Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

behind us earth and sin so that we may gain the things above. So great and outstanding a possession is the cross that he who wins it has won a treasure. Rightly could I call this treasure the fairest of all fair things and the costliest, in fact as well as in name, for on it and through it and for its sake the riches of salvation that had been lost were restored to us… Therefore, the cross is something wonderfully great and honorable. It is great because through the cross the many noble acts of Christ found their consummation — very many indeed, for both his miracles and his sufferings were fully rewarded with victory. The cross is honorable because it is both the sign of God’s suffering and the trophy of his victory. It stands for his suffering because on it he freely suffered unto death. But it is also his trophy because it was the means by which the devil was wounded and death conquered; the barred gates of hell were smashed, and the cross became the one common salvation of the whole world.

Most Humble and Holy Jesus

What a great praise your name undeservedly receives, and how a new and fresh joy enters into the souls of men through your visitations. The greatest increase of grace and love is in those who have the greatest increase of sins and offenses, who would have received from you what they have not given to you.

Our most Heartfelt thanks for those who are mailing or dropping off their envelopes!

Pastor’s Column:

On Monday, September 14, the Church celebrates the Exaltation of the Cross. We know that Christ died on the cross and we speak of “carrying our cross” which refers to suffering. This liturgical feast emphasizes that the Cross is the entrance to the glory of the Resurrection. St. Andrew of Crete (d.740) reminds us of how we should think about the Cross: We are celebrating the feast of the cross which drove away darkness and brought in the light. As we keep this feast, we are lifted up with the crucified Christ, leaving...
