REFLECTIONS ON THE 27TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

The Gospels over the last several weeks are from Matthew. It is no surprise that St. Matthew, a former tax or customs collector, writes about money or matters to do with money. It was his “first career” and something he knows well.

He also knows hearts well, and I am particularly grateful for his understanding. Of all the stories, incidents, and occasions with Our Lord, St. Matthew chose to write about parables that deal with money, labor, and justice. He had to know that these issues are never far from our hearts, and as such, they compete with Jesus inside our souls for attention.

Today’s Gospel might give us the impression that the fruits we bear happen in the future. However, the fruit of the vine happens here and now within our liturgy.

Blessed are you, Lord God of all creation, for through your goodness we have received
the wine we offer you:
fruit of the vine and work of human hands,
It will become our spiritual drink.

In our liturgy today and every time we celebrate the Eucharist, God gives us opportunity to focus our works for His glory. In this simple little prayer, we have a chance to realign ourselves and our labors for Jesus. He will take our earnest and sincere prayer, and He will do amazing deeds with it.

Blessed be God forever!

~ Tim McManus

Pastoral Associate of Worship

FUN PACs

(Families Unite Now Parents and Children)

Once again our Parish families will put together Fun Pacs for the families served by the Caring Center. We will collect these gift-bagged collections of family sharing fun items starting October 7th. FUN PACs are a collection of items that are given to families at the Caring Center of Boone Co. in Lebanon to promote and encourage family quality time sharing for parents and their children.

We are asking for your help! Please consider placing into a gift bag donated items from the list below or a type of item your family enjoys for a fun evening. Then place your gift bag into the “collection box” set up in the church Narthex during the weekends and weeks of October 7/8 and October 14/15.

Thank you for your support and your prayers for families of the Caring Center.

Suggested Items: small box of popcorn, bag of candy, cookie mix, cookie cutters, icing, brownie mix, family rated DVD, puzzle, board game, and children’s book: Don’t forget to place these items into an extra-large gift bag with tissue paper.
