Dear Parishioners

–From an article by Jimmy Akin, National Catholic Register

Pope Francis released a new document – his first apostolic exhortation - entitled Evangelii Gaudium late in the fall of 2013. During this coming Lenten season, we will be exploring what this document means to us as Catholics. So before we get started, here are nine things about the document we should know.

1) What does “Evangelii Gaudium” mean? It’s Latin for “The Joy of the Gospel.”
 2) What is an apostolic exhortation? It’s a papal document that, as the name suggests, exhorts people to implement a particular aspect of the Church’s life and teaching. Its purpose is not to teach new doctrine, but to suggest how Church teachings and practices can be profitably applied today.
 3) How much authority does an apostolic exhortation have? It is one of the more important papal documents—more important, for example, than a Wednesday audience or a homily. As it is of a pastoral nature rather than a doctrinal or legal nature, though, it is ranked lower than an encyclical or an apostolic constitution. As with everything official that the pope writes, it is to be taken very seriously.

4) What leads a pope to write an apostolic exhortation? Frequently, apostolic exhortations are written after a meeting of the Synod of Bishops. The Synod of Bishops is a group that gathers selected bishops from across the world to discuss a particular subject.
 5) Why did Pope Francis write Evangelii Gaudium? It was written in response to the most recent meeting of the Synod of Bishops, which took place in October, 2012. It was devoted to the subject of the new evangelization, so that is the subject of Evangelii Gaudium.
 6) What is Pope Francis’ main message in Evangelii Gaudium? As suggested by the name, the principal theme involves the need for a joyful proclamation of the Gospel to the entire world.
 7) What particularly noteworthy things does the pope have to say in the document? The following seven points, gathered together in the five chapters of the Exhortation, constitute the fundamental pillars of Pope Francis’ vision of the new evangelization:

1. the reform of the Church in a missionary key,

 2. the temptations of pastoral agents,
 3. the Church understood as the totality of the People of God which evangelizes,
 4. the homily and its preparation,
 5. the social inclusion of the poor,
 6. peace and social dialogue,
 7. and the spiritual motivations for the Church’s missionary action.
 8) Can you give a specific example of something notable he says? Pro-lifers will be heartened to read what he has to say concerning unborn children and abortion: 213. Among the vulnerable for whom the Church wishes to care with particular love and concern are unborn children, the most defenseless and innocent among us.
 9) Is there an extra significance to the document? It will take time to fully process the significance of the document, but one this is immediately clear: This document is not something that Pope Francis delegated to others and allowed to be written on auto-pilot.

Faith Formation

-Cathy Hicks, Director of Religious Education (DRE)

The season of Lent is quickly approaching. Lent is 40 days before Easter of prayer, penance, sacrifice, and good works in the preparation of the celebration of Easter. The 40 days of Lent are based on two Biblical accounts: the 40 years the Israelites wandered in the wilderness and Jesus' 40 days in the wilderness where He was tempted by Satan. During this period of Lent, we, like Jesus and the Israelites, are tested. We participate in abstinence, times of fasting, confession, and acts of mercy to strengthen our faith and devotional practices. It is a time of turning our lives more completely over to Christ and His way of life. Our goal is to leave Lent a stronger and more vital person of faith than when we entered it.

Lent begins on Ash Wednesday which derives its name from the practice of blessing ashes made from palm branches blessed on the previous year's Palm Sunday before placing them on the forehead with the words, "Remember that you are dust and to dust you shall return." Ashes have always been a symbol of repentance, and they remind us of our mortality: the day when we will stand before God and be judged. Having the ashes put on our foreheads reminds us of our need for deeper conversion of our lives during this season of renewal. Many people choose to wear their ashes for the remainder of the day or evening as a reminder of their own mortality and as a witness before those around that they are a follower of Christ and are entering into a season of examination and abstinence. Hopefully, you and your family can share and discuss the above information together and participate in Lent as a family.

Next week I will share some information on the three traditional pillars of Lenten observance: prayer, fasting, and almsgiving.

In the mean time, may God be ever at your side and hold you in the palm of His hand.

Memorial of St. John Bosco January 31st

On Jan. 31, the Roman Catholic Church honors St. John Bosco (or "Don Bosco"), a 19th century Italian priest who reached out to young people to remedy their lack of education, opportunities, and faith. John Bosco was born in August of 1815 into a family of peasant farmers in Castelnuovo d'Asti – a place which would one day be renamed in the saint's honor as "Castelnuovo Don Bosco." At age nine, he had a prophetic dream in which a number of unruly young boys were uttering words of blasphemy. Jesus Christ and the Virgin Mary appeared to John in the dream, saying he would bring such youths to God through the virtues of humility and charity. Later on, this dream would help John to discern his calling as a priest. John's older brother Anthony opposed his plan to be a priest, and antagonized him so much that he left home to become a farm worker at age 12. After moving back home three years later, John worked in various trades and finished school in order to attend seminary. In 1841, John Bosco was ordained a priest. From that time, John was known as "Don" Bosco, a traditional Italian title of honor for priests. In the city of Turin, he began ministering to boys and young men who lived on the streets, many of whom were without work or education. John's boyhood dream came to pass: he became a spiritual guide and provider along with his fellow Salesian priests and brothers, giving boys religious instruction, lodging, education, and work opportunities. He also helped Saint Mary Dominic Mazzarello form a similar group for girls. St. John Bosco died in the early hours of Jan. 31, 1888, after conveying a message: "Tell the boys that I shall be waiting for them all in Paradise." He was canonized on Easter Sunday of 1934, and is a patron saint of young people, apprentices, and Catholic publishers and editors.
