PARISH BULLETIN DEADLINE: Articles must be received by noon on Wednesdays (typed format).

PRAYER TREE: 255-4600

Prayer of the flock. Lord, we are your people, the sheep of your flock. Heal the sheep who are wounded, touch the sheep who are in pain, clean the sheep who are soiled, warm the lambs who are cold. Help us to know the Father's love through Jesus the shepherd and through the Spirit. Help us live up to that love, and show it all over this land. Help us to build love on justice and justice on love. Help us to believe mightily, hope joyfully, love divinely. Renew us that we may help renew the face of the earth. Amen.

Good example, best example. No matter what your background, if you have grown into a person of faith there is usually someone whose example you followed: a priest, godly teacher, devout parent. That person helped you learn what a child of God could and should be. And if you have rejected God, there is most likely a failed example you remember, someone whose life and words harmed, betrayed or deceived you. How wonderful it would be to have only good examples here on earth and none of the harmful ones to lead us astray. In Mark 6:30-34, we are reminded that God has given us a trustworthy, divine example to follow: Jesus. He called us "Sheep without a shepherd," not because the Shepherd had disappeared, but because we forget to look to Him. It's easier to watch the people around us, than to keep our ears and eyes tuned to God and trusting Him alone to guide us. Take a moment in prayer today to consider who you're following: a good example, or the best example?

The Holy Father Speaks. . . It is truly our Baptism that makes us missionaries. A baptized person who does not feel the need to proclaim the Gospel, to announce Jesus, is not a good Christian. The first necessary element of all authentic missionary discipleship is the changeless center, which is Jesus. This is because proclaiming the Gospel cannot be separated from Christ or from the Church. Announcing the Gospel is not an initiative of individual believers, groups or even large groups, but it is the Church's mission, inseparable and united with her Lord. No Christian proclaims the Gospel on his own, but only sent by the Church who received the mandate from Christ himself. Reflect on the Christian's mission as seen when Jesus sends out his disciples "two by two" to preach repentance. Jesus' message to his disciples concerns not just priests, but every baptized person, who is "called to witness, in the various environments of life, the Gospel of Christ". Like the disciples were warned, the message may not be welcomed, but this aligns with what Jesus himself experienced when he was rejected and crucified. Only if we are united with him, dead and risen, can we find the courage of evangelization. The center of the mission must always be Christ and the examples of saints from Rome who are great examples of "humble workers of the Kingdom," such as St. Philip Neri, St. Benedict Joseph Labre, St. Frances of Rome, and Bl. Ludovica Albertoni. These saints did not work to advance themselves or their own ideas or interests, but acted always as messengers sent by Jesus. We ask the Blessed Virgin Mary, the first disciple and missionary of the Word of God, to bring the message of the Gospel to the world in a humble and radiant exultation, beyond any rejection, misunderstanding or tribulation.

Welcome! Thank you for choosing to worship with us today and we hope you will return often. If you do not belong to a parish, please consider choosing Corpus Christi as your church home. You may call the parish office at 255-4600 to register.

WHY DO CATHOLICS DO THAT?

Why Do Catholics believe that the Eucharist is the Body and Blood of Christ?

This is a great mystery of our faith but Jesus' words are clear: "Take and eat; this is my body" and "...this is my blood of the covenant" (Matthew 26:26-28) And he reiterates it, "For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink" (John 6:55)

When the Priest consecrates the bread and wine, a change takes place. They become Jesus' body and blood. The Eucharist is then "true food" just as Jesus intended.

SIXTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Ease up!

Are you living at one speed all the time: busy, busy, busy? Some of us are overextended, many of us have never learned to say no, and more than a few of us hang our self-worth on the precarious hooks of what we can accomplish. Even Jesus took time out for retreat and recollection. When was the last time you went on retreat? Do you take the occasional night off, observe a real Sabbath rest, sit for five minutes in a quiet, empty church? Block out time on your calendar not to do, but to be with God.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 23:1-6; Ephesians 2:13-18; Mark 6:30-34 (107). "Come away by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while."

MEMORIAL OF BRIDGET, RELIGIOUS

Give God a try

From the moment we're born we face challenges in life. We learn how to walk—and we take some tumbles. We allow ourselves to fall in love—and we experience heartache. We work hard to be better people—and we sometimes fall short. It takes faith to attempt things without knowing how they'll turn out. Fear can tempt us to not try hard at anything. Yet we're all called by God to do and be more than we can envision! We see that in stories of our ancestors in faith, such as Moses, who, by the grace of God and the willingness to try, achieved remarkable things. How have you allowed God to work in and through you today?

TODAY'S READINGS: Micah 6:1-4, 6-8; Matthew 12:38-42 (395). "Teacher, we wish to see a sign from you."

Tuesday, Jul 24, 2018

MEMORIAL OF SHARBEL MAKHLŪF, PRIEST

Listen up

Saints haven't always done big things like bring the gospel to whole continents or found great religious orders—laudable though those achievements have been. Sometimes they just sat by the door and listened to God and the people who visited them. Many visited Saint Sharbel (1828-98), a Lebanese hermit, for his blessing and counsel. The service he rendered consisted almost entirely of welcoming, listening, and praying with anyone who came to him. Do you have an attentive and welcoming friend who can help you find a way through your troubles? Can you be that attentive friend to others who need some support?

TODAY'S READINGS: Micah 7:14-15, 18-20; Matthew 12:46-50 (396). "For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother."

Wednesday, Jul 25, 2018

FEAST OF JAMES, APOSTLE

Take a big gulp

Saint James was a disciple of John the Baptist who took up Jesus' call to follow him. Brash, impulsive, and hotheaded (he and his brother John were nicknamed by Jesus the "Sons of Thunder"), James was rebuked on several occasions, but he proved himself when put to the test. He dedicated his life to spreading Jesus' gospel, traveled to Samaria, Judea, and Spain in the name of Christ, and died a martyr's death—the first apostle to do so—in Jerusalem in the year 44. James drank deeply from the cup Jesus passed to him. Prepare yourself each day through small acts of faith to do the same.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Corinthians 4:7-15; Matthew 20:20-28 (605). "Jesus asked the sons of Zebedee, 'Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink?' "

Thursday, Jul 26, 2018

MEMORIAL OF JOACHIM AND ANNE, PARENTS OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

A grand legacy

Joachim and Anne, the parents of Mary, are not mentioned in scripture, but legend says they were childless until they experienced simultaneous annunciations indicating that God had other plans. While Grandparents Day was established in 1979 "to help children become aware of strength, information, and guidance older people can offer," today's memorial of Jesus' grandparents emphasizes handing on the treasure of faith. The affinity that the old and the very young often have for each other in our families is an opportunity to leave grandchildren an inheritance of love.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 2:1-3, 7-8, 12-13; Matthew 13:10-17 (398). "Blessed are your eyes, because they see, and your ears, because they hear."

The good earth

To be "honest as dirt" may not seem much of a compliment, but it is. A nicer word might be humus, a word taken directly from Latin that means "earth." And from this root our word humility comes. Humility has a bad rep because it is often mistaken for humiliation. But humility has nothing to do with groveling. What it means is "I am who I am before God: nothing more, and nothing less." That kind of humility ("I need you, Lord!") is the honest soil in which the word can take hold, take root, take heart, and bloom. Worry less about briars: just need the Seed.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 3:14-17; Matthew 13:18-23 (399). "The seed sown on rich soil is the one who hears the word and understands it."

Tough love

In his book People of the Lie: The Hope for Healing Human Evil, psychologist and best-selling author M. Scott Peck takes up one of the most difficult problems human beings face in this mysterious life: the problem of human evil. Why does it exist, and why does a good God permit it? Peck doesn't provide any simple answers, but he does caution us not to give into the temptation when we are harmed, to return evil with evil and exact revenge. Leave the judgment to Jesus. Weeds eventually are separated from wheat, but that is not your job. Hard as it may be, you are called to return evil with love. Do your best.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 7:1-11; Matthew 13:24-30 (400). "Let them grow together until harvest."
