THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD FINDING GOD

The splendid magi, all sparkle and dash and solemnity, march right up off the pages of Matthew's Gospel and into our churches today. Matthew alone tells us this grand and seductive story so that we might see the light and know that the child these magi visited is the fulfillment of prophecy, the king of the world that stretches to the magi's home country and beyond, right down the ages to us.

We too see and understand anew. Like the magi, our patron saints for this day, we see in the newborn child the king of the universe and light of the world. Like the magi, we find in ourselves a new faith and a new life. Like them, we return to our home by a new route.

We are asked to come away from this festive season ourselves renewed and awake to the presence of God among us. We are asked to find God where God is to be found, to be attentive and surprised and ready to bow down in adoration and to offer our gifts. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

The Mass, Part 13 – Did Father Lose a Contact Lens?

After a two-week hiatus for Christmas and New Year's, we return now to our discussion about the Mass. Before we discuss the final section of the Mass, the "Farewell," or Concluding Rites, it might be good for us to discuss some of the strange behavior of the priest (and deacon). Well, certainly not all of their strange behavior, but one in particular. Several times throughout the Mass, you may notice the priest mumble to himself, bow for some unknown reason, and maybe even genuflect. When this happens while he's standing at the altar, it may even look like he's looking for something behind the altar. Is there some strange vortex back there, or a stagehand feeding him lines?

Well, actually all of these strange movements have to do with one of the three roles of prayer that the priest takes during the Mass. We have talked about two of them already. Since the priest is acting as Christ (in persona Christi capitis) [cf. Looking Through Stained Glass, August 19, 2018, "Holy Orders – When Jesus Calls, We Ought to Listen and Respond"], he sometimes intercedes for us with God, just as Jesus would. For example, this happens most especially during the Eucharistic Prayer, but it also happens during the presidential prayers, such as the Opening Prayer (or Collect) and the Prayer after Communion. Since the priest also is one of the faithful, he may lead us in prayer, such as the "Our Father" or the Creed. Finally, sometimes the priest offers his own prayers to God and these are most often said sotto voce, or in a low voice. Knowing some of these prayers may help us to understand the Mass a little better.

The first time that a private prayer of the priest is said is just prior to the Gospel. If the priest is proclaiming the Gospel, he will say, "Cleanse my heart and my lips, almighty God, that I may worthily proclaim your holy Gospel." A similar phrase is used to bless a deacon who proclaims the Gospel. At the end of the Gospel, the priest or deacon who reads it will say, "Through the words of the Gospel may our sins be wiped away," as he kisses the book.

At the preparation of the gifts of bread and wine, the priest will pray, "Blessed are you, Lord God of all creation, for through your goodness we have received the bread [the wine] we offer you: fruit of the earth [the vine] and work of human hands, it will become for us the bread of life [our spiritual drink]." Just prior to the blessing of the wine, as the priest or deacon adds a drop of water to the wine, he will pray some of the most beautiful and meaningful words that nobody ever hears: "By the mystery of this water and wine may we come to share in the divinity of Christ, who humbled himself to share in our humanity." As the priest prepares for the ablution (washing of hands), he prays, "With humble spirit and contrite heart may we be accepted by you, O Lord, and may our sacrifice in your sight this day be pleasing to you, Lord God." As he washes his hands, he prays, "Wash me, O Lord, from my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin."

Just before Communion, while everyone is singing the "Lamb of God," the priest takes a small piece of the host and places it in the chalice, saying, "May this mingling of the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ bring eternal life to us who receive it," and then he prays silently while genuflecting, "Lord Jesus Christ, Son of the living God, who by the will of the Father and the work of the Holy Spirit, through your Death gave life to the world, free me by this, your most holy Body and Blood, from all my sins and from every evil; keep me always faithful to your commandments and never let me be parted from you." As he receives the Eucharist, he prays, "May the Body [Blood] of Christ keep me safe for eternal life." Finally, after Communion, as the priest is purifying the vessels, he prays, "What has passed our lips as food, O Lord, may we possess in purity of heart, that what has been given to us in time may be our healing for eternity."

Now that you know the "secret" prayers of the priest, hopefully they will help you understand his disposition at those moments. Next week, we will discuss the last portion of the Mass, the Concluding Rites.

for coffee, donuts and fellowship after all Sunday morning Masses in the St. Joseph Hall.

January 5, 2019

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ:

Our Catholic schools, founded by parish churches, dioceses and numerous religious orders to serve generations of Catholics, exist as a treasure of the Church in America. The Catholic School system is the largest private school system in the United States and around the world the Church operates the largest nongovernmental school system.

The week of January 27 – February 2 we will celebrate National Catholic Schools Week to recognize the great accomplishments of our Catholic School system. The theme for National Catholic Schools Week 2019 is "Catholic Schools: Learn. Serve. Lead. Succeed." The Church is most grateful to all the religious men and women and lay teachers who have given so generously of themselves to education generations of Catholic students in mind, body and spirit.

On the weekend of January 12 and 13 the Diocese of Palm Beach will have a second collection to support the mission of our Catholic schools. Last year, through your generosity, we were able to raise $145,600 to provide tuition assistance to those in need. We ask you to once again join us in giving the gift of faith to a student wishing to attend a Catholic school in the Diocese of Palm Beach.

Thank you very much for your faithful support, your prayers and your gifts to help the students at our Catholic schools in the Diocese of Palm Beach.

With gratitude for your continued generosity and every prayerful wish, I am

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Most Reverend Gerald M. Barbarito, Bishop of Palm Beach

Merciful Father, You desire the welfare of all your children. Stretch out Your protecting arm over our men and women in the service. Shield them from every danger to body, mind and soul. Comfort them in loneliness, sustain them in hardship, give them the courage they need to fulfill their duty and so do Your will in all things. Bestow on our leaders and the leaders of the world the wisdom and prudence which will bring peace and justice to all.

This we ask through Jesus Christ, Your Son, Our Lord. Amen. Mary, help of Christians, pray for us.
