Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

FROM THE DESK OF THE PASTOR

In today's Gospel, we hear about Jesus beginning his mission by announcing the coming of a new Kingdom. In a world full of evil and selfishness, He begins to quietly spread the revolution of love and forgiveness. Jesus preached a Kingdom of holiness and of love, but also of freedom and justice; a Kingdom

He chooses to build in the heart of man. This is where the first spark, for the true revolution of the world, is ignited. Only Christ is capable of responding to the great problems of humanity: The politicians, with their treaties and diplomacy have never managed to restore peace to their countries, nor have radio and television campaigns been able to reduce hunger for the underdeveloped. The true salvation of mankind will be found in Jesus and through Jesus. Every time we gather to celebrate the Eucharist, we proclaim and celebrate the Good News of our salvation. We celebrate His Kingdom.

Quotes from Church Teaching on the Rights of Migrants and Refugees

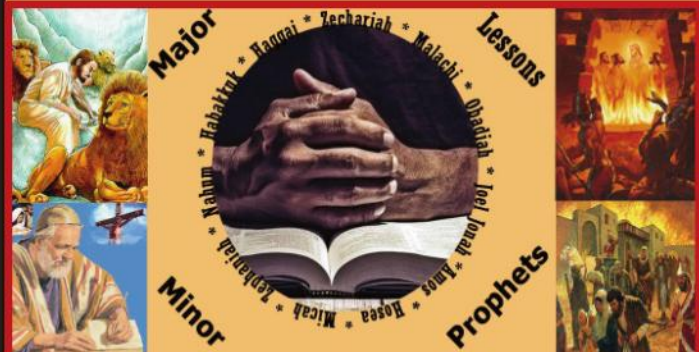

The Church has the right, indeed the duty, to proclaim justice on the social, national and international level, and to denounce instances of injustice, when the fundamental rights of man and his very salvation demand it. The Church . . . has a proper and specific responsibility which is identified with her mission of giving witness before the world of the need for love and justice contained in the Gospel message, a witness to be carried out in Church institutions themselves and in the lives of Christians.

Scripture Study

Tuesdays 7-8 PM

The Minor Prophets of the Bible are named that only because of the length of their writings. Their writings are inspired by God and the messages they put forth also deal with our human journey and insight into our redemption and the Redeemer.

Saint Jerome:

"The Scriptures are shallow enough for a babe to come and drink without fear of drowning and deep enough for theologians to swim in without ever reaching the bottom."
