Twenty-First Sunday in Ordinary Time

FROM THE DESK OF THE PASTOR

Imagine going to the house of a good friend, knocking on the door, and having him say to you through the unopened door, "Go away, I do not know you." Now imagine that your very life depends on that person opening the door. Will you beg for mercy? Will you try to make some last-minute deal or promise?

Will you try to break the door down with your own strength? In this week's Gospel, we hear of a man who says, "Remember me? I ate and drank at your table." But the man is turned away. Eating and drinking at the Lord's table is a good start, but as we see in this reading, it takes more than that. We need to truly know God. We need to converse with Him, do His work, introduce our friends to Him. When your time comes to knock on heaven's door, don't let God say to you, "I do not know where you are from."

Fr. Russ

Marriage: Love and Life In The Divine Plan: Contraception

"By using contraception, married couples may think that they are avoiding problems or easing tensions, that they are exerting control over their lives. At the same time, they may think that they are doing nothing harmful to their marriages. In reality, the deliberate separation of the procreative and unitive meanings of marriage has the potential to damage or destroy the marriage. Also, it results in many other negative consequences, both personal and social." To read the document go to <http://www.usccb.org/loveandlife/>.

Scripture Study

Tuesdays 7-8 PM
Grahmann Center

The Minor Prophets of the Bible are named that only because of the length of their writings. Their writings are inspired by God and the messages they put forth also deal with our human journey and insight into our redemption and the Redeemer.

Saint Jerome:

"The Scriptures are shallow enough for a babe to come and drink without fear of drowning and deep enough for theologians to swim in without ever reaching the bottom."
