First Sunday in Lent

FROM THE DESK OF THE PASTOR

We are starting one of the richest periods in the liturgical year: LENT. For 40 days, we will accompany Jesus into the desert and witness his fight with the devil and his encounter with God. Going into our own desert means having an encounter with ourselves in God's presence. Monks and hermits used to find a deserted place for prayer; we at least should find a deserted time. In the midst of the hustle and bustle of our daily life, we need to recover an empty space in our surroundings, where we can hear the beating of our heart and be free from the hassle of those ridiculous things that seem so urgent to us, free from our unreasonable agenda, from those unforeseen commitments, a place where we can enter into contact with the deepest sources of our being. Living in the desert means not just living apart from men, but living with God and for God. Thus the desert becomes a place to meet God. A presence that is certain, yet hidden, secret. May the Spirit that "drove Jesus into the desert" prepare us to celebrate Easter, renewed in the spirit!

Fr. Russ

The Minor Prophets of the Bible are named that only because of the length of their writings. Their writings are inspired by God and the messages they put forth also deal with our human journey and insight into our redemption and the Redeemer.

Saint Jerome:

"The Scriptures are shallow enough for a babe to come and drink without fear of drowning and deep enough for theologians to swim in without ever reaching the bottom."
