FROM THE PASTOR

For this week of Respect Life Month, I want to address migration and human dignity because respect for life includes everything between conception and natural death.

Unlike abortion and euthanasia, which are intrinsically evil and never allowed, immigration is an issue of prudence. The Church's teaching isn't as simple as saying "Always have open borders!" or "Deport everyone now!" The Church gives us key principles, but She leaves it to us to discern the best way to honor those principles in a specific situation. This means that good Catholics can legitimately disagree about a specific immigration policy and remain good Catholics.

What a Catholic cannot do, however, is forget human dignity. A human being is a human being no matter what their immigration status. A person in need ought to be met with love and compassion, period. We cannot look at someone dying of hunger or thirst on the street and say, "they're illegal, it's their fault." There are, of course, times when deportation or other penalties are appropriate. But even then, those involved cannot be treated as less than human or knowingly placed in situations that will leave them to die.

To put it more simply. Catholics are free to oppose immigration, but they should never give into hatred for immigrants. A person can both oppose a border policy and give to charities that care for migrants at the same time. It is a thorny issue and one that most people agree is not currently being handled well, but we must not let rhetoric replace reason and love. For further reading, I suggest a letter from last year's Respect Life Month: usccb.org/resources/migration-and-judgement-nations.

Please pray for policy-makers, but especially for those who are simply trying to survive but find themselves being neglected, cast out, or manipulated by others for the sake of political gain.

In Christ,

Fr. Albert

THIS WEEKEND

World Mission Sunday Our Missionary Legacy

As we approach World Mission Sunday on October 20th, it's important to remember the legacy of missionary work. The Church in the United States was once mission territory, supported by the generosity of Catholics worldwide. Today, we continue this legacy by supporting the Pontifical Mission Societies, ensuring that the Gospel reaches the ends of the earth.

Our contributions help build and sustain communities of faith in places where the Church is still growing or facing persecution. This mission is a testament to our faith in action, reflecting the universal call to share Christ's love. As we reflect on this year's theme, "Go and invite everyone to the banquet," let us recommit to supporting our global Church family.
