Thirty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

FROM THE DESK OF THE PASTOR

Today's first reading presents one of the most gripping stories in the Bible. The pagan rulers of ancient Israel attempted to force the Jewish people to violate their dietary laws. This was really an effort to persuade them to abandon their relationship with God. And the young men in today's story, together with their mother, all affirmed that they were prepared to die rather than offend God. Their relationship with God was so real that it brought them to die for the Lord, with the hope of eternal life. There are moments when our relationship with God will cost us. The more any relationship matters to us, the more we're willing to suffer for the person we love. We're all called to live as those young men did, with our eyes fixed on God, on his promises and on his presence. The traditional word for this is "Martyr" from the Greek word martyrios, which means witness. As Christians, we're called to witness to the rest of the world that God is real, that he's good, and that he's worth it.

Marriage: Love and Life In The Divine Plan: Gratitude

"As a husband and wife are thankful for one another and express this gratitude in the giving of themselves completely to one another, so this gratitude is open to the further gifts that this self-giving literally embodies: that is, a gratitude for the possible further gift of children. Inherent within a husband's gratitude for his wife is that together with her he can beget children. Inherent within a wife's gratitude for her husband is that together with him she can conceive children. Together a husband and wife are gratefully open to the gift of children." Catholic Quotes

Pope Francis

"Marriage and family life is not easy. James 5: 9-12 speaks about patience. Patience, is perhaps the most important virtue for the couple – both for the man and for the woman. Pray that the Lord might give to the Church and to society a more profound and more beautiful understanding of marriage, so that we all might be able to appreciate and reflect upon [the fact] that the image and likeness of God is present in marriage."

The Minor Prophets of the Bible are named that only because of the length of their writings. Their writings are inspired by God and the messages they put forth also deal with our human journey and insight into our redemption and the Redeemer.

Saint Jerome:

"The Scriptures are shallow enough for a babe to come and drink without fear of drowning and deep enough for theologians to swim in without ever reaching the bottom."
