. The words of joy that Mary spoke, before the Lord was born, are only truer in the suffering she bears at His death. His love doesn't take away her suffering at the Crucifixion. But her suffering is enveloped in great love, and so it is transfigured into joyful anticipation for what is to come.

Joy in the Lord is compatible with waiting for the final redemption from our sufferings and our sins because Christ is the promised messiah, Emmanuel—"God with us". Even now, since His love infuses all our sufferings, our souls can proclaim the greatness of the Lord, and our spirits can rejoice in God. The Lord transfigures the suffering of our lives through His love.

*They will come and sing praises on Mount Zion, they will flood in to receive the good things of the Lord,
grain, and wine, and oil,
and the young of both herd and flock.
Their spirit will be like a richly watered garden,
and they will hunger no more.
The young girl will dance for joy,
young men and old men too.*

*"I will turn their weeping into gladness," says the Lord,
"I will comfort them and give them joy after sorrow.
I will overwhelm my priests with rich food,
and my good things will fill my people to overflowing."
(Jeremiah 31:12-14)*

Advent Family Prayer:

God of Love, Your son, Jesus, is your greatest gift to us. He is a sign of your love.
Help us walk in that love during the weeks of Advent, As we wait and prepare for his coming.
We pray in the name of Jesus, our Savior.

Amen -

Welcome to the Cluster Parishes of St. Mary and St. Michael

Dear Padre,

Was Jesus born in a stable or a cave? The Christmas scene in our church has Jesus born in a little shed, but in my friend's church it looks more like a cave. The Bible says Jesus was born in a manger, so just where was Jesus born?

The Christmas scenes, sometimes called Nativity scenes or crèches, vary from church to church. In Scripture, we find more details about the Nativity in Luke's Gospel, but even he simply says that Mary wrapped Jesus in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger because the inn was full (Luke 2:7).

In none of the Scriptures do we have any details about what the place looked like, but since a manger is a place where caregivers feed livestock, we can assume that Jesus was born in a stable of some kind. At that time, small caves sometimes were used as stables.

Nativity scenes, though, are not an attempt to present a historically accurate picture of where Jesus was born. Rather, scenes of the birth of Jesus remind us of the special love that God shows for us in sending the Son to us. We do not care so much about creating an exact picture of what took place as we do of beholding the beauty and wonder of God born among us. ●

A WORD FROM POPE FRANCIS

The Baptist is a model for those in the Church who are called to proclaim Christ to others: they are able to do so only by detaching from themselves and from worldliness, by not attracting people to themselves but directing them toward Jesus. This is joy: directing toward Jesus. And joy must be the characteristic of our faith.
