Parish Mission Statement

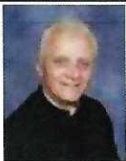

We, the parish community of St George, celebrate the welcoming presence of Christ in our lives. Together with the universal Church, we are nourished and sustained through the Mystery of the Holy Eucharist, and we are inspired by the proclamation of the Word, guided by the Holy Spirit.

We continually seek to grow in a deeper understanding of our faith, to respect the sanctity of human life, and respond to what Jesus asks of us in our time by sharing our gifts and participating in parish activities and outreach to others.

November 14, 2021 Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

From Your Pastor

Coming Home to Church 2

At the conclusion of last week's article about the worldwide synod and the need for us to be a Eucharistic people, we are reminded that God welcomes us to Mass where the Eucharist is celebrated. We are welcomed home to the source and summit of the entire Christian life and invited to a foretaste of the heavenly banquet and to the holy and living sacrifice which gives us the strength to live the Christian life.

So when we come to Mass, what do we bring to it? Often we place the emphasis on participation at Mass as to what we get from it. This thinking is a reflection of our society that can prize freedom and individual rights above all else. As Americans, we rightly value and celebrate the freedoms we have and that were won at great cost. After all, these freedoms include the freedom to practice our religion. This singular emphasis on individual rights and freedoms, however, can also lead to unrealistic expectations. If something does not meet our expectations, we simply can't be bothered. Perhaps this sentiment is behind the often heard reasons given for not coming to Mass: "It does nothing for me," or "I don't get anything out of it." These responses seem to be conversation enders, not conversation starters. What do we get from participation in Mass? Like most things in life, we get what we put into it. What do we bring to Mass? Once we actually get there, we may feel like the publican in the parable standing silently in the back aware of his sinfulness or like the widow who only had two mites to offer. We bring our stresses, our brokenness, and our distractions. Yet, we are welcomed. We come to the Lord, who affirmed both the publican and the widow. We come to the one who healed the deaf, the mute, the lame, and the leper. We come to the one who dined with sinners. There are other times when we are full of thanksgiving – the healthy return of a son or daughter from a faraway battlefield, finding something that had been lost, a delightful visit with grandchildren, getting that job we were hoping for. These are moments when we experience a benevolent power beyond ourselves. At Mass, we lay our joys and our brokenness on the altar together with those of our brothers and sisters. In return, we get the support of the community, we are nourished with the Body and Blood of Christ to help us on our journey, and we are given a renewed sense of purpose and hope.

Fr. Niccolls' message continued next column:

Fr. Niccolls' message continued:

Before too long we will be celebrating our American feast of Thanksgiving a fall holiday which is a festive celebration and a time to recall our responsibilities as Christian stewards as well. Although it is a national holiday, this feast echoes the basic orientation of our Christian faith. It is naturally expressed in our central ritual of worship, the Eucharist, which comes from the Greek word for Thanksgiving. Every time that we celebrate the Eucharist we should remind ourselves that everything we have and all we are comes from God. As we celebrate this festive holiday, we will offer one Mass for Thanksgiving on Thursday, November 25th, at 8:00 A.M. We will also have the special blessing of food during this liturgy. Please bring something to church that you are going to serve at your Thanksgiving meal for this blessing.

From Deacon Paul Audette

Henri writes to a student who is questioning his belief in God. (taken from "Love, Henri: Letters on the Spiritual Life"):

Dear Raymond,

...As far as your first question is concerned, yes, I do think that even when you struggle with the notion of God and have a hard time accepting some of the teachings you have been brought up with, you can still live a life that is spiritually profound and very authentic. In fact, I even think that at times we have to dare to let go of the God of our youth in order to find a more silent, and maybe even a more hidden God. I am not sure if this is what will happen to you, but I do trust that faithfulness to a true spiritual way of living will lead you to the place where you will know your deepest vocation in life... Your most difficult question to answer is the question of whether an atheist can have an intimate, fruitful and joyful life. If by an atheist you mean someone who continues to fight the existence of God, I think it is hard to remain joyful because you end up being so defensive, and therefore so unfree. But if you simply cannot affirm God at this moment of your life but remain open for the mystery of existence and even open to a God who can reach your heart deeply, then joy and peace can be really part of your life even when you have very little answer to the question about God. There is a form of atheism that becomes very dark and unfruitful, but there is also a form of atheism in which you remain open to the mystery of existence and open to discover in new ways that God is love... Often the search is more important than the answer, the quest is more important than the finding..."

With warm greetings,

Yours,

Henri Nouwen

Stewardship Thought for the Week

The readings today speak of the end of the world and the coming of the kingdom. The bishops' pastoral on stewardship says clearly that "that 'life to come' is in continuity with this present life through the human goods, the worthy human purposes, which people foster now." May our good stewardship help us to be numbered among the chosen on the last day!

We are honored and delighted to Volunteer opportunities

We are in great need of volunteers willing to be on a substitute list for religious education teachers. We would also love to have more parent volunteers on our rotating schedule for Children's Liturgy of the Word. Annie Doyle handles the Toddler group, with veteran volunteers filling in for her when needed. With the "Big kid" group, we have a small group of parents who take turns. Depending on how many volunteers we have, you would be assigned to approximately one Sunday a month. Everything is provided for you and we'd be happy to go over how it all works or to have you sit in one week. Please consider helping with these great ministries. Holiday Outreach

The collection to buy Turkeys for families in need will continue for a few more weeks.

We have not yet received enough in donations to cover the cost for the turkeys that we have traditionally donated to Our Lady of Providence Parish for the past 20 years. We are confident in your continuing generosity. Please label an envelope "For Turkeys" - Mail it in or add it to Collection Basket at Mass. We hope to be able to donate 40 ten dollar gift cards to be added to Our Lady of Providence Parish Thanksgiving food baskets. Thank You to everyone who donated food at last week's Thanksgiving Food Drive.

November 13 & 14 - Today the Giving Tree Tags Will begin to be available on the "Giving Tree" in our church.

November 19 - Mustard Seed Meal for 100 guests. Please call Annie to help prepare the meal. Donations towards the $5 cost of each meal are needed.

The Giving Tree is set up at the side of the Sanctuary decorated with tags that are labeled with the Christmas hopes of a needy person or family. There are many specific and special requests. It is especially important that you fill this need so that the wish is granted and the person or child in need is not left without a gift on Christmas morning. This year the Giving Tree gifts will be donated to Winter Hill Rest Home, Blaire House, St. Mary's Health Care, St Francis Nursing Home, Diocesan Seminarians, the children at Our Lady of Providence Parish and the Mustard Seed Catholic Worker. The elderly in nursing homes are truly the forgotten folks in our community. Your gifts help to make their Christmas joyful.

Please - As we celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace - No toy guns or violent toys. Also, no battery operated items - these are too expensive for the poor to replace.

Please, no cash and no food.

Please wrap your Giving Tree Gift loosely in a GIFT BAG or RECYCLABLE BAG and reattach the tag. Kindly return it to the church no later than December 5th at the 10:00 AM Mass.

If you are interested in helping with gift deliveries on December 5th, please contact:

THE FAMILY CONNECTION

Lord, we thank you for each other. The years go by quickly and yet we know now that we are a part of each other. We thank you for all the laughter we have shared, our private jokes, our funny habits. We thank you for the times when we have been a strength to each other, for what we might have lacked apart we found together. We thank you for the day-to-day adventure of being man and wife - for the companionship, help, comfort that we have given each other. There's more yet. Help us to grow closer to each other and to you in everything that is yet to be.

GRANDPARENTS:

All interested grandparents are asked to pray for the safety and well-being of their grandchildren. Prayers are available by sending a long self addressed stamped envelope to Ruth Viens, 20 Mary Scano Drive, Apt. 223, Worcester MA 01605. Spiritual Growth Ministry Corner

Ministry Leader: Bonnie Moran
saintgeorgespiritualgrowth@gmail.com

The Spiritual Growth Committee members are: Bonnie Moran – Chair; Andrea Svagdys-Gumbrell; Joan Talbot; Patty Walsh; and Kyle Lewandowski. Fr. Niccolls and Deacon Paul serve as ex officio members. Several members will be adding Spiritual Growth Reflections in this column each week.

This week's reflection is from Kyle:

This week's readings, as we near the end of the liturgical year, recall the end times, which we typically associate as a grim subject. Given the considerable uncertainties we currently face, such as the growing political tensions throughout the world and the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, it may seem as though we are careening out of control towards such an end. But in the words of our Lord, and frequently used by Saint Pope John Paul II, "Do not be afraid!" Yes, we may be in some difficult times, but as this week's Gospel says, "Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away." God guarantees that He will be with us, even in our darkest times and most difficult struggles. We must also remember that even in this darkness, we have hope, as the Responsorial Psalm this week tells us, "You are my inheritance, O Lord!" Our journeys through life will not be easy. We will have rocks and pitfalls in our paths, but God will help guide us along these ways, help us grow in holiness, and at our life journeys' end, join Him in heaven.
