St. Anselm

FEAST DAY: APRIL 21
1033-1109

Grounded in the Benedictine Rule's balanced "prayer and work," this monk-scholar, called from his abbey to become Archbishop of Canterbury, was thrust into firestorms of political intrigue, himself the target of warring bishops and nobles, kings and popes.

Yet from depths of inner peace, Anselm wrote this moving exhortation:

"Rise up, insignificant man! From your preoccupations, flee awhile. From your turbulent thoughts, hide for a time. Your crushing responsibilities cast aside. Your burdensome business lay down. Free a little space for God. Rest a little while in Him!"

"Faith seeking understanding" was his strikingly contemporary motto, and though renowned as an erudite philosopher-theologian, Anselm also left personal letters, profound for their insights on Christian friendship.

Along with those, he composed "A Prayer for My Friends" and "A Prayer for My Enemies," reminding us that those who love God most passionately are also those who love others most humanly.

Clergy Corner

Fr. Matthew Kalu

The resurrection of Christ is not only the greatest miracle ever wrought, but it also marks a new world order. Christ lives forever, never to die again. In this new world order, we are a new creation; the old order of sin and death is defeated. The new order of freedom and life is here.

In this new world order, love and mercy rule and conquer all things. The merciful will receive God’s mercy, and heaven will be their homeland (Mt 5:7). In this new dispensation, humility will be a key virtue for all. “In His humility and self-emptying, Jesus brings about the greatest miracle” (Phil 2:6-11). Therefore, only the humble of heart will enjoy the miracle of resurrection.

May the Resurrection of Jesus transform our lives and make us loving, merciful and humble followers, so that we may rise with Him on the last day. Alleluia! Alleluia!

Living Generously

GENEROSITY IS CONTAGIOUS

When you are generous, you set off a domino effect. Our generosity may be focused on a particular recipient, but the ripple effect reaches much farther than any of us can see. The good we do lives on in other people, in other times. Generosity lives on forever.

Generosity is contagious. When one person acts generously, it inspires both the recipients and observers of that generosity to be generous toward others later. Research shows that generosity often spreads by three degrees—from person-to-person to person-to-person. That means that one simple act of generosity can impact dozens or even hundreds of people, most of whom you do not know and will never meet.

-Excerpted from "The Generosity Habit" by Matthew Kelly

Check out Kelly's Generosity Series on YouTube via the QR code.

Do you have a story of how someone's generosity positively impacted you or how your generosity positively impacted someone else? We'd love to hear your story! Please email it to Brenda Knecht at bknecht@zionsvillecatholic.com.
