STEWARDSHIP REFLECTIONS

The Most Holy Trinity Sunday — “But when he comes, the Spirit of truth, he will guide you to all truth...” John 16:13 It has been said that the best gift we can give someone is to teach them how to pray. If you don’t talk and more importantly, listen, to God every day, how else will you know what He is calling you to do? Just as you talk to family and friends every day, get in the habit of talking with God every day. Develop a daily prayer routine, Keep your prayers simple and sincere. This is best done in silence, when you can hear His response.

REFLEXIONES DEL BOLETIN DE CORRESPONSABILIDAD.

Domingo de la Santísima Trinidad — “pero cuando él venga, el Espíritu de la verdad, él los guiará hacia la verdad...” Juan 16:13 Se ha dicho que el mejor regalo que puede darle a alguien es enseñarlo a rezar. A menos que usted le hable y más importante, escuche a Dios cada día, ¿Cómo sabrá para que lo está llamando? Así como usted habla con su familia y sus amigos cada día, adopte el hábito de hablar con Dios cada día.. Desarrolle una rutina diaria de oración. Mantenga sus oraciones sencillas y sinceras. Es mejor hacerlo en silencio, para que pueda escuchar Su respuesta.

PRAYER OF THE WEEK

The Most Holy Trinity

God our Father, who by sending into the world the Word of truth and the Spirit of sanctification made known to the human race your wondrous mystery, grant us, we pray, that in professing the true faith, we may acknowledge the Trinity of eternal glory and adore your Unity, powerful in majesty. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever.

COMMUNION AND MISSION

Today we celebrate the feast of the Most Holy Trinity, which, as Pope Francis explains, “reminds us of the mystery of one God in three Persons: the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Everything in Christian life revolves around the mystery of the Trinity and is fulfilled according to this infinite mystery. The Trinity is the communion of divine Persons who are one with the others, one for the others, one in the others. This communion is the life of God, the mystery of the love of the living God.

“Jesus revealed this mystery to us. He spoke to us of God as the Father; he spoke to us of the Spirit; and he spoke to us of himself as the Son of God. After he rose, he sent the disciples to evangelize to the peoples and to baptize them “in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit” (Mt 28:19). This command is entrusted by Christ in all ages to the Church, which has inherited the missionary mandate from the Apostles. He also directs it to each one of us who, through the power of Baptism, are part of his community.

“Therefore, today’s celebration, while making us contemplate the amazing mystery from which we come and toward which we are going, renews for us the mission of living in communion with God and living in communion among ourselves according to the model of the divine communion. We are called to live not as one without the others, above or against the others, but one with the others, for the others and in the others. This means to accept and witness in harmony the beauty of the Gospel, experiencing love for one another and for all, sharing joy and suffering, learning to ask and grant forgiveness, appreciating various charisms under the guidance of pastors. In a word, we have been entrusted with the task of edifying ecclesial communities which increasingly become families, capable of reflecting the splendor of the Trinity and evangelizing not only with the words but with the power of the love of God that lives within us.”

THE MOST HOLY TRINITY

OUR TRINITARIAN VOCATION AND MISSION

We have been created in the image of God (Gen 1:27), which for us Christians means that we have been created in the image of the Trinity and our vocation is to be in a relationship with God as three in one. And just as we learned how to be in relationships by imitating our parents and those around us, so we learn how to be in relationship with God by imitating the activity of each of the three persons of the Trinity: the Father, the loving creator who brings everything into existence and orders all into right relationships; Jesus, the crucified reconciler sent from God to show us how to live as God's children and re-establish the relationships broken and disfigured by sin; and the Holy Spirit, who transforms and sanctifies everything through God's presence and power now at work in our world and in our community.

IMITATING GOD THE FATHER, THE CREATOR AND ORDERER

God the Father's relationship with us begins with creation, in which everything is ordered into the right relationships that God wanted. But sin broke down those relationships, thus requiring reconciliation. So God immediately began the work of transforming the sinful relationships into a "new creation" that would be evil-free. To achieve this change, God called the covenant community of Israel to embody these right relationships and then sent Christ to restore the original harmony of creation. Now we are invited to cooperate with God to create in our lives the right relationships God envisioned from the beginning. In practical terms, this means that every day we must align ourselves with God and struggle to bring about right relationships within our self, among ourselves and others, and with God. We must change the domination and rule of evil and sin over our world into God's "new creation."

IMITATING JESUS THE SON, THE REVEALER AND RECONCILER

Jesus, God become human, reveals who God is and what God is doing to bring about God's new creation. Jesus' saving work—the forgiveness of sins or reconciliation—transforms our disordered relationships into rightly ordered ones. Jesus' whole life was dedicated to the service of God's hidden presence in our world. As a prophet, he called people's attention to God's presence in the ordinary events of their lives. As a priest, he invited people to celebrate this presence with inclusive meals that prefigure the end-time feast with God in heaven. As a king, he showed people how to reorder their lives according to the kingdom values of justice, love and peace. Through our baptism, we have been anointed to continue his work as prophet, priest and king (See Vatican II, Lumen Gentium, #31-41). The more we imitate Jesus and live by his values, the more we create the right relationships that God desires for us.

IMITATING THE HOLY SPIRIT, THE UNIFIER AND SANCTIFIER

What the Holy Spirit does within the Trinity as the divine power of life and the bond of love, is also done for us in salvation history. Through the Holy Spirit we experience God dwelling within us to empower us for life and to draw us together through the bonding power of love into a community of rightly-ordered relationships. But we must also realize that our lives are not just for ourselves. As with the Trinity, everything we think and do is directed towards right relationships and our life together with God. Today, whenever and wherever we experience new life in Christ and the bond of Christian community, we know the Holy Spirit is active in us, in our local community, in the universal Church and in our world. Quietly but effectively, in ways we often don't discern, with our cooperation God is transforming our world through the power of the Holy Spirit into God's community of justice, love and peace.

Sunday Connection

God speaks to us in many ways, including through the Sunday Scripture readings. The Sunday Connection provides useful background and activities to better understand the upcoming Sunday's Scripture readings, helping you to connect the Scripture to daily life in a meaningful way.

The Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity, Cycle C

Sunday, June 12, 2022

Background on the Gospel Reading

This week we return to the liturgical season of Ordinary Time. This Sunday and next Sunday, however, are designated as solemnities, special days that call our attention to central mysteries of our faith. Today, on the first Sunday after Pentecost, we celebrate the Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity. This feast invites us to consider what we believe about God, who has revealed himself to us in the Trinity—one God in three persons.

The verses of today's Gospel come near the end of Jesus' long discourse at the Last Supper. In the early part of this discourse, as we saw last week on Pentecost, Jesus offers assurances to the disciples. Even though he must leave the disciples, he tells them that they will have a future because of the help he will send them in the Holy Spirit. In this section he focuses more on the shape of the future, which will include Jesus' victory over the world that they will share in. The disciples of Jesus cannot know the future. They can only know that, whatever shape the future takes, they will not have to face it alone. They have the Spirit of Truth, who will continue to provide the teaching of Jesus in the future.

Reading this passage on Trinity Sunday reinforces our understanding of the unity shared by the members of the Trinity. Although the idea of one God in three persons remains a mystery, we have the assurance that, as Jesus and the Father share all, Jesus and the Spirit share all.

A Stewardship Minute

Inspiring a deeper understanding of true giving
An introduction of Stewardship to the congregation

June 2022

Making and using money is an important part of human life ... it always has been and it always will be. If the Scriptures were silent about these activities, we could only conclude that the Bible is out of touch with the human condition. But the Bible is certainly true to "the human condition."

Jesus himself often talked about the need to have the right attitude toward money and all other blessings God has given to us. Remember how he said to the rich young man that if he wished to be one of his followers he would need to get his priorities right in his life, especially in regard to the use of his money. (Matthew 19:16-26)

Sadly, the young fellow could not accept the challenge Christ gave to him. He turned and walked away ... walked away from true joy and true service on behalf of God.

Jesus never said that it was sinful to have money, but he did say we were to use our lives, our money, our talents, and our time on behalf of the kingdom of God. That, in large part, is the way we prepare ourselves to have what our Lord called "treasure in heaven." Our lives here on earth should be of such quality that we are preparing ourselves for eternity with our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Prayer: Gracious and loving God, help us to glorify you in all that we do and serve you with diligence and dedication. Through Christ our Lord, we pray.
Amen
